VARNUM'S LANDING

People Are Scared By Men in the Woods

Varnum's Landing is crying for police protection. The actions of strangers, said to be foreigners, have set the cottagers on edge, so to speak, and while they are looking well to their guns yet they believe that they are entitled to some police protection.

A man who lives at Varnum's Landing gave out the story today that a hatless foreigner with a hard cruel face and wearing badly and suspiciously soiled clothing called at his house yesterday and asked for a hat. The man said he had no hat to give him. Upon being refused the hat the stranger asked: "Did you ever have your barn burned?"

"No," replied the Varnum's Landing man, "I never had my barn burned."

"Well, I will burn the barn," said the hatless stranger and he strode off to the woods.

Yesterday morning a pack peddler was held up at Varnum's Landing. A fellow bobbed up out of the bushes and confronted him in the road. He had a razor that he wanted the pack peddler to buy. The peddler said he did not want the razor.

"Then give me some money, and give it quick," said the highwayman.

The pack peddler said he gave him 50 cents and told him that was all he had. The highwayman accepted it with an oath and disappeared in the bushes. The police will investigate these stories.

VOLUBLE WITNESS

Had Passage at Arms in Police Court Today

Man Locked in Store Helped Himself to Goods — Boston Girl Arrested Here

That Patrick Maguire was not fined for contempt of court in police court this morning was due to the leniency of Judge Pickman, who occupied the bench. Maguire, who was charged with assault and battery on Frederick T. Lelacheur, proved to be one of the most voluble witnesses who ever testified in police court and his habit of interrupting witnesses, making statements when he should have kept quiet, caused the court to caution him to remain silent until it was his turn to testify. But it was impossible to keep Maguire still and the court's patience was nearly exhausted at the conclusion of the case.

At one time during the trial it looked as though Maguire's temper would get him into serious trouble for after uttering an oath he made a rush towards the complainant, but was stopped by officers before he could do any harm.

Lelacheur, who is employed by a truck gardener, found Tuesday afternoon that he had been "stuck" on his load of provisions, that is, he was unable to dispose of it at the market value, and rather than take the goods back, was willing to sell them at a reduced rate. While in the vicinity of Hosford square he met Maguire and the latter agreed to purchase a box of tomatoes for 75 cents.

Lelacheur and Maguire drove to the latter's house in Newhall street and after the complainant had delivered the vegetables he was given a dollar bill. He was unable to change it, but went to a store across the street and secured the change. As he was counting the change out to Maguire a nickle dropped through a crack in the doorsteps. Lelacheur wanted to get a hammer and remove one of the boards, but Maguire refused to allow that to be done, claiming that it would destroy the property. Lelacheur then said that Maguire could keep the box in which the tomatoes were until he came around later in the week with the nickle. Maguire did not like this proposition and grabbing Lelacheur by the throat started to choke him.

After Lelacheur had testified, Maguire was given a chance to ask questions. He started with a rush towards the complainant and when the latter stepped back Maguire said: "I'm not going to hit you. I choked you the other afternoon because you tried to break up my house, but I won't touch you now."

After Maguire had made statements instead of asking questions of the complainant, the court informed him to just ask questions and that he would be given a chance later to make a statement.

He then started to ask questions, but one answer given by Lelacheur evidently did not suit him and running towards Lelacheur he uttered an oath. Maguire did not get far, however, before Lieut. Downey and Court Officer Goodwin had hold of him.

Judge Pickman then told Maguire that he would have to punish him for contempt of court if he did not desist.

Maguire's defense was that Lelacheur wanted a hammer to break up "the whole shooting match" evidently meaning his house.

He was fined $4, appealed and was held under $200 bonds for the superior court.

BOSTON VISITOR ARRESTED.

Frances Allen, an attractive young woman, who claims Boston as her home, was arrested in Middlesex street last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The latter said she was drunk and using profane language. She said that she came to this city a couple of weeks ago and acknowledged she had been drinking last night, but wasn't drunk. She was fined $2.

Mary E. Thyer a second offender, was taxed $5.

LARCENY FROM STORE.

William E. Lawrenceson was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint of breaking and entering and larceny. It is alleged that Tuesday night he either accidentally or intentionally got locked in the store of the Thompson Hardware Co., at the corner of Merrimack and Shattuck streets, and before leaving he stole five razors valued at $3.50 each, 15 at $2.50 each, 10 at $1.50 each, and four pair of scissors, each of the value of $1.00. He pleaded not guilty, and was ready for trial but at the request of the government the case was continued till next Tuesday.

FOR NON-SUPPORT.

John B. Morin was charged with failing to provide support for his wife and minor children and pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Morin said that her husband only works now and then and for the past 19 months he has contributed but little towards her support. Morin said that if his wife would treat him as she should he would do better. He was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail.

STUBBORN CHILD.

Arthur Vaillancourt, aged 17 years, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with being a stubborn child.

Mrs. Vaillancourt, who resides at 41 Mammoth Road, testified that her son stayed out nights and gave her but little money when he is working, but he does not work half the time.

The defendant testified that he had been looking for work, but was unable to find any. He also accused his mother of ill-treating him.

He was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

ASSAULT CASE.

Michael Gumvitz and John Bliczka pleaded not guilty of assault and battery on Thomas Budrewicz. According to the testimony offered the three met in a saloon in Gorham street Saturday night about eight o'clock and that John cracked Thomas' head with a club while Mike added a few punches for luck. The defendants were represented by J. Joseph O'Connor and Dennis J. Murphy appeared for the government.

KING EDWARD

TO TAKE THE WATERS AT MARIENBAD.

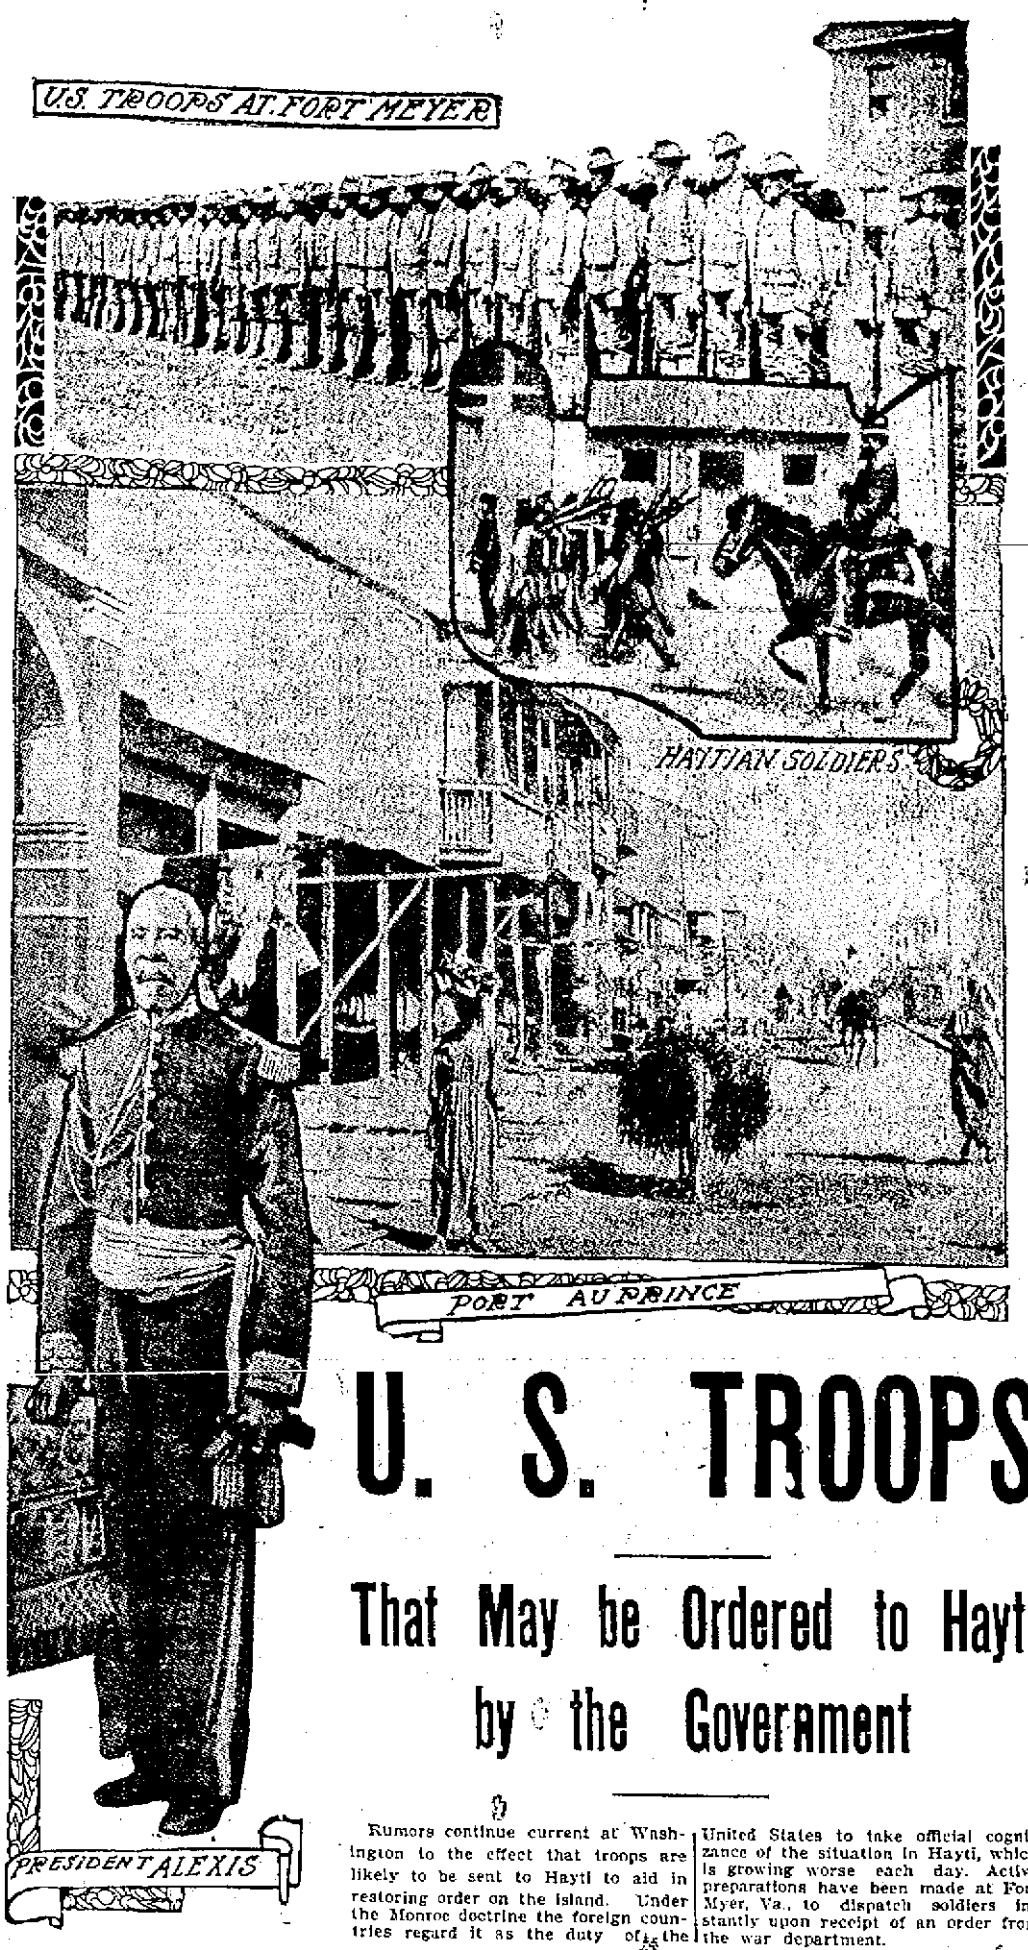

ISCHL, Aug. 13.—King Edward left for Marienbad, where he will take the waters this morning. Emperor Francis Joseph, who displayed wonderful activity during King Edward's visit, was at the railway station to bid his royal visitor farewell.

Mysteries, Belle Grove, tomorrow night.

PRES. ZAYAS

RESIGNS AS A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

HAVANA, Aug. 13.—At a meeting held last night of the executive committee of the Liberal party, Alfredo Zayas tendered his resignation as a candidate for the presidency of the Republic and also as president of the Liberal party. The first was accepted, but the latter was refused unanimously.

U. S. TROOPS

That May be Ordered to Hayti by the Government

Rumors continue current at Washington to the effect that troops are likely to be sent to Hayti to aid in restoring order on the island. Under the Monroe doctrine the foreign countries regard it as the duty of the United States to take official cognizance of the situation in Hayti, which is growing worse each day. Active preparations have been made at Fort Myer, Va., to dispatch soldiers instantly upon receipt of an order from the war department.

JAPANESE ARMS

Were Not Seized Say Officials

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—Up to noon today the foreign office had received no information regarding the reported seizure at Chin Chow by the Chinese authorities of a steamer having on board ten thousand rifles and 3,000,000 cartridges. Neither has there been received any report of a seizure of Japanese arms elsewhere.

Shanghai specials in the Japanese newspapers this morning report the seizure of two Japanese sailing vessels loaded with arms and ammunition.

The report is discredited here and the foreign office has authorized the Associated Press to positively deny it.

NO. CHELMSFORD

GALA DAY OF ST. JOHN'S T. A. SOCIETY.

The gala day of St. John's T. A. society at McCabe's field, North Chelmsford on Saturday promises to be the banner outdoor event of the season and all that is needed to make it a grand success is good weather. Judging from the manner in which the entries for the events on the program of sports are coming in, this feature will be an event in itself. All the leading athletes of Lowell and the neighboring towns have signified their intentions of competing and all the well known rivals will be arrayed against each other. The ball game between the St. John's and St. Patrick's Sanctuary Choir will be for blood, and the North Chelmsford sports will back their team heavily against the Acre boys. The St. John's team will be strengthened for the occasion. In the evening, when the day's sports are done, dancing will be enjoyed in St. John's hall. Numerous side attractions will be in evidence and if the plans now under way are carried out, and they will be, Saturday's event will eclipse all others that have been conducted this season.

Calumet Orchestra, Belle Grove tomorrow night.

ON THE BIBLE

SEVERAL ADDRESSES AT NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

NORTHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 13—The Northfield conference continued today with interesting addresses on the Bible, Dr. A. G. Pierson, and Dr. J. Stewart Holden of London speaking on the Psalms, and Dr. W. L. Watkinson, also of London, on the Book of Revelations. Dr. R. A. Pearry of Montrose, Pa., also spoke briefly.

During the afternoon there was a conference ball game between the Methodists and the Congregationalists, the former team having defeated the Baptists yesterday.

THE LATE J. MONTGOMERY SEARS KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT.

GRAND TRUNK FLYER

Ran Four Miles Without a Guiding Hand

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 13.—With Engineer Charles Strang, lying injured alongside the track and the fireman busy on the back of the tender, the Grand Trunk flyer, westbound, ran four miles yesterday afternoon with no guiding hand at the throttle and with the 200 passengers in the coaches calmly gazing out the windows, ignorant of the fact that they were riding on a runaway train. Finishing his work on the tender, the fireman returned to the cab to find the engineer's seat vacant. The fireman brought the train to a stop and backed it up until the engineer was found lying beside the track with his left arm and left leg broken, one shoulder crushed and his skull fractured. It is supposed that the engineer lost his balance in leaning from the window or gangway to look for a hot box.

He was taken to Nichols hospital here where it was said there was a chance that he might recover.

SIX HOBOS ARRESTED

Supt. Moffatt Made a Raid Upon Them This Morning

Six men, suspected of knowing something about the murder in Methuen, were placed under arrest between five and six o'clock this morning by Supt. Moffatt, Lieut. Connors and Patrolmen McNabb and Ferris. Three of the sextet were located in Indian Orchard, while the other three were found in the rear of the Textile school.

Five of the men were sent to the police station, the sixth having been let go after being put through a rigid cross-examination. The quintet, after being put through the third degree, was released. They were all residents of Lowell and were able to clear themselves of any connection with the crime.

Supt. Moffatt has received many complaints of late about suspicious persons in the suburbs of the city, and the brutal murder in Methuen has caused the housewives to become frightened, especially when these so-called tramps approach the house and ask for alms.

Early this morning the superintendent made up his mind to raid some of the haunts of the hobo, and accompanied by Lieut. Connors left the police station at five o'clock. At the corner of Bridge and First streets they picked up Patrolman McNabb and the trio went to Indian Orchard near the old Lawrence car barn, where they found three men sound asleep. One was released after being questioned, and the other two were sent to the police station.

The superintendent and lieutenant then went through Lakeview avenue and across the Aiken street bridge and passing into Pawtucketville met Patrolman Ferris, and the three went into the woods in the rear of the Textile school and placed three more men under arrest.

When they were brought to the station they told stories which afterwards proved to be true, and they were released.

ANNUAL GATHERING

Of the Universal Peace Union Opened This Afternoon

MYSTIC, Conn., Aug. 13.—The Universal Peace union began its forty-second annual gathering at Peace Grove this afternoon the formal opening of the convention being preceded by a preliminary meeting this morning of the officers and workers. The sessions will continue throughout the week with morning and afternoon meetings and included among the speakers are: Dr. Rebecca Moore, Kennett Square, Pa. Charles H. Hastings, Philadelphia; James H. Earle, Boston; Rev. Scott F. Hershey, New Castle, Pa.; Dr. Wm. I. Nell, Swarthmore, Pa.; Dr. Joseph S. Walton, George School, Pennsylvania; Wm. C. Ferris, Wilmington, Del.; President A. H. Love, Philadelphia and Rev. H. S. Baker, Brooklyn, N. Y. The election of officers will occur Saturday.

DEATHS

CRAIG—Frank Craig, aged 9 years, 8 months, died today at the residence of his parents, 102 Bourne street. He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Malachi, Joseph and Thomas, and two sisters, Mary and Helen.

FUNERALS

HONEY—The funeral of James A. Honey took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, 30 Waite street. Services were conducted by Rev. Wilson Waters and the bearers were F. L., R. E., A. G. and W. R. Waters, nephews of deceased. Burial was in the Edson cemetery. Undertaker Young had charge.

FUNERAL NOTICES

SMALL—Died in this city, Aug. 12, Mrs. Lydia M., widow of George W. Small, aged 54 years. Funeral will be held from 6 Loring street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Friends invited. Burial private. Undertaker G. W. Healey in charge.

WELCH—Alice Welch, aged one year and seven months, child of James and Margaret, died last night at the home of her parents, 62 Perry street. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and will be under the direction of funeral director J. F. Rogers.

AMERICAN TEAM

Defeated by the Auckland Team

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 13.—Rear-Admiral Sperry, commander of the American battleship fleet, and the 200 officers who made the trip into the Maori country were present yesterday afternoon at the dedication ceremonies of a Maori house. Later a number of Maori women guided the American visitors to witness the Thermal wonders. Admiral Sperry himself applied soap to the big geyser—it will not erupt otherwise—and the explosion that followed was magnificent. The steaming water was thrown to a height of 50 feet. The admiral and the officers with him entered heartily into the various native ceremonies. They wore mats and carried in their hands ancient weapons of the Maori tribe.

The American rifle team suffered defeat at the hands of the city of Auckland team owing to the fact that they have had very little practice in long distance land shooting.

The store ship Gracia and the collied Ajax have arrived. They were delayed by rough weather. The three other colliers have not yet been sighted.

SCORE WAS TIED

Second Game Was Called in the 10th Inning

Musil Pitched Seven Innings and Was Relieved by Greenwell—Sharp Fielding on Both Sides

After an intermission of ten minutes the second game between Lowell and Lynn was started. Musil asked to be allowed to pitch the second game and his request was granted. Yerkes and Daum took the places of Labelle and Foster in the second game.

During the intermission a one-legged bicycle rider gave a clever exhibition of trick riding.

FIRST INNING.

In the first inning Wallace hit down the first base line and was out. Barton drew a base on balls and Gardner struck out. Barton tried to steal second and was nailed.

Vandergrift hit a line drive to Barton and was out at first. Connors drew a base on balls but in attempting to steal second was thrown out. Magee flied to Ort.

Score—Lowell 0, Lynn 0.

SECOND INNING.

Bigbie singled and went to second on Clemens' sacrifice. O'Hagan flied to Musil and the latter threw to second for a double play.

Lowell scored two runs in the second inning. Howard opened the latter half with a base on balls. Beard hit to Yerkes, who threw Howard out at second. Whelan got a Texas leaguer and Beard went to second. Wolfe flied to Clemens. Doran hit to left field for a two bagger scoring Beard and Whelan. Musil struck out.

Score—Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

THIRD INNING.

Lynn scored a run in the third inning. Ort got a single. Daum bunted to Connors who threw to second getting Ort, but Wolfe threw had to first and Daum went to second. Yerkes hit to Musil and was out at first. Daum going to third. Wallace hit by Musil and Daum scored. Walace stole second. Barton was third out on a fly to Magee.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift drew a base on balls, and Connors did likewise. Magee hit along the third base line, filling the bases. Howard flied to Wallace and Vandergrift scored. Beard singled to left field and Connors scored. Beard and Magee worked a double steal, Magee scoring. Ort threw bad to the plate and Beard went to third. Whelan drew a base on balls. Wolfe hit to Yerkes and was out at first. Doran flied out to Clemens.

FOURTH INNING.

Gardner opened with a two-bagger. Bigbie bunted to Musil and then a funny thing happened. Gardner started for third with the bunt and Musil had ample opportunity to get either but the Lynn crowd yelled "Second base" and Musil pegged the ball at the vacant base and of course none was on.

Bigbie stole second. Clemens drew a base on balls. O'Hagen flied to Whelan. Ort got a single and Gardner scored. Daum flied to Whelan who made a great catch. Bigbie scored and while Whelan threw too late to get him Doran shot the ball to third and got Clemens.

Lowell failed to score.

Lowell 5, Lynn 3.

FIFTH INNING.

Lynn didn't get any in the fifth while Lowell added one. Magee got to first on an error by Barton. Howard's single sent him to third and he scored on Beard's fly to Bigbie.

Lowell 6, Lynn 3.

Neither side scored in the sixth.

SEVENTH INNING.

Lowell did nothing in the seventh while Lynn got to Musil and made four runs. Daum singled and stole second while Yerkes struck out. A single by Wallace scored Daum, Wallace stole second. Barton got a single and then Gardner banged the ball out for two bases scoring Wallace and Barton. Bigbie bunted and Connors dropped the ball letting in Gardner. Clements hit a line drive to Beard who threw to Wolfe for a double play on Bigbie. Musil then retired from the game.

Lynn 7, Lowell 6.

THE SCORE TIRED.

Neither side scored in the eighth but Lowell tied it in the forth inning. Vandergrift opened with a single. Connors hit hard to Ort, who fumbled and both men were safe. A sacrifice advanced them and Howard's fly to Wallace scored Vandergrift. Neither side scored in the 10th and at the conclusion of the 10th Umpire McDermott called the game on account of darkness with everybody happy.

DIAMOND NOTES

Did you get your money's worth yesterday?

Musil went at the enemy like a true soldier and mowed them down in wild disorder.

The police department should engage Musil to throw bricks at yeggmen. There'd be a dead yegg with every shot.

With the single exception of George Ort, none of the Lynn batters had a square look at Musil's "Army ball."

With good coaching Musil will be a wonder. Just at present he only knows how to pitch, otherwise he's as raw as the stuff that O'Hagan hands to the umpire.

Bro. Penniman, the base ball expert of the Lynn View, was a welcome visitor to the press box.

Dave McCoy the actor of the celebrated trio of McCoy, Fitzsimmons and McCoy, oftentimes applauded at the Hathaway theatre, was the hardest worker in the grand stand. Armed with a small megaphone he rooted continuously for Lynn.

Connors made O'Hagan look like Chinese money at holding the initial bag.

Lowell has a dandy little mascot, aged four and one half, and by name, "Buster" Michaud, or Mitchell, of Nicholls street. "Buster" disappeared a week or so ago and the team lost steadily. Sharrott put sleuths on his track and upon locating him signed him for the season. Since his return the team has won two and tied one, out of three played.

Yesterday's games were two of the best played of the season.

BASEBALL NOTES

Well done, Red Sox. Ten out of 15 games is a proud record on the enemies' grounds.

In the west the Red Sox won three out of four from Cleveland; broke even with Detroit and Chicago, winning two games in each city, and captured three out of four from St. Louis.

George Dovey has been doing some scouting on his own hook, and it looks as if his judgment is pretty fair if Tow Turkey can keep up as he began yesterday. Tuckey is by no means a youngster, having played with New Haven when Freddie Parent was looking after the short field in that city.

"Peaches" Graham of the Doves certainly improved since his first appearance in this city, and he looks today to be one of the best catchers that has broken into the big league company this year.

Both Dahlen and Beaumont of Boston are sick men. They, however, have to remain in the game, as there is a lack of utility men to fill their places.

The coming together of McCann and Ritchey on an infield fly Tuesday might have resulted seriously, just because some one failed to call out which player should take the ball.

The Cubs got one away from the Giants, and there was weeping in the McGraw camp, as the Giants anticipated reaching the top rung of the ladder in the race for the pennant.

The Red Sox now lead the second division, and with a long stay at home it would not be surprising if they broke into the first division.

The Giants, prospective champions of the National league, made but four hits in two days against Chicago. What do you know about that?

The Washington team again took the Tigers into camp, and that runaway which Hughey Jennings has in mind does not look so good.

"Wild Bill" Donovan seems to have lost his winning streak. Two setbacks in a week does not speak well for him.

VISITING SPORTS

Will Take in Wrestling Match Tonight

Quite a number of followers of the wrestling game from Nashua, Brockton and Worcester, arrived in town today to witness the finish wrestling match between Young Prokos and Jack Butler, which takes place tonight in Associate hall.

Butler and his trainers arrived in Lowell yesterday and he is in excellent shape. Jim Prokos who is training his namesake, states that the latter is at weight. The men will weigh in at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 6 o'clock and each must make 145 pounds or forfeit.

The men are to wrestle to a finish, gate-falls to count with the straight-hold barred for a purse of $200 and the entire share of the gate receipts.

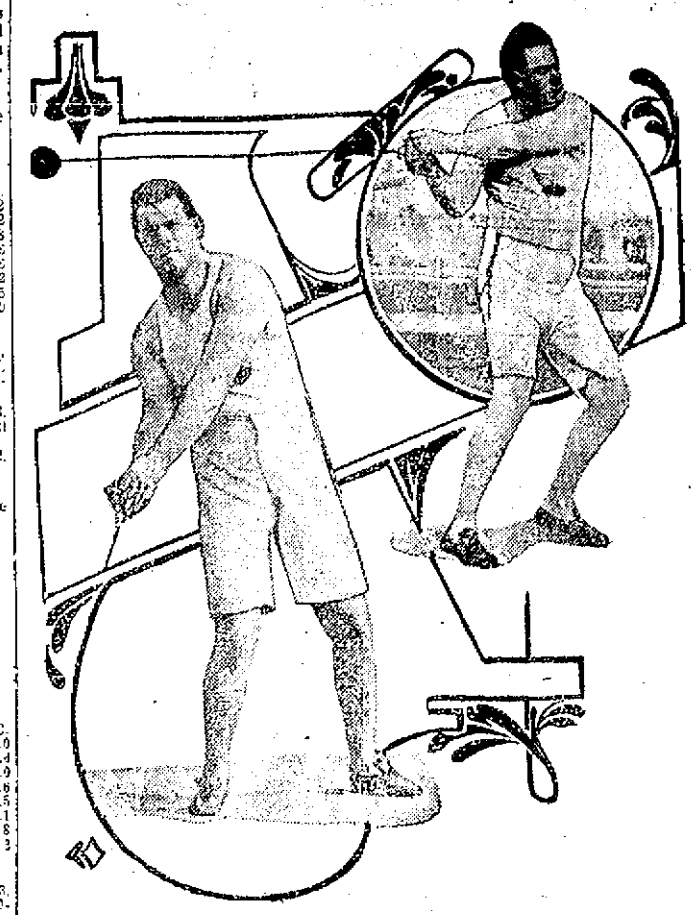

Under the articles of agreement the men are to choose between George V. Twomey and Billy Pierce for referee and in the event of a disagreement the sporting editor of The Sun is to decide. Either man is thoroughly honest and competent and to decide upon one is not disparaging the other. As Mr. Twomey has refereed her on many occasions and is a prime favorite he will referee the match in all probability.

Jim Prokos and Ed. Anderson of Cambridge will wrestle the preliminary bout.

AGREED TO FIGHT

ATTELL AND MORAN TO MEET ON LABOR DAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Abe Attell and Owen Moran last night agreed to fight twenty-three rounds before Coffroth's club in the Mission street arena on Labor day, September 7. Moran allowed Attell to name Jack Welch as referee.

HAMMER THROWING RECORD

Great interest is aroused by the record in hammer throwing made by M. J. McGrath at the Gaelic games in Ireland held on August 10.

He threw the ball 176 feet. In the Olympic games John Flanagan threw the hammer 170 feet 4 inches. McGrath's performance creates a new world's record and it will probably stand.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The spread of automobiling and the necessity for mechanical knowledge on the part of owners of cars and would-be chauffeurs has been responsible for a great many automobile schools being started all over the country during the last few years, in which sphere of activity the various branches of the Young Men's Christian association has taken a leading part. Motoring was responsible for a New York city Y. M. C. A. branch leading all of the other branches of the country in its educational department. According to data just compiled by the international committee the West Side Branch had in its vacation and other educational courses during the last year 2,077 different students. The nearest competitor was Boston, with 1,765. Twenty-third Street Branch, with 1,703, and Chicago, with 1,664. At the West Side the largest attendance was in the automobile school, where 611 chauffeurs, owners and prospective owners took courses. The real estate school with 252 came next and the building courses had an enrolment of eighty-nine. This is the second year that the West Side has had the largest Y. M. C. A. educational department in the country, having risen in the last eight years from a very small department to first place.

British motorists who have been hoping for several years that the government of their country would establish a central highway department on much the same plan followed in France are much encouraged over the fact that Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith is seriously considering this plan, which was advocated by the members of the Royal Commission on Motoring. The matter of road maintenance has become a serious problem in King Edward's realm and road users assert that a central department would be able to keep the many highways of Great Britain in better condition and at less expense than if the system of divided responsibility is continued. It has been suggested that an additional tax be levied upon motor cars to defray part of the expense of keeping the roads in proper condition, but Mr. Asquith has declared he feels considerable doubt as to whether this would effect a lasting remedy.

One of the tiny Brush runabouts that were started out from Detroit on the first day of this month arrived at Peekskill yesterday and is expected to reach Newark, N. J., some time today. After running around Newark for a couple of days the little 500 pound machine will be driven through this city on the way to its ultimate destination at Boston. The three other runabouts are headed as follows: One for Philadelphia and Washington, one for Kansas City and Denver and the other for Minneapolis and St. Paul. A delivery wagon was started out the same day as the runabouts and will journey to Milwaukee and return.

The Massachusetts highway commission has just made its return to the state treasurer regarding the number of motor cars registered for the first six months of the present year. The total number amounts to 15,767 and from the registrations there has been turned over to the state $100,752. For some time past cars have been registered at the rate of about fifty a day. Many cars from other states have been among those registered and never before in such a short space of time has the commission collected such a large sum of money. Since January 1 last, 326 dealers' licenses have been issued and 1,650 motor cycles registered. Compared with the figures of the same period a year ago when only 4,561 cars, 535 motor cycles and fifty-eight dealers were registered the figures this year show a great gain in the industry. Up to the end of July of last year 5,000 private operators got licenses and 2,000 professional chauffeurs were listed. For a corresponding period this year the figures have been respectively 10,037 and 4,485. When it is considered that the professional operators must pass an examination and that many are turned down it gives a still greater insight into the popularity of motoring. The percentage of those refused licenses is stated by the commission to be about 30 per cent.

Automobilists who look after their own cars will find that a good washing out will make a considerable difference in the way their engines will run. This should be done about once every two months in the case of a car that is run a fair distance daily. The dirty oil should be drained off, and the crank chamber plugs replaced, then plenty of kerosene should be poured in the engine, which should be started up and run for one minute. The kerosene should be then drained off and fresh oil put in the base chamber.

The members of the Louisville Automobile club at a recent meeting decided to invite W. H. Hotchkiss, president of the American Automobile association, to be the club's guest at the time of the proposed race meet this fall. The organization is planning to hold a banquet at about the same time as the race meet and they hope to have President Hotchkiss deliver a short address on the work accomplished by the American Automobile association. At this meeting the following committees were appointed: Tire protection, R. O. Bruer, George H. Lalb, Benjamin B. Watts; racing, J. M. Chatterson, Ira S. Barnet, Dr. F. S. Clark, Walter I. Kohn, Hulbert Levy; highways, Hurbert Levy, Dr. Lowell, Prince Wells. The first member named is the chairman of his respective committee.

The show committee of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers held a meeting yesterday at which final plans for the decorative scheme for the Madison Square Garden show January 1 to 23, 1909, were approved, and the contract for the decorative work was awarded to S. R. Ball. Plans for the decorations and the elevated platforms and temporary structural work were drawn by W. W. Knowles, an architect, and 5,000 feet of additional floor space has been gained by the new arrangement. The "licensed" show next winter will be the fifth automobile exhibition in the garden for which Mr. Ball has done the decorating, and the color scheme and general theme of the decorations will be simple yet entirely different from those of previous years. Col. George Pope, chairman of the show committee, presided at the meeting. The others in attendance were Charles Clifton, Marcus L. Brock, E. P. Chalfont, W. W. Knowles and M. L. Downe.

GOLF NEWS

Horace Hutchinson in the London Telegraph, referring to the proposed new golf rules, says:

"In all the golf clubs throughout the country, and also outside it, men are to be seen with paper books in red binding in their hands uttering snorts of contempt in various keys and cadences at the follies contained therein. They are golfers studying, with an extremely open mind, the draft of the proposed new rules of golf. We all know the description, in parliamentary language, of 'an open mind.' No matter. Being one of those who were makers of this thing in red binding which is received with all the snorts, it is not my proper part to join the chorus, nor, on the other hand, to point out how very perfect rules are and the positive stupidity of the snorters. Certainly the new arrangement is far better than the old. It is very lucid. Those who said, 'We want a brief, comprehensive code,' will not be satisfied. It is the latter, but it not the former; nor will those who want the combination find full satisfaction till they have shown how a quart can be put into a pint pot. But to gain lucidity, light is the first essential. So far, so good."

In nominating Horace Hutchinson for the captaincy the Royal and Ancient Club has created a new precedent. From the foundation of the club in 1754 the captaincy has been held by none except men of Scottish nationality. For the most part the office has been a close preserve for Scottish landed proprietors. Ever the distinguished politicians and public men who have occasionally held the office have been Scotch. The only exceptions were the King, as Prince of Wales in 1863, and the late Prince Leopold, in 1878.

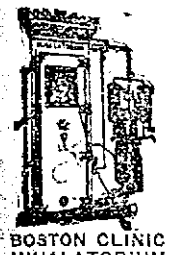

If the challenged reported to have been issued by Arnaud Massy and Louis Tellier to any pair of golfers in the world is taken up it will constitute the first international challenge foursome nature.

DUNSTABLE'S DAY

Old Town Was Crowded With Former Residents

At Dedication of Sarah R. S. Roby Memorial Building and Old Home Day Yesterday

Staid old Dunstable was in gala attire yesterday while along the old familiar roads walked natives of the old town long since removed to other places but drawn back once more to take part in the exercises of Old Home day and the dedication of the Sarah R. S. Roby memorial building, the new town house and public library.

A more beautiful day could not be desired and the old town was resplendent in its gala attire. Lawns and roadways were spic and span while flags and bunting were seen on all sides. The crowd was greater than was anticipated and at the dinner a second table was necessary.

The dedicatory exercises were held in the public hall of the new building at 11 o'clock. The interior of the hall was tastefully decorated by the Bon Marche Co., of this city, and the platform was hedged with shrubbery. The new concert grand piano, presented by the Lend-a-Hand club, occupied a conspicous place on the platform.

James E. Kendall, secretary of the board of selectmen, called to order and made a hearty address of welcome. Mrs. Henry D. Tolles followed him with a pleasing soprano solo, Nevin's "Spring Song." Mrs. J. H. Tolles was the accompanist for this and other musical numbers.

Professor Frederick N. Williams of Chicago, a relative of the donor of the building, was then introduced to give an address. He paid a tribute to the memory of Sarah R. S. Roby and related the story of her life.

Mrs. Waldo Richards of Boston then read "Hiawatha's Wooing," after which Dexter Butterfield of the building committee in suitable remarks formally presented the keys to Chairman Elfield D. Swallow of the board of selectmen, who responded briefly, while Rev. A. M. Rice, a library trustee, also responded on behalf of that branch.

Resolutions of appreciation were then read by Town Clerk Nelson Hall and adopted by a rising vote. Henry D. Tolles gave a trombone solo after which Rev. A. M. Rice offered the dedicatory prayer. Peccia's "Gloria" was sung by George R. Sargent and then the adress of the day was delivered by Rev. C. Guy Robbins of Lawrence, formerly of Dunstable. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Bernard Copping and the formal exercises closed with the reading of letters of regret from those unable to attend including one from Andrew J. Wright of Chicago, aged 91 years.

Owing to the large crowd present at the dinner the after dinner speaking was held in the hall and James V. Tolles of Nashua, N. H., officiated as toastmaster.

The toasts and speeches were as follows:

"Dunstable Hospitality," Rev. H. D. Weston of Georgetown, Mass.

"Old Home Day," Prof. J. B. Taylor of Boston.

"The Function of the Library in Education," Frederick L. Kendall, of Chelmsford.

IMPROVE FARMS

President's Board to Make a Report

The panic has directed the attention of statesmen to the necessity of paying more attention to the farms of the country and to the farming industry.

In a message to the next congress President Roosevelt will embody the report of the committee of experts which he has appointed to investigate the social and economic conditions existing in American farm life. The commission named by the president is composed of Professor L. H. Bailey, New York State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.; Henry Wallace, editor, Des Moines, Ia.; President Kenyon L. Butterfield, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Mass.; Gifford Pinchot, United States forest service; Walter H. Page, editor, New York.

The findings of this body and its recommendations to improve the social and economic conditions will undoubtedly be of great weight and will receive the serious consideration of the nation.

BLAMES MOTHER

Remarkable Letter in Defense of Divorce Proceedings

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—In her defense of the divorce proceedings brought by her husband Mrs. Rose E. Voigt charges her mother with being responsible for all her misfortune and marital infelicity. She entered a motion in the Supreme court yesterday to get her two-year-old daughter out of the possession of the grandmother, who now has the custody of the child.

James G. Voigt, the husband, is a solicitor for the Continental Life Insurance company and lives at No. 340 East Eighty-fourth street. In his complaint he names Augustus Neagle as co-respondent. Voigt is also fighting for the custody of the girl baby.

The couple were married only a few years ago. They were not happy long, and separated. Last May they entered into an agreement that their daughter Edna should be given into the care of Mrs. Marie Hawlowitz, Mrs. Voigt's mother. It was to have this agreement set aside and to obtain alimony and counsel fees that Mrs. Voigt's motion was made before Justice Bischoff yesterday.

Mrs. Voigt's accusations against her mother are contained in the following letter, which forms part of her answer to her husband's complaint. It was written at the time the baby was sent to her:

"Dear Mama: Knowing all the trouble which you have caused for me, I send you as requested my darling Edna. It is the last thing I have in the world and you may have it. I know she will be well taken care of, although she should only be taken by him, but as I know I shall live the life of a dog, molested and bothered by both you and Jim. I give my babe as compensation.

"You have now the last thing in this world, so please leave me to myself. You have not succeeded in parting Mae and I, as was well schemed by Jim and yourself. You can't have me back, so please don't try. The only way you will ever see me is when I can't see you any more. You were given to me to stand by me, no matter if I committed the worst crime on earth. You have not done that, and have neglected a duty given you by the creater. But no matter what divides us. I am the mother of dear Edna, and whatever she shall be I will know all about her.

"Jim may see this note, my last words to you all. Let me alone and don't bother me. You won't see me again. Jim may get a divorce. If he does or not, I shall never see him again of my own free will. Gus is not with me nor has he done one thing in the line of helping me out in any way. I am alone with Mae and expect to stay so. She is not putting me up to anything. This is of my own free will. Don't ever blame her again nor say anything but what you know is absolutely the truth, for it may cause you more trouble than you think.

"Although you gave me the advice to live an unwomanly life with Gus, he and I are pure, perhaps more than you have been, so Jim and everybody else had better be real careful what is said about us.

"Once again I say, don't trouble yourself about me. I am lost to you all, including Jim, forever. ROSE."

"P. S.—Please remember Edna is mine by the will of God, and no man can part us."

BLAMES A GIRL

For Leading Him Into "Brace Game"

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Charging that he had been swindled out of $600 in a crooked game of faro, to which he had been innocently led by his pretty young sister-in-law, M. B. Moxley, a wealthy Pittsburger, last night caused the arrest of Moses Phillips, whom, despite his seventy-four years and grayish beard, he accused of running a "brace game."

Phillips was one well known in sporting circles as the chef of the old Turtle club of Hoboken. He planned and carried out the first moves of the alleged swindle, it is charged, in a hotel at Seabright, N. J.

The girl in the case is Miss Fredrica Bosch, daughter of T. B. Bosch a millionaire paper manufacturer of Pittsburg. She became interested in the picturesque old man, she said, at Seabright, and he entertained her by stories of fortunes he had won and lost at faro and roulette.

"I know a system whereby if you put up $3,600 you can win half a million in a few weeks," he told her, according to her story.

Miss Bosch said she wouldn't gamble herself, but she would tell her brother-in-law, Moxley, about the system. Correspondence followed between the two men and as a result, Moxley came to this city yesterday, as he relates.

"I was taken into a splendidly furnished parlor at No. 175 West Seventy-third street," he told the police. "There was a 'lookout' at the door and several men in evening clothes inside, supposed to be players. I went at the faro game with Phillips' 'system' and quickly lost $300.

"'Oh, don't worry, you'll win,' he told me," continued the victim "so I played on and lost another $300. Then it occurred to me that I was being trimmed."

The police went to the Seventy-third street house, but found no one there. They came across several suit cases containing faro and roulette layouts, and from some papers in these learned that Phillips was living at 10 West Seventy-eighth street. They arrested him at the latter place.

It developed that Phillips had rented the Seventy-third street house from a Mrs. Turner, whom he told he wanted it as a sort of clubhouse for a "select party of gentlemen who want to play bridge whist."

Moxley told the police he had been instructed to bring $3,600 in cash with him from Pittsburg, but was somewhat suspicious and brought only the $600 which he lost. He is staying at Bretton Hall, Eighty-fifth street and Broadway, and testified against Phillips this morning in the West Side court.

Moxley last night refused to say whether or not his pretty sister-in-law was in this city or knew of his loss.

REV. FR. DOLAN

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM THE CATHEDRAL.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Rev. Fr. Francis X. Dolan, one of the best-known priests of the archdiocese of Boston, and who for nearly 15 years has been attached to the cathedral of the Holy Cross, has been selected by Archbishop O'Connell to succeed the late Rev. Fr. Edward Crokley as pastor of St. John the Evangelist church, Hopkinton.

Fr. Dolan will take charge next Sunday. He has for the past several months been closely identified with the arrangements for the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies that closed in this city yesterday. Fr. Dolan has been the spiritual director of the Suffolk branch of the society, and much of the preliminary work was under his care.

BAD CURRENCY

Is Being Circulated in the South

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—That bad currency of remarkably clever execution is being circulated in Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi is the general warning sent out by Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

"National bank notes of the denomination of $5," said Chief Wilkie, "have been raised to $20 and are being circulated freely.

"The top layer of the figure 20 has been skilfully sliced from each corner of a note by the delicate use of a 'pipe stem' or hollow ground razor and the severed portion has been pasted over the figure 5 on the bill of the lesser denomination, an operation that had to be repeated eight times for each raising of a bill.

"By bending over a rounded surface the portion of the $20 bill containing the figure 20, the counterfeiters succeeded in lifting off with the sharp edge of the razor merely the top half of the paper, leaving the original figure 20 sufficiently unimpaired to allow the sliced bill to pass unchallenged. Thus, out of a $20 bill and $5 bill the counterfeiters created two $20 bills and cleared $15 on each job."

A messenger's pouch containing United States government pay checks for nearly $2000 was stolen early last week in front of the building occupied by the department of commerce and labor according to Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

The pouch was found with the pay checks gone, while the other mail it contained was intact, between this city and Alexandria, Va. The robber is not known. The first intimation that Chief Wilkie received of the theft was on last Saturday, when one of the checks for $73.33, payable to R. F. Troxler of the public health and marine hospital service, came through the Riggs National bank of this city to the treasury department, after having been cashed by the Lowry National bank of Atlanta, Ga.

Yesterday a check payable to J. W. Kerr for $265.53 of the same service was received through the American National bank here, which had been cashed by the Fourth National bank of Montgomery, Ala. Notice has been sent to agents of the secret service to be on the look out for the presentation of the missing pay checks to banks throughout the country.

THE SHAH

IS TO HAVE A SECOND CORONATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—A despatch received here from Teheran says that preparations are being made for a second coronation of the Shah. During the first coronation two years ago the tiara, during the ceremony, fell from his majesty's brow, and to this incident, the Shah superstitiously ascribes the mishaps of his reign.

PLAYERS FINED

For Taking Part in Sunday Game

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 13.—On new warrants charging them with violating the laws of the state of Rhode Island by playing base ball on Sunday, R. Coffey, a pitcher, and H. Dillon a catcher, both of the Newport base ball team, were today fined $5 and costs in the district court here. C. Pinder of the New England league Brockton team is out of the jurisdiction of the Rhode Island courts and there was no complaint made against him today. Both Coffey and Dillon paid their fines.

The trouble arose two Sundays ago, when the Brockton team was playing the local nine. Pinder, Coffey and Dillon were arrested, subsequently released and the game went on. Last Friday they were discharged by the court because of the fact that warrants which had been made out against them were defective, the court declared. Today's action came as a sequel to the whole affair.

The Lowellite is now arming himself so as to be fully prepared for the possible onslaught of the desperate yeggman.

BUYING PISTOLS

Local Resident's Cry "To Arms"

When the big railway strike was on some years ago it was a common slang expression in the west to say, "Save your money and buy a gun," and Eugene V. Debs, the labor leader was quoted a lot of unpleasant publicity by making the remark, or that to a friend in the hearing of a newspaper man shortly afterwards in the east about the country that the strike leader was promoting bloodshed and anarchy and it kept Debs busy for some time explaining that the remark was only a joke.

But "Save your money and buy a gun," is no joke in Lowell at present and the gunshops are doing a land office business for the past few days. The proprietors upon receiving a request to be shown a gun or revolver immediately size up the purchaser.

BIG TERMINALS

To Be Erected in East Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The construction of four large deep water terminals at East Boston, to replace those burned on July 6th, will be begun at once by the New York Central railroad through the officials of the Boston & Albany railroad, according to an announcement made today.

The reconstruction will begin with the building of a new pier for the Cunard Steamship company, followed by one for the Leyland line, and then by a new pier on the site of old Pier 6. The building of a new grain elavator with a capacity of one million bushels with conveyors to all three piers and a delivery system of forty thousand an hour to three steamships will complete the terminal and make it capable of loading the largest freight steamers entering Boston harbor.

The Cunard dock pier, the construction of which will begin on Sept. 1st, will be 750 feet in length and 250 feet wide. The Leyland line pier will be the same, and the slips for the steamers will be dredged to a depth of 35 feet with width of 250 feet.

All the pier sheds as well as the elevator will be of fireproof construction with the most improved appliances for teh speedy handling of grain and freight.

The new terminal will be ready, it is expected, within a year.

LOUISE COLLIER

WIFE OF THE ACTOR UNDER ARREST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Louise Allen Collier, wife of William Collier, the actor, was arrested at the Pennsylvania terminal in Jersey City late yesterday as she was alighting from an Atlantic City train, accompanied by a maid and two diminutive dogs.

The charge against Mrs. Collier is that of attempting to defraud the Grand Atlantic hotel of Atlantic City out of $42.50. After vainly attempting to have her jewels worth $10,000 accepted as security for her appearance in court today, Mrs. Collier succeeded in finding a bondsman who furnished bail in $500.

The actress refused to discuss the circumstances which led to her arrest.

MARY J. GANNON

Inquest Into Her Death Tomorrow

An inquest into the death of the late Mary J. Gannon, who received fatal injuries last Saturday as a result of being run over by an electric car in Gorham street, will be opened in the second session of the police court tomorrow morning at nine o'clock.

CHILD WAS BORN

After the Suicide of the Mother

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 13.—In a cot in the city hospital is a baby, brought into the world by means of the Caesarian operation, while its mother lay dying from a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Hardly had the little one given its first feeble wail when the mother died. The child—a boy—will live, the surgeons say.

The mother was Mrs. Annie Horvath, 24 years old, wife of Alexander Horvath, an employe of the Independent Packing company. The Horvaths had been married about a year and for several weeks the young woman had been busy preparing an outfit for the child which she expected this week.

Sunday she and her husband had the first quarrel of their married life. Horvath left the house and Mrs. Horvath went to bed and refused to get up. Her meals were given her by neighbors.

Yesterday Anne Benki, a neighbor, went into Mrs. Horvath's room and found her sitting on the side of her bed, her husband's revolver and box of cartridges in her hands. She had loaded the revolver and had spilled some of the cartridges on the floor.

"I'm going to kill myself and the baby," she declared.

The Benki woman ntried to take the revolver from her, but Mrs. Horvath pressed the muzzle against her side and pulled the trigger. The bullet passed through her body, breaking a window behind her. The track of the bullet was within half an inch of the head of the child.

The police were notified and an ambulance called. It was almost 6 o'clock when Mrs. Horvath was placed in the ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Drs. Kirchner, Bunch and Schott saw at a glance that there was no hope for the mother, but decided to take a desperate chance to save the child. As rapidly as possible preparations were made to perform the Caesarian operation. Mrs. Horvath was placed in the operating table and while one of the surgeons applied stimulants in an effort to prolong her life, the others operated.

One hour and a half later, just as the surgeon who was administering the stimulants said, "It's too late. She's gone," Dr. Kirchner straightened up and said, "The baby's safe."

The finishing department of the Lowell Bleachery will shut down Saturday, Aug. 22, as its employes will have an outing to Revere beach and Wonderland park.

THE CENTENNIAL

Parade in Archdiocese in October

The Holy Name society of St. Peter's church will hold an important meeting tonight as several matters of interest are scheduled to come up for action. The report of the coupon contest committee will be received at this session.

In the event of a parade being held in Boston in the fall in observance of the centennial of the archdiocese, it has been stated that Archbishop O'Connell will urge especially the attendance of all the Holy Name societies in the archdiocese. Though no definite plans have been determined as yet it is understood that the archbishop has under consideration the holding of the parade on some Sunday in October. Rev. Fr. Burns, spiritual director of St. Peter's Holy Name society, is very much interested in the preliminary plans for the centennial observance and feels that his society will turn out in goodly numbers. It is probable that this matter will be discussed at tonight's meeting. Pres. Coyne will preside.

THE PRESIDENT

Has Talk With Leading Politician

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt will have as his guests at luncheon today Charles S. Francis of Troy, N. Y., American ambassador to Austria, who is on a leave of absence.

A number of politicians interested in the New York state campaign also will be received by the president and take luncheon with him. They are William Barnes, jr. of Albany, Herbert Parsons, president of the New York Republican county committee, Congressman W. W. Cocks, representing President Roosevelt's district and Francis Hendricks.

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States bureau of forestry, and Walter L. Fisher of the national conservation committee, will come to talk over the work of the commission for conserving the country's natural resources.

AUNT'S JEWELS

Tempted Chicago Girl to Steal

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 13.—In payment for the delightful entertainments and good times provided for her while here on a visit, Miss Mary Barry, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of Thomas Barry, 336 East Chicago avenue, Chicago, who operates the Barry lines of steamboats in that city, Tuesday night went to the jewel case of her aunt, Miss Jane Welsh, 90 Bond street, whom she had been visiting, and stole two handsome diamond earrings, valued at $300. When she tried to sell them for $15 and then for $5 she was arrested, but in chambers yesterday Judge Walter Clark, after learning the circumstances and assuring himself of the prisoner's respectability, suspended judgment, placing her in the care of Probation Officer Frank Arnold, who saw that she left for Springfield on her way home last evening.

"For some time Miss Barry has been staying with her aunt and she and her cousin have been extensively entertained and the visitor met some of the best people in Hartford, with all of whom she made a most pleasant impression, being clever, witty and good company.

Yesterday, for some reason which she herself is unable to explain, she stole the jewels and immediately attracted the expert eye of the salesman of Lux, Bond & Lux, to whom she endeavored to sell them. When he remarked on their rarity she colored and offered them for $5, which aroused his suspicions. While she was awaiting Detective Henry Hart arrived and on the way to the station she confessed to stealing from her aunt and hostess. In the police station she wept bitterly when locked up in the women's section. She was later released on bonds. hoaUffisomeandriving

BET OF $6000

HAS BEEN PLACED ON A WOOD-CHOPPER.

AMSTERDAM-IN-THE WOODS, Vt., Aug. 13.—This section has become enthused over the news received here from New York that a popular townsman, whose summer home is here, has made a wager that a Windsor Vermonter can chop, split and pile up a cord of wood in one day.

Maxwell Evarts, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific railroad, whose office is in New York city, wagered $5000 with Charles H. Treat, U. S. treasurer, and $1000 more with some New York senators that a Vermont man can do this wood chopping stunt. The trial is to take place here in September, and preparations are under way for the reception of 20 prominent United States officials, who will come here by special train.

If the Vermonter fails, the visitors will have a great day while the task is under way. There will be tents in which will be served hard cider, pumpkin pies, apple pies and a lot of other good things for which the Green Mountain state is famous.

READ THIS

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Clearola ½ oz. Ether 1 oz. Alcohol 7 ozs. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment, you will soon have a clear and Brilliant Complexion."

"BLACK HANDER"

Failed to Make His Appearance

HAVERHILL, Aug. 13.—Five hundred people waited in Washington square for two hours last night to see whether the author of a "Black Hand" letter sent to John J. Carrigg, proprietor of a lunch room and laundry, would carry out a threat to shoot him "down in cold blood" for Carrigg to deliver up $100.

The letter stipulated that Carrigg should be at the fountain in the square at 8 o'clock last evening prepared to hand over the money.

The penalty for the failure to bring the money was to be immediate death upon the spot.

Carrigg notified his friends, many of whom armed themselves and waited at the fountain with him, while the policemen armed, were numerous in the crowd.

Nothing happened, however, and about 8.30 Carrigg and his friends retired from the square and the crowd dispersed.

TYPO CONVENTION

Contest for Next Year's Gathering

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—An interesting contest for the honor of entertaining next year's convention of the International Typographical union was waged today at the session here of the Union, between Minneapolis, St. Joseph and Seattle. The convention received special invitations to come to St. Joseph from the mayor of that city and also from Governor Folk of Missouri and similar invitations to make Minneapolis their selection from Governor Johnson of Minnesota and Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis, while a number of business men in Seattle sent telegrams urging the claims of that city.

It was expected that at the session last night for the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the Boston union the speakers would be John Mitchell of the National Civic League and Gifford Pinchot, the United States Forester.

The stereotypers and electrotypers also held business sessions during the day while the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary union visited Concord and Lexington.

WATER FOUNTAIN

Placed on the North Common Yesterday

A new drinking fountain was put in position on the North Common yesterday afternoon. The fountain is directly opposite the Morrill school and will be very handy for the people that use the short cut through the school yard to get to Adams street. The new location will also be quite useful for the ball players, as it is between the two best diamonds on the common.

The fountain is one of the two faucet style somewhat similar to the one in Monument square.

A SUICIDE

RICH RANCH OWNER KILLED HIMSELF.

CORDELE, Ga., Aug. 13.—A special to the Dispatch from Alamo, Ga., tells of the suicide there at noon yesterday of H. G. Rogers, aged 50, a saw mill and ranch owner and capitalist, of Boston, Mass. It is believed that Mr. Rogers' mind had become deranged from brooding over the death, about two weeks ago, of his business partner, C. L. Ordway.

He placed a shot gun at his head and blew the top of it off. He leaves a widow and a son in Boston.

The remains will be sent there for burial.

Rogers and Ordway came to South Georgia several years ago from Nebraska, where their ranching interests were located.

PYTHIANS LEAVE

Boston After Their Big Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—With the close of today's session the 35th convention of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, was expected to be brought to a conclusion. The Pythians had already taken their official farewell, but about 300 delegates remained in the city yesterday to finish the business of the convention. The most important matter to be decided upon today was the designation of the meeting place of the next convention, two years hence. Many cities were in the field, but it was said that Richmond, Va. was considered the most favorable.

THE KATRINA

WON THE RACE FOR THE HAUOLI CUP.

PROVINCETOWN, Aug. 13.—In the 82 mile race of the New York Yacht club fleet from Vineyard Haven to Provincetown yesterday, James B. Ford's Katrina won the Hauoli cup for schooners from the Queen, the nearest rival, by 33 minutes, 25 seconds. The Katrina's time allowance was 1 hour, 45 minutes, 7 seconds, and her elapsed time 11 hours, 39 minutes, 17 seconds. The Queen won from the Elmina by two minutes, 4 seconds.

The Avenger won the cup for sloops beating the Istalena by 17 minutes, 25 seconds. She had an allowance of 2 hours, 52 minutes, and 12 seconds and her elapsed time was 11 hours, 28 minutes, 18 seconds. The sloop Vigilant was beaten by Weetamoe by 27 minutes, 17 seconds.

In the race for class L sloops, Rosalie was the winner while the Venceder won in the motor auxiliary class.

The start of the fleet was made at 6.30 this morning with a light breeze from the southwest. The yachts had a good run over Nantucket shoals from Pollock Rip light to Highland Light, spinnackers were hoisted. From there it was a close reach to Race Point and windward work after that to the finish off Wood End.

SHOT HIMSELF

MAN WORRIED OVER FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

EAST DOUGLAS, Aug. 13.—Chauncey Cleveland Potter, a native of this town, but well known in Boston, where he was engaged in the stock brokerage business for nearly 20 years, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver yesterday afternoon at the home of his youth. Financial troubles resulting from the anti-bucket shop legislation in Massachusetts a year ago were probably the cause.

CAPT. BALDWIN

Made First Official Speed Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Captain Thomas S. Baldwin made the first official speed trial of his military dirigible balloon before the army board at Fort Myer yesterday. When within a mile of the finish line, a secondary wire connecting the coil of the engine with the commutator, broke and the motor stopped. The airship was brought down in a corn field, and after Mr. Curtiss repaired the motor, the flight was continued. The accident prevented any possibility of making the speed required by the contract, but Captain Baldwin has two more trials in which to demonstrate its speed.

As the time approached for making the flight, Captain Baldwin expressed the opinion that the wind was blowing too strong.

"If it wasn't for the crowd that is here and the facts said I would make the official trial today," he said, "I would not go up."

Mr. Curtiss was in favor of making a flight, though the wind was too strong for a fair speed test.

The course was the same as that traversed in Tuesday's flight, two and one quarter miles to the westward off Fort Myer in the direction of Falls Church, Va. The first mile and quarter was apparently covered in less time than yesterday. It was at this point that the wire connecting the coil of the motor with one of the four cylinders broke.

Running the engine with the three remaining cylinders, Mr. Curtiss endeavored to repair the break. He received several shocks from the batteries and had to bite off a piece of cord with his teeth. He was compelled to let go of the lever with which the planes are controlled and as a result the big airship pitched and tossed at a height of 200 feet. Despite the danger he was in, Mr. Curtiss continued to work on his motor, while Captain Baldwin, in his position at the rear of the frame was unable to be of any assistance.

Just as Captain Baldwin brought the ship around at the turning point, and started back to Fort Myer, Mr. Curtiss got his engine in working order again. The distance of two and one quarter miles was made in nine minutes and 50 seconds.

When within a mile and an eighth of the finishing point, the wire connecting the coil with the commutator broke, and as this disconnects the four cylinder of the motor, the engine stopped and a descent was made in a corn field.

At 7.11, nineteen minutes after landing, the dirigible again went along and completed its trip, making the last mile in four minutes. It was greeted with a rousing cheer from the crowd at Fort Myer.

Mr. Curtiss said that the two accidents were due to the wires being improperly connected.

Captain Baldwin and Mr. Curtiss were pleased with the showing made, in spite of the accidents and are still confident that they will make a success next time.

The board of signal officers in charge of the tests will meet today and decide whether yesterday's flight shall be counted as one of the three which Capt. Baldwin is allowed. Maj. Moseley of the Royal Engineers, British army, arrived here yesterday, being detailed by his government to attend the Fort Myer tests.

BALLOON RACE

To Be Run Under Novel Conditions

All arrangements for the big balloon race from North Adams on Friday afternoon are now complete, and with a fair day and favorable winds the contest, which will be the first point-to-point balloon race ever held in this country, promises to be the event of the season locally.

Mayor F. D. Stafford of North Adams has consented to act as official starter, and he will see to it that each pilot in charge of a racing balloon announces before he leaves the starting grounds the place where he intends to land. According to the rules of the race this place must be at least 30 miles from North Adams to entitle the winner to the cup which A. Holland Forbes of New York, the noted aeronaut, has offered as a trophy.

The following are the nearest places at which pilots will be allowed to land, and the one landing nearest to the postoffice in any one of these places will be adjudged the victor, provided the landing is within 10 miles of the building.

From north to northeast—Manchester, Vt.; Manchester depot, Bondsville, Rawsonville, Winhall, Jamaica and Westboro station.

From northeast to east—Newfane, Vt.; West Dummerston, Vernon and South Vernon, Vt.; West Northfield, Mass.; Mt. Hermon and Northfield, Mass.

From east to southeast—Gill, Miller's Falls, Lake Pleasant, North Leverett, Montague, Sunderland, Whately, North Hatfield, West Hatfield and Hatfield.

From southeast to south—Haydenville, Leeds, Westhampton, Norwich, Littleville, Huntington, Blandford, North Blandford, East Otis and Otis.

From south to southwest—West Becket, Tyringham, South Lee, Stockbridge, Glendale, West Stockbridge Centre, Mass., Austerlitz and North Concord, N. Y.

From southwest to west—Kinderhook, N. Y.; Schodac, Multzeskill, Castleton and Greenbush, N. Y.

From west to northwest—West Troy, Cohoes, Mechanicville and Stillwater, N. Y.

From northwest to north—Sandgate.

The first balloon is not scheduled to leave the grounds before 1 o'clock. The remaining four balloons which have been entered will go up at intervals of 15 or 30 minutes thereafter. In order to enable the pilots to judge the direction of the wind currents, pilot balloons will be sent up from time to time before the race.

The citizens of North Adams generally are co-operating with the members of the North Adams Aero club, under whose auspices the race will be held, to make the occasion a memorable one. Owing to the fact that the grounds of the Aero club are not spacious enough to accommodate more than the members and those engaged in the inflating of the balloons, the Merchants' association has appointed a committee to meet incoming trains and trolleys for the purpose of directing visitors to vantage points from which to view the start of the race.

Richmond hill and the hill to the north of the grounds just across the river are probably the best places in the city from which to view the race, as it is possible from those elevations to look down directly upon the starting ground, to view the process of inflating the immense gas bags, of attaching the baskets with the pilots and their friends inside and the ascensions. It is also possible from these points to follow the various balloons in their flight for a much longer time than from the immediate vicinity of the starting grounds.

A feature of the occasion will be the distribution of 10,000 souvenir postal cards representing former balloon flights from North Adams.

BODY RECOVERED

The Last of Victims of Drowning Accident

Lake Mascuppic, so far as is known, has given up the last of her dead. The body of the second man who was drowned from a boat Monday afternoon was found by Mr. McDonald of Lakeview about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The body of the man who was first recovered at Lakeview yesterday and which was taken to Higgins Bros. undertakers, Lawrence street, was identified in the afternoon by Officer David Hogan as that of Thomas Clitheroe, a weaver who roomed in the Columbia house in East Merrimack street and who had been missing since Monday morning.

The body recovered at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon has been identified as that of Harry Moon of 78 Coburn street.

1000 MUTINEERS

Pillaged Village and Got $100,000

HONG KONG, Aug. 13.—One thousand soldiers stationed at Konghau, near Wuchow, mutinied yesterday because a comrade had been arrested for gambling.

The mutineers murdered their commander, his clerk and secretary and then attacked a camp of soldiers at Onyung.

The local soldiers fled and the mutineers pillaged the village, securing one hundred thousand dollars in money. They then rejoined the rebels in the Tsking mountains.

Troops have been dispatched to arrest the mutineers.

MEDIATION BOARD

HAS CONFERENCE WITH HEAD OF TELEGRAPHERS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—A series of important conferences was begun yesterday and probably will continue for several days between Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Commissioner of Labor Neill, who constitute the mediation board under the Erdman act, and H. B. Perham, of St. Louis, Mo., president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers; with a view to an amicable settlement of the differences between several western railroads and their telegraph operators. The differences between them grew out of an interpretation of the act of congress that telegraph operators on railroads shall not be required to work more than 9 hours out of 24 hours except in case of great emergency.

CUNNING CROOKS

Are Causing All Kinds of Trouble in Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—In the first three days of this week thieves and pickpockets in Boston have secured more for their efforts than the entire Boston police department has been paid for the same three days to protect the public from the ravages of criminals that are making Boston their headquarters.

As taken from the report of the police commissioner, issued a few months ago, the salary list for the entire department for the past year was $1,578,073.57, or $4338.72 a day. On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the aggregate amount of stolen property has reached the amount of $14,622, while the pay of the Boston police department for the same time has only amounted to $12,016.16.

Though the figures are not authentic, being gleaned here and there from police reports, it is safe to say the amount is nowhere near the real amount that has been secured by the numerous gangs of crooks that have flocked here. There are undoubtedly many who have failed to report their loss, while there are probably also many cases the department has failed to make public.

Though a large amount of the property is not unlikely to be found and returned to its owners it nevertheless shows clearly that thieves can and do operate apparently at their own will in the city, especially in the outlying districts.

LESS PROPERTY RECOVERED

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, upon which is rested the responsibility of finding and returning the stolen property, located and returned nearly eight-elevenths of the $135,614.69 reported stolen last year, but so far this year their record has fallen off some through the fact that a sharper gang of crooks have come to the city and are disposing of their loot through other than the regular channels.

The police confess themselves that the public will never know the real amount of the losses reported, as they claim that it would be detrimental to their work to have it known that certain cases were being investigated, thus putting the criminals on their guard.

CONVENTIONS ATTRACT CROOKS.

Boston up to a month ago was comparatively free from crime, but the thought of the gathering of thousands of Knights of Pythians in the city proved to be a great attraction to the criminals all over the country, and they commenced a pouring in of bad men of every description, coming so fast that the police were powerless to stop them gaining a foothold in the city. Unknown to the police they paraded the streets of Boston in the guise of visitors and law-abiding citizens while they deftly relieved many other visitors and sightseers of valuables and overflowing pocketbooks.

Not content with only this, they followed the visiting delegates to the field of their encampment, where they played havoc with them, and while many reported their losses to the police, there were many others who refused to make it public owing to the fact that they were strangers and that they would soon have to leave town. In order to prosecute the offender, if he were caught, they would have been obliged to remain over for a time or else return from their distant home.

Not only did pickpockets flourish at their trade, but house bzreakers and sneak thieves found a harvest in the Dorchester district. Flim flammers, pool sharks and all manner of petty criminals had a snap, and while there were a few arrests and fewer convictions, the police did the best that they could.

That even a well organized gang, who in a business like manner retained a Boston lawyer to protect their interests, had invaded the city, was made known by the confession of the lawyer himself in the corridors of the court house.

"It is the law that is at fault," said Chief Watts to a reporter when discussing the situation. "A notorious pickpocket is seen in a crowd acting in a suspicious manner and we arrest him as a suspicious person. He immediately furnishes bail, which is unfortunately set at a low figure, and promptly goes back and mingles with the selfsame crowd and we cannot touch him. We can't arrest him again on the same charge and we are not able to catch him in the act, yet we feel sure he is working his game. If we press a specific charge against him he retains a sharp lawyer, who by hook and crook, gets him free and then he promptly sues us for false arrest."

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Lowell to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doans Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

John Leach, janitor of Appleton National bank, and living at 43 Alston St., Lowell, Mass., says: "I just as emphatically endorse Doan's Ointment today as I did seven years ago when I used it for itching hemorrhoids. A few applications gave wonderful relief and in a short time I was completely and permanently cured. There has been no return of the annoying affliction during the years in which have since elapsed. This shows that when Doan's Ointment cures the cure is lasting. I procured it t Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store."

To Take a Hand in Politics

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13.—The Methodist Episcopal church has begun an active crusade for the election of a speaker "who will allow congress to vote on the 'interstate liquor shipment bill.'"

The church, which has more than 3,000,000 communicants, has created the Temperance Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, with authority to represent the demonination in all temperance matters. This society is managed by a board composed of a bishop and 15 members.

The "shipment bill," which has been pending in congress for at least five years, does not seek to impose prohibition upon any locality, but provides that liquor shipped from one state to another shall immediately upon crossing the boundary become subject to the laws of the state into which it is consigned.

"The speaker of the National House of Representatives," says the address of the society, "absolutely controls its procedure. He is opposed to this legislation. He has used the power of his office to hold it in the judiciary committee appointed by him on the alleged ground that it is unconstitutional.

"Our church, by action of the recent general conference, insists that congressional doubt as to the constitutionality of such legislation be resolved in the interests of the people and the public morals.

"At least one member of the house judiciary committee has been defeated for the nomination on his record on this question, and we believe the time has come when our people who want to help secure this legislation must support for congress candidates who will not only vote for this measure, if they get a chance, but will themselves support for speaker a man who will allow it to be voted upon, and that its passage is improbable until Christian voters recognize this situation and cast their ballots accordingly."

GEMS STOLEN

BURGLARS SCARED WHEN DOOR BELL RANG.

WATERTOWN, Aug. 13.—On returning to her home at 71 Mt. Auburn street, about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Bertha E. Carter, a physician, saw a light in one of the upper windows and upon trying her key in the front door found it wouldn't work.

She rang the bell and got no answer, but heard a scurrying of feet down the stairs. The escape was made through a rear window.

Dr. Carter finally succeeded in getting into the house and found the rooms ransacked and articles strewn all about the place. She called the police. In the upper room, from which the light was seen, a handbag belonging to the family was found open upon the bed, and it is thought the burglars intended to use it to carry off their booty.

The articles stolen consisted of eight gold rings, a lady's gold watch, a gold cross, which was a family heirloom, $12 in money and a loaded revolver. Most of the property belonged to Dr. Carter's son, John Carter, who is a traveling salesman, and is now away on a trip, and included diamonds, opals and other valuable stones, valued at $400.

SUIT OF CLOTHES

WITH LAUDANUM IN POCKET FOUND IN RIVER BANK

SAUGUS, Aug. 13.—The discovery last night on the bank of the Pines river, close to the turnpike, of a suit of clothes, after a report received Tuesday night about a naked man wandering along the waters' edge there, has led the police to believe the man has committed suicide.

At low tide today the river bottom will be dragged. A visitor discovered the clothing last night and notified the police.

In one pocket of the suit was found an ounce bottle of laudanum. The shoes were badly worn. Black stockings and white negligee shirt and a black striped collar and black tie comprised the remainder of the apparel found.

No one has been reported missing either here or in Lynn.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Paul Scott and Miss Verna Hodge, two well known and popular residents of the Navy Yard district of Dracut, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 46 Sladen street, the marriage ceremony being performed by Rev. F. A. Carlson of the Hillside church.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was very prettily decorated for the occasion with greenery and flowers. The bride was attired in Persian lawn trimmed with Valenciennes lace and the matron of honor wore blue batiste.

Miss Esther Corson, a niece of the bridegroom acted as matron of honor and Mr. Loren Shaw was best man.

A reception followed the marriage ceremony and the happy couple was roundly congratulated by a host of their immediate relatives and friends. Refreshments were served and an impromptu entertainment was given.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left immediately following the reception period, and will spend the next few weeks with relatives in Augusta, Me. Upon their return they will reside at 46 Sladen street, Dracut, where they will be at home to their friends after Sept. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

HAMMERSLEY—O'CONNOR.

Mr. Patrick T. Hammersley and Miss Mary Frances O'Connor were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, by Rev. Fr. Hammersley, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. John J. McInerney was best man, and Agnes O'Connor, the bride's sister, was bridemaid. After the ceremony there was a reception to relatives and friends at the groom's home, 35 Ash street. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk and carried lack roses. The bridemaid wore champagne colored silk and carried sweet carnations. Guests were present from Boston, Newport and Portland, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Hammersley were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. They will spend their honeymoon in Maine and will be at home to their friends at 35 Ash street after Sept. 1.

McCANN—FREEMAN.

Mr. Eugene McCann and Miss Mary T. Freeman were married yesterday at a nuptial mass celebrated in the chapel of the Immaculate Conception parochial residence at 9 o'clock by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I. Mr. Patrick Freeman was best man, and Miss Rose McCann was bridemaid. The wedding was a private one. After an extended wedding tour, the couple will reside in this city.

CONVENTION ENDED

Officers Chosen by the Catholic Federation

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies brought the business to a close yesterday afternoon and adjourned to meet in the city of Pittsburg in 1909.

The other places that wanted the convention were Columbus, O., Cliff Haven, N. Y., and New Orleans, La.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Edward Feeney, Brooklyn; first vice president, J. B. Oelkers, Newark, N. J.; second vice president, Thos. P. Fignn, Chicago; third vice president, G. W. Stenger, St. Paul; fourth vice president, Henry Wessling, Boston; fifth vice president, J. J. Hynes, Buffalo; sixth vice president, Gilbert Harmon, Toledo, O.; secretary, Anthony Matre, St. Louis; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Rodgers, Chicago; marshal, J. N. Scheafer, Hayes, Kan.; color bearer, J. Horn Cloud, Pine Ridge, South Dakota.

The national executive board was chosen as follows:

Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, Wis.; Bishop McFaul of Trenton, Nicholas Gonner, Dubuque, Ia.; Walter George Smith of Philadelphia, Thomas H. Cannon of Chicago, F. W. Immekus of Pittsburg, Peter Wallrath, Evansville, Ind.; Dr. F. Gaudin, New Orleans, La.; Matthew Cummings, Boston; T. B. Minahan, Seattle, Wash.; Daniel Diffy, Pottsville, Pa., chairman of law committee, A. V. D. Watterson, Pittsburg, Pa.

The officers were formally installed by Bishop McFaul of Trenton.

RESOLUTION ON SOCIALISM.

Before adjournment an additional resolution on socialism was adopted, as follows:

"We reject the main tenet of socialism, that collective ownership of the means of production and distribution is necessary for the welfare of the human race, and we especially urge all Catholic workingmen against affiliating themselves with the socialist movement, which, in its literature, its chief leaders and its fundamental theory of economics, is dominantly materialistic and atheistic.

"On the other hand, we express our sympathy with the wage earners in their efforts to ameliorate their condition by united action in demanding fair wage, habitable dwellings and just diminution of grinding and oppressive toil. We furthermore recommend the formation of Catholic workingmen's societies, wherein our Catholic workingmen may be well grounded in the Christian principles of social justice as set forth by Pope Leo XIII in his encyclical on the condition of labor."

This resolution on international peace was adopted:

"We are in accord with and heartily indorse the aims of the international peace movement."

Under the direction of Timothy J. Brimon of the reception committee, the visiting delegates enjoyed yesterday afternoon a series of automobile rides through the city's suburbs and the park system.

The two South Dakota Indian delegates and their guide, Mr. Wells, accompanied by Fr. Stevens of St. Louis, visited yesterday afternoon the quarters of engine 21 in Charlestown, where they were received hospitably by Capt. Hayes. The captain personally conducted the party over the building and ordered exhibitions of "hitching up," the rapidity of which impressed the visitors.

Many of the delegates visited last evening the mission house and church of the Redemptorist Fathers in Roxbury. The Rev. Fr. Hayes and the assistant priests took the visitors on a tour of the extensive group of school and church buildings of the order. On all sides were heard expressions of admiration at the scope of activities carried on by the Redemptionists in Roxbury. The Mission church band of 100 pieces gave a concert on the stage of St. Alphonsus hall, every number of which was loudly applauded. The gymnasiums, the school rooms, the reception parlors were in turn all visited. In one of the bymnasium halls the ladies of the church served ice cream and cake.

As the climax to the visit, Fr. Hayes had the beautiful Mission church lighted. In one of the gymnasium halls the the country were profundly impressed by the scene. The interior of the church, famous for its beauty and appointments, presented a grand spectacle when the hundreds of electric bulbs in the sanctuary, on the pillar capitals and in the roof flashed in illumination, while the soft strains of the great organ with chime accompaniment filled the air with sacred melody as the men and women from distant parts of the continent knelt in silent prayer before the altar.

The Charlestown Catholic Literary union entertained last evening many of the federation delegates at their club house on Monument square. President James P. Maloney and his associate officers were the hosts of the evening.

MISS HELEN PINGREE.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Miss Helen Pingree, the new leading lady, is making a tremendous hit at Lakeview theatre this week and the houses have been so large that the management has decided to open the balcony. The new sheath gown that Miss Pingree is wearing at every performance is well worth the price of admission alone, while the play itself is daily receiving the highest of praise.

A realistic western comedy melodrama, "A Texas Ranger," will be offered for the first part of the coming week. The play is a story of life on the Texas plains in the stirring days of '70. Its scenes are laid in and around Fort McKearney, an army post near the Mexican line, but while it has one or two military characters, it is not an army play, but simply a good, wholesome story of ranch and army life, truly real, with a pretty love story interwoven in it, and some strong types of character. The scenic settings the company will use for this play are particularly good, the special scenes being the ranch house on the Santa Fe trail, the Indian camp, the interior of the stockade at the fort, and the interior of the ranch house. During the action of the play some excellent specialties will be introduced. Commencing Thursday of the week, a special production of a strong military play will be made.

BORROWED $1500

Explanation Given by Bank Clerk

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Stephen S. Gauss of 13 Liberty street, Salem, is held by the Boston police pending inquiry as to how he happened to have $1500 out of which he said he was bunced by pool sharps on Tuesday.

He made his complaint at the City Hall avenue police station yesterday, and when Sergt. McConnell asked him where he got so much money he said he was a clerk at the Salem savings bank and just "borrowed" it.

The Salem police have been notified.

BANK OFFICIALS SILENT.

SALEM, Aug. 13.—Stephen S. Gauss, under detention by the police department of Boston, is the son of Hon. John D. H. Gauss of this city. He is about 22 years old and was graduated from the high school. He worked as a printer for some time, and about one year ago entered the Salem savings bank as clerk and messenger.

Previous to Monday he was cruising for several days with his father in a yacht off the Maine coast. He is said to have arrived home Monday morning. Last summer he had charge of the Y. M. C. A. boats in commission in Salem bay.

Young Gauss was frequently assigned service as messenger and carried valuables from the local savings bank to Boston banks. He has always bore an enviable reputation. He was of quiet temperament and well liked by all who knew him. He boarded with his father at 13 Liberty street.

The detention of young Gauss by the Boston police was so quietly made that it was not known here until late last night. He had the full confidence of all the bank officials, none of whom would speak about the case last night.

WEAVERS' UNION

TO HAVE NEW HEADQUARTERS IN NEW BEDFORD.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 13.—At the regular monthly meeting last night, the Weavers' union appointed a committee of five to investigate sites for a new union headquarters. A fairly large representation of members was present, and the proposition in hand was thoroughly discussed before the committee was appointed.

Although, under the rules of the organization, the names of those on the committee will not be made public, Secretary Matthew Hart will act as the medium between the committee and real estate owners or agents, receiving the offers or communication and placing them in the hands of the committee for consideration.

The other business, of a routine nature, occupied but a short time, and the meeting adjourned at 9.30.

Anty Drudge's Idea of Clubs.

Organizer of Woman's Club—"Anty, we want you to join our club for the study of sociology, economics and the general uplifting of womankind."

Anty Drudge—"All right, my dear. We'll begin by telling all women about the new way of washing clothes with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water. It does away with boiling and hard-rubbing, saves work, time, worry and money, and does more to help women than all the sociology and economics in creation."

When women first began to wash clothes, they soaked them in a stream and beat them with a paddle. A hard job it was then to get rid of dirt.

Then someone found that fat and lye made a substance which, mixed with hot water and rubbed hard, cleaned things pretty well. This was soap.

Finally, came Fels-Naptha.

Fels-Naptha isn't simply good soap; it's different altogether from soap as you know it.

Fels-Naptha marks as big an advance over soap in its usual meaning, as ordinary soap itself did over the paddle.

Ordinary soap calls for much hard-rubbing and plenty of boiling water to take away dirt. Some kinds of stains, greases and blood it simply won't remove.

But Fels-Naptha cleans without hard-rubbing and you don't use hot water at all.

With Fels-Naptha all you need is cool or lukewarm water.

Think how this cuts all the terror out of washday.

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Those who expected an ultra-radical and denunciatory address from Mr. Bryan, in reply to his notification by the committee must feel greatly disappointed for his speech delivered at Lincoln yesterday is a masterpiece of calm and logical reasoning upon the leading questions involved in the campaign.

Unlike Mr. Taft, Bryan did not require the greater part of a newspaper to voice his views upon all the phases of the campaign.

No longer can the republicans ridicule Bryan as a "man of mere words," or as being long-winded in his addresses. He has given Roosevelt and Taft alike a perfect example of conciseness in political discussion. He has shown them how to "boil it down" and to present only the essence for the delectation of his audience.

Mr. Bryan sees practically but one great question in this campaign. It is: "Shall the people rule, or shall the government be handed over to the predatory interests?" He quotes President Roosevelt to show that these interests have already hurled defiance at the government and practically mocked the administration when it attempted to check their impositions upon the people.

He also quotes Mr. Taft's endorsement of the president's indictment and his admission that certain very grave evils crept in during the last ten years when some great corporations broke away from the established rules of business and showed utter disregard alike for the law and the authority of the government.

After presenting the dark republican picture drawn by the president and his man Taft, Mr. Bryan shows that republicans were in power all this time and not only failed to stop these evils but actually encouraged them. The republican party, he said, is responsible for all the abuses existing in the country today, and as proved by the experience of the last ten years it is powerless to correct them.

The speaker took up some of the leading questions and proved quite conclusively that the republican party is unable to carry the necessary reforms through congress, owing to its subordination to the trusts.

Upon the tariff the republicans are with the trusts and against the people; upon anti-trust legislation the same is true; while on the matter of extending the powers of the interstate commerce commission; upon the election of United States senators by the people and upon publicity of campaign contributions the republican party has proved recreant to the people and therefore deserves to be removed from control of the government.

The republican party cannot attack wrong doing in high places without bringing its most prominent members into disgrace Hence in the opinion of Mr. Bryan not until that party passes through a period of "fasting in the wilderness" will it learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses.

On the matter of campaign publicity Bryan exposes the ridiculous position of the republican party when he says:

> "If a trust magnate contributes $100,000 to elect political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions."

The United States senate as at present chosen Mr. Bryan designates as a fixed obstacle to popular reform, and although two-thirds of the states have expressed themselves in favor of election by the people, yet the republican party at its recent convention rejected the plank by an overwhelming majority. The United States senate impudently and arrogantly rejects the resolution when presented to it, and thus by a republican majority, the will of the people is blocked.

The autocratic sway recently exercised by the speaker of the house in congress was shown to be another effective block to the enactment of popular reforms; another proof that as stated at the outset the main question in this campaign is: Shall the people rule? But in the conclusion Mr. Bryan tersely asserts that—

> "whether we consider the tariff question, the trust question, the railroad question, the banking question, the labor question, the question of imperialism, the development of our waterways, or any other of the numerous problems which press for solution, we shall find that the real question involved in each is, whether the government shall remain a mere business asset of favor seeking corporations or be an instrument in the hands of the people for the advancement of the common weal."

He contrasts the attitude of the democratic party representing the masses as ready if placed in power to stand for justice in government and equity in the division of the fruits of industry.

The democratic party says Bryan is not for revolution, but for reformation, and the sooner the present abuses are applied the less severe will be the ordeal. The opponents of the democratic party may fling their contemptuous sneers at Mr. Bryan, may assail him as "evasive" and a shallow reasoner, but we do not believe there is one of them who can refute his assertions relative to the control of the government by the trusts under the republican administration or the statement that the republican party as at present constituted is unable to control congress to the extent of regenerating itself.

The speech is one the republicans will find it difficult to answer, and it is only the first of a series of able discussions that we may expect from Mr. Bryan during the campaign.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fall River Globe: Next year will see another notable centennial celebration, that of the Sisters of Charity organized in this country by Mother Elizabeth A. Seton at Emmettsburg in 1809. In the 100 years since the growth has been remarkable until now the number of the order's establishments in the United States is over 550, with a membership of over 5000. In their hospitals and asylums the Sisters of Charity care for 10,000 orphans, 2000 insane and thousands of sick and destitute are nursed and looked after.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL.

Concord Patriot: The independence league candidate for the presidency is a maker of music, one of the exquisite products of his reveries being entitled "Language of the Soul."

"Let who will be king, give me influence over the hand that rocks the cradle."

Bryan and Roosevelt and other candidates may write books and make speeches but Hisgen can write the music for the nation.

Why strive after greater things? What can be greater?

The great men of the past have spent their lives trying to learn the language of the soul. Why, wherefrom, and whereto.

Hisgen is their compeer. His distinction is sufficient.

Leaving the realms of the purely spiritual and ascending to the cold and barren things of earth and matter such as must necessarily occupy the time of a president, would of necessity be a fall not a rise for Hisgen.

BUY ON HIGHEST MARKET.

Brooklyn Eagle: Patriotism decrees that the American merchant shall equip American troops. No matter how high the price, no matter how inferior the grade of article to be supplied, it is deemed right that preference shall be given to the domestic purveyor in the distribution of army contracts. The single-minded patriots who sold shoddy overcoats for the use of Union soldiers in the Civil war and the equally commendable Cuban invasion with embalmed beef were encouraged to exercise their thrift by the time honored principle that to the home contractors belong the spoils. In all seriousness, however, there is no reason why the government should have recourse to foreign manufacturers to save money on the purchase of its supplies. By maintaining an exorbitant tariff, it compels private consumers to pay extravagant prices for commodities which are better made abroad. It must, therefore, accept the logic of a situation created by itself, and continue to buy its supplies in the highest market. Still, the irony of its position is painfully apparent.

ABSURD FINANCIERING.

Medford Mercury: If it requires a conference of the largest bankers in the country to furnish funds to meet the guarantee of the $8,000,000 of Wheeling & Lake Erie notes, which all Wall street viewed with apprehension, how absurd to suppose that a coal dealer in Meriden, Conn., a city of 30,000 people, could have the $16,000,000 in his inside pocket with which to engage in financial transactions of double the note transactions of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad! It is like the ostrich trying to hide his head in the sand to suppose that the public generally will accept the child's play of Mr. Billard, the Meriden coal dealer, buying the 110,000 shares of Boston & Maine railroad stock from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Six of the seven men in this year's crop of the presidential candidates have smooth-shaven countenances. The seventh—that's Mr. Taft's—has only a moustache. The era of bearded politics, which began with Abraham Lincoln in 1861 and continued, with only one interruption, until the end of Benjamin Harrison's administration in 1893, is past. What is true of presidents and would-be vice presidents is equally true of congressmen. Of 100 photographs of members of congress published in a contemporary last December only ten had beards. In public life whiskers have gone out, rather than come out.

King Edward is a constant playgoer and naturally one whose attendance is much desired by theatrical managers. A royal visit is always good for business. When the king or any member of his family wishes to visit a theatre the management is notified by the theatrical agent who does all this kind of work for the royal family and the box is paid for at the usual price. If it should happen that the box is already taken the holder is notified and asked if he will kindly give way, being provided with other accommodation or the same for another night. The king likes to be shown into his box and leave it with as little fuss as possible. He is an excellent spectator, follows the play closely and keeps his attention on the stage. He is a good critic. The plays he has visited since last summer are: "The Earl of Pawtucket," London; "Die Lustige Wittwe" ("Merry Widow"), Ischl; "Weiner Blut," Marienbad; "The Devil's Disciple," Savoy; "Irene Wycherley," Kingsway; "Lady Frederick," Court; "A White Man," Lyric; "Malia," Shaftesbury; "Diana of Dobson's," Kingsway; "Dear Old Charlie," Vaudeville; "The Beloved Vagabond," His Majesty's "Lady Barbarity," Comedy; "La Femme Nue," Renaissance, Paris; "La Robe Rouge," Shafteshury; "Jack Straw," Vaudeville; "La Loi de l'Homme," Shaftesbury; "La Caprice," Shaftesbury; "The Flag Lieutenant," Playhouse; "Mrs. Dot," Comedy.

Impossible as it may seem, Mary Anderson entered on her 60th year on Tuesday, July 28, and the statement is borne out by documentary evidence of her birth in Sacramento in 1856. Twelve of those years—from her 16th to her 28th—were spent on the stage, and every one rushed to see the young actress. But the glamour of the footlights soon palled. Miss Anderson settled down to a calm life at old fashioned Broadway, a quaint spot in the heart of England, where there is an American colony to keep green the memory of Mme. de Navaarro's native land.

Captain Ejnar Mikkelsen, the Danish explorer, has returned to Copenhagen, after his two years' sojourn in the regions north of Alaska. The chief object of the expedition was to decide whether there was land to the north of Alaska or a deep sea. The captain and a Norwegian started in three sledges with 18 dogs on a trip over the ice toward the north. About 50 miles from shore they found water, which they sounded with a newly invented machine to the depth of 800 metres without reaching bottom. Sixty miles further on no change was recorded, until at last, turning toward the southeast, they found bottom. They followed this edge to the continental shelf toward the east, but had soon to return owing to the strong current. Captain Mikkelsen was thus able to prove that deep water runs north of Alaska to a great distance.

Among the many Americans visiting England at the present moment, says a London journal, is Clyde Fitch, that most whimsical of American dramatists. He has made quite a big fortune by his plays, with which, among other things, he has bought three large houses, a Venetian palazzo, and—a dog. This latter is a Pomeranian, from Florence. Her name was "Fiametta." When she got to New York she had quite lost her coat, and she looked so plain that her owner had to change her name to "Lizzie." Later on, however, her coat returned, whereupon she once again became "Fiametta."

The mayor of Thoirette, in the department of the Jura, France, advertised that a ball would be held in the parish church on the eve of the National fete, July 14. On the 13th, at nightfall, accompanied by a number of his friends, the mayor unlocked the doors of the church, and having himself rung the bells to summon the population, he started the ball. Under the separation law the parish church became the property of the commune, and the mayor asserts that he is empowered to use the building for any purpose that may be deemed useful.

Rev. James E. Norcross, pastor of the Jamaica Plain Baptist church, has resigned to become New England secretary of the Baptist Home Missionary society, with headquarters in Boston. He succeeds the late Rev. F. T. Haxelwood, D. D. The new duties of Mr. Norcross will begin early in September. He has been in Jamaica Plain for four years, having gone there from Amesbury. He is a native of Watertown, and was graduated from the Newton Theological institution in 1879.

Rev. Henry D. Washburn, ten years rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Worcester, has resigned to accept the chair of ecclesiastical history at the Episcopal Theological school of Cambridge. He is a native of Worcester, and a graduate of Harvard and Oxford.

BIG RAINFALL

Chicago Has Heaviest Since 1885

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Twenty-three days without rain and then the heaviest rain in twenty-three years. This is the royal way in which the weather man responded to the prayer of the farmers in this region. The parched corn and the sun baked fields were deluged in sheets of water. In the 24 hours ending at 6 o'clock last night, the precipitation was 4.35 inches. That is the greatest rainfall experienced in Chicago since Aug. 2 and 3, 1885, when there was a fall of 6.19 inches.

FIFTH SESSION ### OF THE PAN AMERICAN MEDICAL CONGRESS.

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Aug. 13.—The fifth session of the Pan American Medical congress, which opened here August 6, has come to an end with a banquet given by President Cabrera in honor of the delegates. The next congress will be held in Lima, Peru, in August of 1911.

STREET COMMITTEE

MET THIS AFTERNOON FOR OILING DEMONSTRATION.

The committee on streets met at 2.30 this afternoon and adjourned to the boulevard where companies that manufacture and sell oils for streets will give a street oiling demonstration.

HE TOOK POISON

A Prominent Banker Ended His Life

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—A despatch to the Tribune from Peoria, Ills., says:

E. J. Lewis, treasurer of the Savings Life Insurance company of Peoria, committed suicide by taking poison in a saloon here last night.

He was a 32d degree Mason and a prominent lodgeman throughout the state.

PHYSICIAN DEAD

Two Women Prayed for His Resurrection

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—L. Emerson Wheat, a physician, aged 45 years, was found dead in his home at 19th and Diamond streets in one of the most pretentious residential sections of the city yesterday under startling circumstances. Besides the body which lay on a couch, two women were found praying for his resurrection and muttering strange incantations, though physicians say the condition of the corpse indicated that the man had been dead at least 48 hours.

The two women were Mrs. Fannie Soult, a professed spiritualist, and Miss Florence Beckman. They were arrested.

Dr. Wheat had been living alone in his home during the absence of his family in the country. He was last seen alive on Saturday, and failing to make certain visits, the police were asked to investigate. They forced the door of the house and found the physician lying half clothed on a couch in his office. Lying prostrate on the floor, they say, they found Mrs. Soult and Miss Beckman.

To the police Mrs. Soult said she had known Dr. Wheat for about seven years and that since last April she had been treating him by giving him what is known as the magnetic treatment.

On Sunday last, she said, the physician came to her home and asked her to come to his home as he felt as though something was going to happen. When she went to his office, Dr. Wheat was seriously ill. He could not say what she wanted. She worked over him until morning, when she got a message from her spiritual controller, Dr. Miller. At the time the police came in she was waiting for him to instruct her as to what she should next do in the case. Miss Beckman, she said, was simply a friend who had gone to the house with her.

Dr. Miller, whom she refers to as her spiritual controller, died about two years ago.

SUBWAY ROUTE

New Haven Road is After One

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The possibility that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad will become a bidder for a subway franchise in this city, was indicated yesterday by President C. S. Mellen of the road at a hearing before the public service commission here. Mr. Mellen appeared in connection with the New York and Portchester railroad franchise matter, witnesses being examined in answer to a complaint that the Portchester company has failed to proceed with the construction of the line as its franchise provides.

After President Mellen had explained that the delay was caused by the necessity of awaiting the decision of the New York court of appeals on the validity of the franchise of the New York, Portchester and Boston railroad, a practically parallel line, the witnesses explained that the New Haven company, to handle properly its suburban traffic, must secure an entrance into the heart of New York without change of cars.

Mr. Mellen said that he did not believe that there could ever be a thoroughly satisfactory development of the New Haven commuting business unless trains could come right straight through to their destination, whether that was the battery or city hall or elsewhere.

Much interest was aroused by Mr. Mellen's intimation that the New Haven, under certain conditions, might prove a bidder for the construction of a subway route, further references to which were made in his latter testimony. Mr. Mellen testified that he thought that within two years after the legal difficulties are disposed of, the Porchester-Westchester road could be completed.

"It is inevitable," he said, "that the New Haven road will have to take care of its present commuter business and a large increase in which it has the right to expect from the electrification and it must have some other means of bringing that business down into the heart of the city.

"I hope to make arrangements with other companies to have the trains run through without transfer, and I might say that if I cannot make arrangements with other companies, I may be obliged to come directly to the commission and ask for such an arm."

Mr. Mellen later on suggested that he would announce that it would be well for a New York corporation which would take over the whole New Haven line within New York state.

BOSH HIS NAME

MAN UNDER ARREST EXCITED THE MAGISTRATE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Magistrate Harris had a little difficulty in the night court recently over the name of one Oscar Bosh, a 6 foot 4 inch grocer, of 224 East Thirty-first street, who was a witness in an assault case. The magistrate asked him his name and what he saw of the fight.

"Bosh. I saw these two——" the big witness began, but the magistrate interrupted him.

"What do you mean by bosh, sir? Kindly answer my question, sir, and give me your name!" said the magistrate.

"Oh, Bosh, Bosh. I saw these two—" continued the witness. Again he was interrupted.

"John," asked Magistrate Harris of the bridge officer, "Is this man intoxicated or crazy?"

"No, judge, I know this man. He lives in my neighborhood and his name is Oscar Bosh. He didn't mean 'Oh, bosh!'" explained the policeman.

"O-o-o-oh! Now I understand," said Magistrate Harris, and the witness testified.

THE DEMOCRATS

Will Hold State Convention Oct. 1

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the democratic state committee, held in Boston yesterday, it was voted to hold the democratic state convention in Boston on October 1st, subject to the approval of the full state committee. The full committees meet here next Tuesday at which time it is expected the chairman of the executive committee will be named.

VICTORIOUS TEAM

Will Head Procession in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—This city will take on a gala appearance on the day the American Olympiad victors return. This was decided yesterday at a special meeting of the board of aldermen, who passed a resolution asking the mayor to issue a proclamation ordering that the national colors be displayed on all public buildings. All citizens will also be requested to decorate their houses and places of business in honor of the athletes. Every athletic association in the city will be invited to parade in honor of the occasion. The aldermen also requested the mayor to forward a communication to Governor Hughes asking that the National guard be permitted to take part in the parade which will be led by the victorious team. The aldermen authorized the mayor to extend to each member of the athletic team the freedom of the city during the day of its public reception.

CHAS. J. GLIDDEN

Made An Ascent at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 13.—Charles J. Glidden of Boston and Charles T. Shean of this city made an ascent yesterday afternoon, at 6.30 o'clock in the balloon "Boston" from Court Square extension, in the presence of fully ten thousand persons. After being in the air for forty minutes, they landed on the farm of Sidney White, four miles northeast of Amherst, a distant of 25 miles. The time is considered very fast by Mr. Glidden, who says that while passing over Mt. Holyoke, a speed of sixty miles an hour was reached. Weather conditions were excellent and Mr. Glidden was loud in his praises of Springfield as a place from which to make ascensions.

HIGHER RATES

TRIBUTE TO THE STEEL TRUST RENDERS ADVANCE NECESSARY.

The proposed increase in freight rates is causing very sharp discussion, but one phase of the subject seems to have been overlooked. It is said that without an advance in rates net earnings are and will be insufficient to maintain dividends. This deficiency in net earnings could not have existed if the railroads had not paid to the iron and steel monopoly unreasonable price of rails since the October panic.

Although it is admitted on all sides that iron and steel can be made in the United States at less cost than anywhere else in the world, the duty on steel rails in $7.84 per ton. That the price is kept up to the limit permitted by the foreign cost plus the tariff is shown by the fact that many foreign rails are imported and sold. In the fiscal year 1906-7 4819 tons were brought in, chiefly at New York and Baltimore. For the same year the United States statistical bureau gives the domestic production of rails as 3,977,857 tons and the domestic consumption as 3,991,125. If the tariff graft xacted by the steel trust from the railroads that used these rails was only $7.84 per ton, the amount of duty, then the loss of railway net earnings on this account alone was nearly $28,000,000, but $7.84 is undoubtedly much less than the steel trust velvet over and above a reasonable competitive price.

There has been no reduction in the price of rails since the October panic, although prices have been cut in most other lines. The railroads also use many other iron and steel products besides rails. If the railway managers paid only fair prices for iron and steel, they would now have no need either to raise freight rates or to reduce wages. Why do they not attack the tariff graft of the steel combination instead of imposing additional burdens upon shippers and consumers?

DECORATE FOR FIREMEN.

Mr. Charles F. Young, the decorator, 625 Central street, is hustling this week taking orders for decorating in honor of the Firemen's big muster to be held here next Thursday. Mr. Young has had a great deal of experience in decorating of all kinds. He is the only local decorator who makes a specialty of this kind of work and therefore should be patronized by local firms who believe in leaving their money in Lowell. Telephone 1348.

BANK OF ENGLAND.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The rate of discount of the bank of England remains unchanged at 2 1-2 per cent.

THE AMERICANS

Welcomed by the Maori Tribesmen.

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 13.—Wonderful sights were seen today by Rear Admiral Sperry and the contingent of officers of the American fleet, who spent today at Rotorua and adjacent points in the Thermal district—New Zealand's wonderland it has been aptly named—as the guests of Prime Minister Ward and a delegation of members of parliament.

Besides attending the ceremonies incident to the opening of the new government bath and receiving a hearty, though unique, welcome at the hands of a great assemblage of Maori tribesmen, an opportunity was afforded the Americans to visit many of the strange freaks of nature in the neighborhood—great and small geysers, the roaring steam pit at Tikitere and the multi-colored lakes of hot, cold and temperate waters. The village of the Maori's also was an attraction to many of the officer, who keenly enjoyed the sights they saw there.

After the ceremonies of inaugurating the new bathhouse had been completed the Maoris in large numbers, dressed in their weird costumes, greeted the American admiral and his officers. At first the chief of the tribesmen, according to an ancient rite, challenged the visitors, desiring to know whether they came in peace or in war. Having received assurance that the mission was a peaceful one, the air resounded with yells of the tribesmen, and there was a stamping of frenzied feet in the war dances and the Hakka dances.

Admiral Sperry in a graceful speech, thanked the Maori chief for the welcome of the tribesmen and for the entertainment they had afforded himself and his officers. The chief made a felicitous reply, in the sourse of which he brought smiles to the faces of nearly everyone who heard him, by remarking:

"We sent our warriors to meet you as you are all warriors—seafaring men. Had you been ordinary people, we would have sent the women first."

The Maoris presented Admiral Sperry and the American officers with many priceless tribal heirlooms.

The American officers will return to Auckland tomorrow in order to attend a reception in their honor in the evening by W. A. Prickett, the American consul general.

CHUMS PARTED

Jealousy the Cause of the "Break"

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Margaret Gilmore and Luella Blake, both young and decidedly good looking and the best of friends up to three weeks ago, when each claims the other became jealous of her, appeared in the municipal court yesterday. Miss Blake accused her companion of the larceny of wearing apparel, and a young man friend of Miss Blake demanded of the court why the goods had not been given up.

An innocent red Chinese laundry tag broke up the peace of the court yesterday when Judge Waterworth asked Lawyer Brown what date was on it.

The apparel of the two misses, it seems, went to the laundry in the same bag. Either one of the two girls might hold the ticket, and whenever the goods came back they would use the articles without troubling to see who owned them. In this way they were accustomed to wear each other's clothing, and jewelry also. Then came the "jealousy" and they separated.

A week ago the two met, and Miss Blake told the story in court of identifying her waist on Miss Gilbert. She demanded the waist and any other goods of hers that Miss Gilbert might have. Miss Gilbert resigned that she would return it "when she got good and ready."

"I haven't got the laundry yet, Your Honor," she pleaded yesterday, "and so I was just wearing her waist. I was going to get the laundry soon, and of course all the things that didn't belong to me I was going to return."

After talking the matter over, Judge Wentworth decided to put Miss Marsaret on probation for six months, and she was seen to leave the court in a hurry with something that looked like a red laundry tag in her hand which Lawyer Brown had given her, together with some advice.

LAWN PARTY

AT THE HOME OF MR. GILLAM ON CHELMSFORD ROAD.

At attractive as well as successful lawn party was held last night on the grounds surrounding Mr. H. Gillam's residence in the Chelmsford road. The affair was under the auspices of the Willing Hand society and the chorus choir of the First Presbyterian church and was in charge of Organist Smith and Mrs. J. M. Craig.

The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns, and a hurdy gurdy furnished music for the occasion. A trio composed of Messrs. Muir, Goustion and McLaren rendered vocal selections during the evening and Mr. Gillam entertained with the phonograph.

A contest for a rubber plant caused considerable excitement. It was won by Miss Jessie McDenald of Canada street.

There were a number of tables which were well patronized.

The candy table was in charge of Mrs. Robert Cochrane and Mrs. Frank George. The cake table was waited upon by Miss Jessie Frazer, Mrs. John MacAdam and Mrs. William Zimmer. Ice cream was dispensed by Mrs. J. M. Craig, Mrs. F. W. Gudewell and Miss Jennie Walker.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Patriarchs Militant, department of Massachusetts, will meet with the sovereign grand lodge and military council at the council in Denver, Col., under the command of Major Gen. A. E. Bliss, department commander, Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F. The party will leave Boston, Sept. 16, and will arrive home Sept. 30, having visited Kansas City, Chicago, Kingston, Ont., Niagara and the Thousand Islands. From Lowell there will be Commander H. V. Kittredge and Clerk Thomas E. Boucher.

The local lodge of Elks had a well attended meeting on Tuesday evening. Prior to the meeting there was a business meeting of the committee on their late outing, which was presided over by M. J. Markham, and reports were given by a large number of the subcommittees.

LIVELY CONTESTS

New Officers of Canado-American Ass'n.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 13.—By far the most important session of the Canado-American association convention was the concluding one which began last evening and after a hard fought battle, in which contesting candidates were in evidence for every important office, the elections were finally concluded at 2 o'clock this morning with the selection of the following:

President Dr. A. E. E. Brien, Manchester, N. H.; first vice presidents, Dr. J. D. N. Dubeau, Providence, R. I.; second vice president, Dr. Z. Vadnais, Marquette Mich.; third vice president, Dr. Charles Amiot, Asbestos, P. Q.; secretary, Calixte Morin, Manchester, N. H.; treasurer, Joseph A. Boivin, Manchester, N. H.; general organizer, Joseph Francoeur, Levis, P. Q.; medical examiner, Dr. Damase Caron, Manchester, N. H.; directors, J. E. Bernier, Manchester, N. H.; William Dupont Berlin, N. H.; Dr. J. N. Lelourneau, Laconia, N. H.; Alfred Ferland, Providence, R. I.; Verunne Dufault, Central Falls, R. I.; J. B. A. Guerin, Nashua, N. H.; Dr. Emile St. Hilaire, Quebec, P. Q.; auditors, L. P. Cote, Somerville, Mass.; Antenders, Manchester, N. H.; E. A. Messier, Quincy Mass.; medical committee, Dr. A. Lavallee, Berlin, N. H.; Dr. J. Gaspard Boucher, Woonsocket, R. I., Dr. J. A. Lagace, Nashua, N. H.; Dr. N. Leduc, Somersworth, N. H.

Minor officers, who formerly have been appointed, were elected and the newly elected officers were later installed by General Organizer Joseph Francoeur.

Previous to the election, the principal amendments to the constitution were adopted including one making the age at which insurance members may be accepted fifty years instead of 55 years as hitherto; and the vote to authorize the formation of military organizations in connection with each court.

It was also voted that hereafter associate members may not vote or hold offices, and that out of a five per cent. appropriation from the insurance fund for diverse purposes the sum of $1000 be set aside yearly for "Peter's pence." Among the resolutions adopted was one demanding that a proportionate part of the public school funds be devoted to the parochial schools.

One of the principal features of the election of officers was the defeat of T. G. Biron of Manchester, N. H., for the presidency, an office he has held since the incorporation of the order 12 years ago.

The installations which was the concluding feature was not over until after 2 o'clock this morning, after it had been decided to hold the next biennial convention at Montreal P. Q., in 1910.

WRIGHT AIRSHIP

Met With An Accident During Descent

LEMANS, France, Aug. 13.—The Wright aeroplane suffered an accident which will require several days and possibly a week to make good.

After two superb flights, Wilbur Wright tried a new and daring method of descent. He stopped the motor at a height of 75 feet and tried to come to earth on a gradual descending glide. The calculations were not adequately correct and the left wing of the aeroplane came in contact with the ground. This tore the frame of the machine. Mr. Wright was not injured.

THE CONCORD TRIBE.

The Concord (N. H.) Veteran Firemen, after they had their handrub meeting Tuesday night to complete the arrangements for the trip to Lowell next week, took out the handrub for practice and got in some good work in front of the state house. Captain Mudgett will be unable to make the trip with the boys this time, and David J. Adams was elected captain pro tem. He accepted the position and agreed to get together a crew that will make the old tub burn. Mr. Adams has been foreman and captain in other years and knows how to get the best out of the old hand better than any other man. There will be another meeting for drill purposes next Thursday evening, and the tub will be tried out again, and for the last time before the muster, which comes Tuesday of next week.

LIFE OF A CHILD

Was Saved by a Clothesline

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Because of the motherly instinct that prompted 12-year-old Nellie Brennan to play house, put out a clothesline and wash her doll's clothing, her four-year-old brother is alive after a fall of 45 feet from the third story of their home at 16 Magnolia avenue, Cambridge.

Mrs. Brennan, the mother of the children, is a widow. Yesterday she went to Boston and bought some new clothing for the little boy, Leonard. During her absence Nellie amused herself and her little brother by playing house and it was then that she got her mother's clothesline and attached it to the hooks in the back yard and then washed and hung out her dolly's clothing.

Mrs. Brennan came home in due time and after attending to some household duties left the little boy in the kitchen while she stepped into a front room for a moment to get the clothing, which she wished to try on.

She returned almost immediately and looked about the kitchen, but the lad had disappeared. A shriek from the back yard caused her to hurry to the window and look out, and she saw her son lying on the ground. He had lost his balance and had fallen out.

In his descent he struck full upon the single strand of clothesline, which broke his fall. His body bounded from it to the ground and he lay there gasping, for the breath was almost driven from his body.

The police ambulance was summoned at 4.30 and the boy was rushed to the Cambridge relief hospital. A careful examination was made and it was found that no bones weer broken, although the little fellow's body was bruised in several places.

The hospital physicians deemed it best to hold Leonard at the institution for a day or two for observation as to possible internal injuries and he was therefore put to bed. At a late hour last night he was reported to be resting comfortably.

YOUNG HUSBAND

Shot His Wife and Her Friend

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Suspecting that an all-night job given to him by his foreman was not strictly in the interests of the New York Central Railroad, Leonard Bendell, a young machinist, left his work early last evening and, quietly entering his home, at No. 1019 Ogden avenue, the Bronx, found his pretty girl-wife sitting on the foreman's lap.

Bendell in a rage shot the man, who is Walter Rich, three times. The young woman, Loretta Bendell, stepped between the men and received another bullet her husband had intended for his rival.

She was wounded in the left breast. Rich was struck in the right lung, the right wrist and the left leg. Both were taken to the Fordman hospital in a serious condition. It was said that Rich might die. The shot in the wrist severed an artery.

"I told him to keep away from my wife!" Bendell shouted as he stood over the unconscious form of the other man when a policeman entered the house. "He pretended to be my friend and tried to fool me."

The young husband offered no resistance to arrest, and walked quietly with his captor, Patrolman Murphy, to the Highbridge station. There he told the police very calmly about the shooting.

"I'm twenty-one," he said, "Loretta is nineteen, and Rich is twenty-four. He's single and boards at One Hundred and Sixty-ninth street and Sedgwick avenue. He seemed such a nice sort of fellow when I went to work for him a few weeks ago, and he was so good to me on the job, that I brought him to my home and introduced him to my wife. She and I are caretakers of a big house belonging to a wealthy man."

The house where the shooting occurred is a veritable mansion. Its owner is George McCaslin, a contractor, who is at present living in a summer home in Asbury Park. The room in which Bendell surprised Rich and his wife was a luxuriantly fitted library.

"We all had several good times together," Bendell went on, "but within the past few weeks I though Rich was paying Loretta too much attention. They had some secrets between them that I wasn't in on.

"Rich every once in a while would give me a night job to do, and I had reason to believe he wanted to get me out of my home so he could go there. I spoke to him about this, but he laughed it off.

"Tonight I made up my mind to find out for sure. I felt so sure of what I would find that I took my revolver to work with me. Then I knocked off early and crawled through a window of the house.

"There they were in one of the big leather chairs in the library with their arms about each other. It was too much for me to look at, so I shot. I didn't want to hurt the girl, but I wanted to get him."

Neither Rich nor Mrs. Bedell recovered consciousness sufficiently to make any statement.

JURY DISAGREED

In the Case of a "Nightrider"

MURRAY, Ky., Aug. 13.—The trial of John Ellis, charged with being a night rider, resulted in a hung jury, all of the other night rider cases have been continued until the next term of court, the prosecution and defense being unable to agree on a case for trial. The grand jury investigation as to the alleged connection of several of the court with night rider bands is being continued. Because of the threats several soldiers dodged their overheard, indicating that an attack on the town of Murray was probable after the present term of court was concluded, a strong patrol will be established in the eastern part of Calloway county.

PUT TO FLIGHT

Minister Gave Band of Whitecaps a Bad Scare

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The Rev. Mervin Jacobs, who was deposed from the pulpit of the Baptist church in Pine Plains for joining the Elks, stood guard with Mrs. Frank Husted in the house of the latter at Pine Plains, each with a loaded revolver, while whitecaps pelted the house with eggs and smeared the piazza with tar and feathers.

Whether the latter were intended to form a garment for the minister is not known, but the determined attitude of Mr. Jacobs, and the fact that he and his hostess were armed, took the raiders by surprise and they dispersed without attempting to force their way into Mrs. Husted's house.

The affair is confirmed by Mr. Jacobs, who is living in this city with his wife and five children and working as an agent for an insurance company.

Mrs. Husted is the wife of a wealthy mining promoter, who is now in Mexico. Her home is almost across the street from the church where Jacobs preached up to a few weeks ago. Her aged mother, young daughter and a maid comprise the family.

Mr. Jacobs said he and his wife have long been friends of Mrs. Husted and that his wife had visited Mrs. Husted several times since they removed to Poughkeepsie. When the minister was at Pine Plains, he called nearly every Sunday to read a synopsis of his sermon to Mrs. Husted's mother, who was too feeble to attend church. There was no more ground than this for village gossip.

In one way, the minister got a hint that trouble was brewing, so he himself stood guard at a front window. Shortly before midnight, he saw a man scan the Husted house closely and then disappear in the darkness. Jacobs is sure this man was Russ Duxbury one of the clerks of the Baptist church, who was most active in having him deposed.

In a few minutes a procession of ghostly figures—a dozen or more—approached the Husted house on tiptoe, each wearing a winding sheet which covered his head. Some carried pots and kettles and others bore bundles containing feathers.

Before the dominie could identify any of the band, a large automobile searchlight was flashed against the house by one of the whitecaps, apparently to make it impossible for a person looking from a window to see the men in the darkness outside. Not a word was spoken. The searchlight revealed the figure of the dominie at the window.

Splash! an egg broke against the house close to the window. Mr. Jacobs moved back out of sight. Then began a fusillade of eggs which gave the house, in daylight, a mottled yellow hue.

Having exhausted the egg supply, the procession began to move forward to the front door. This was the critical moment and the minister met it calmly.

"I'll shoot the first man that puts his foot inside the door," he said. Mrs. Husted had come down stairs at the beginning of the demonstration and stood by the side of Mr. Jacobs, revolver in hand.

The hand of the foremost man fell from the door knob. The second man, holding a kettle of tar, spread the contents on the piazza. Another man emptied a bag of feathers on the tar and then the White Caps took to their heels.

Mr. Jacobs, who is chaplain of Poughkeepsie lodge of Elks, was given a demonstration when he preached his farewell sermon at Pine Plains in June. Locked out of the Baptist church, the town hall was hired and there the dominie preached to 300 Elks and their wives who had gone by special train to hear him. Since removing to this city he joined the Trinity M. E. church and has conducted services in the absence of the pastor.

CHILD KILLED

LITTLE ONE RUN OVER BY A LIGHT WAGON.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 13. — Pelina Ticone, aged three years was run over by a light driving wagon on Wednesday afternoon in front of the family home at 178 Chestnut stret and sustained injuries from which she died shortly afterwards.

The wagon was owned and driven it is claimed, by Horace J. Unwin, the contracting builder. The police state that Mr. Unwin reported the accident to them, that he claimed he saw only one child in the roadway, that he turned to avoid striking that one and in doing so, he struck the Ticone child whom he did not see until she was struck.

The child was picked up by a woman who saw the accident and she carried the victim into the house. Dr. Joseph H. Howard was summoned but the child was so badly hurt that it quickly exdied.

An autopsy will be performed on the body and the police will make an thorough investigation.

QUITS RACING

BURGESS FEELS HE WAS NOT USED FAIRLY.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 13.—Hollis Burgess, the well known Boston yachtsman and clubman who married a Providence girl, Aug. 3, has decided to quit racing on the waters of Narragansett Bay in his crack sloop May Bee.

This decision is the outcome of friction with the officials of the Washington Park Yacht club, who disqualified Burgess' other sloop, Dorothy Q., without giving him a hearing, during the recent regatta.

Mr. Burgess will take the May Bee back to Boston the first of the week, and for the remainder of this season at least will not return. He is thoroughly disgusted with what he believes to be high-handed officiousness on the part of regatta committee of the Washington Park Yacht club.

The Dorothy Q. recently sold by Burgess, was replaced two weeks ago in Narragansett Bay by the May Bee, a crack Herreshoff sloop T. R. Goodwin, president of the Narragansett Bay Yacht Racing association was Burgess' partner on the Dorothy Q. and May Bee.

Now that Burgess will take both boats out of the game here, Goodwin will sail with another Boston yachtsman, Allen C. Jones, on the sloop Nutmeg.

STRAIGHT COURSE

N. Y. Yacht Club to Have Good Run

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—A straightway course of 33 1-2 miles from Wood End, the finger tip of Cape Cod, across Massachusetts bay to Half Way Rock of Marblehead, lay before the yachts of the New York Yacht club fleet as they beat out of the harbor shortly before 9 a. m. today against a stiff southwester.

Once round Long Point, however, it was easy work getting to the starting point and with big reaching headsails in stops the boats jogged about the bay wedge for the starting signals. The course from Wood End of Half Way Rock is north, northwest, which with the wind from the southwest indicated a quick run on the port tack with booms well off to starboard. Such conditions were all in favor of the big schooners with their great press of sail, and the dozen 'two stickers' in the fleet made every preparation for lively work.

The fleet was sent away shortly after 9.30 a. m., and an hour later all the boats had disappeared to the northward.

A DESERTER

TRIED TO SHOOT A POLICE OFFICER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Johann Tackstrom, a deserter from the battleship Rhode Island, now at the navy yard at Seattle, tried to shoot Patrolman Van Winkle while the bluecoat was pursuing him across Chatham square yesterday.

Van Winkle did not halt when the sailor began shooting, but got within reach with his night stick. Then he gave the sailor man a welt on the head that felled him and dissipated his belligerent intentions.

Tackstrom deserted when the Rhode Island arrived at Seattle. He had a little money, and made his way here. He got into a row with some of the fellows he had been treating well, and they told Van Winkle that Tackstrom was a deserter.

When searched at the police station the police found in the deserter's pocket a letter of commendation from Secretary Metcalf, dated Oct. 1, 1907. In it the secretary of the navy complimented Tackstrom on his heroism in jumping from a steamboat on the way from Coney Island to Bridgeport in an effort to save a man who had attempted suicide by jumping overboard.

John J. Sullivan of 71 Bowers street has been granted a permit to make changes and alterations, the estimated cost of which is $200.

$500,000 WINDFALL

Large Sum of Money Left to Reading Woman

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—After having toiled a quarter of a century as bookkeeper in an office laden with the scent of newly-fashioned doors and sashes at 61 North Washington street, Boston, Miss Maria C. Shepard of 10 John street, Reading, will within a few days fall heir to at least $500,000.

Although she is now 45 and has had to support herself all her life, Miss Shepard will not resign her position. Instead she has signified her intentions to her employer, Gerald J. D'Arcy, of continuing her work for him as head bookkeeper.

Miss Shepard had to take legal steps to procure the wealth which will soon be hers. This represents one-seventh of the estate of her uncle, Dr. A. Warner Shepard, late county physician in Brooklyn. Dr. Shepard, who had remained a bachelor until he was 66, surprised his heirs by marrying an attractive young girl, Mary Sniffen Myers, the orphan daughter of a close friend. Miss Myers had been employed by Dr. Shepard as housekeeper.

Dr. Shepard left a fortune estimated at about $3,500,000. He died of morphine poisoning last September, and the circumstances of his death closely following the rather dramatic appearance at his office of a woman who claimed to be his wife, and but one of a variety of sweethearts, proved somewhat of a sensation in Brooklyn.

A coroner's inquest found that the aged physician had died from an overdose of morphine self-administered.

The heirs, whose rights were threatened by the terms of a will which left the bulk of the fortune to the young widow of the testator, at once contested the document. Miss Shepard, the Boston bookkeeper entered her claim as one of the nieces.

It is now announced from New York that by a compromise agreed upon between the heirs out of court the fortune is to be divided, and Miss Shepard expects to get at least $500,000.

The will of Dr. Shepard was executed Aug. 21, 1907. Under its terms, after the death of the widow, the estate was to pass to a brother of the testator, Luther D. Shepard, and to the children of two deceased brothers, Edward O. and Thomas B. Shepard.

Another local heir is Dr. Luther Shepard, a Boston dentist, a nephew. Other heirs are Allen H. Shepard, Edward O. Shepard, Katherine M. Shepard of Newburyport and Edith R. and Ralph L. Shepard, both of Springfield. Ralph Shepard is a lieutenant in the marine corps stationed in Cuba.

Dr. Shepard was an eccentric character. He had a wide and profitable practice, and was identified with the old democratic ring in Brooklyn. Although possessing several millions, he continued in the position of city physician because he enjoyed the duties it involved. He taxed patients according to their means, and gladly treated gratis deserving poor.

Shortly after his death his fine old mansion in the woods was reported to be haunted. There were a variety of stories which told of the spirit of the dead physician roving the rooms of the great house at night, and for a spell the whole country was terrified.

WOMAN STRANGLED

Her Body Was Found by Her Husband

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 13.—With her feet tightly bound together, and a stocking stuffed down her throat, Mrs. Adelaine M. Miller, 49 years old, was found dead last night by her husband a mail clerk, when he returned from work. The face and throat of the woman were discolored from strangulation and she had evidently been dead several hours. The police are searching for a young man who is said by neighbors to have called on Mrs Miller yesterday.

MAN MURDERED

The "Black Hand" is Blamed for the Crime

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Ambushed in a lonely spot known as "Murders Field," on the Lincoln road, Flatbush L. I., late last night, Petro Barilla, a well-to-do hotel keeper of Wood Haven, was attacked and killed by a number of men. Barilla is thought to have gone to the place to keep an appointment, as a letter was found on his person, seemingly written in blood and supposed to have been written by members of the black hand. Barilla rode to the scene on a bicycle and carried a magazine revolver, which he nearly emptied in a desperate defence. Persons nearby heard shots, and rushing to the place, saw men fleeing across the fields. Barilla was found dead with four stab wounds in his breast and back and two bullet wounds. The slayers were evidently frightened away before they could rob the victim if that was their motive, as a large roll of bills and a gold watch were left. The police have taken into custody Antonio Delmarlo, a cousin of Barilla. From several letters found in the dead man's pockets it seems certain that Barilla was a victim of a black hand plot. The police assert that the same band that hacked and hewed a man to pieces several months ago and dumped the dismembered body wrapped in oil cloth near the scene of last night's killing, is responsible for Barilla's death.

THE BIG REGATTA

Attracts Thousands to Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 13.—With the exception of witnessing the greatest aquatic event of the year, thousands of enthusiasts of the sport came pouring into the city today to attend the national rowing regatta, which will be held on the Connecticut river tomorrow and Saturday. Prominent oarsmen from all over the country arrived during the day and found the city in regatta garb. The hotels filled up rapidly and some of the visitors who had not secured accommodations beforehand found some difficulty in obtaining them.

Many of the scullers and crews went to their boat houses early to prepare for practice spins on the river and to familiarize themselves with the course. The river early in the day was somewhat rough from a south wind but gave promise of improving later.

Champion Harry Bennett appeared to be the local favorite for the championship race, although many were of the opinion that Frank B. Greer of East Boston would make a good showing. The visiting oarsmen are expressing their admiration of the Springfield course.

Bandits Believed to be in the Vicinity of Lowell

Mauren Sisters, Dressed in Men's Clothes, Get Food for Them in Lawrence — State Officers Expected to Arrest Girls in a Few Days

The state police of Massachusetts and members of the police force, who have been at work on the Methuen tragedy, are of the opinon that the crime was committed by the Lettish bandits, and that they are at present hiding in the woods somewhere in the vicinity of Lowell and Lawrence. The police claim that they are being supplied with food by the Mauren sisters who have been making nightly trips to Lawrence, dressed in men's clothes and securing food for the outlaws.

The police say that a strict watch is being kept upon the houses which the sisters visit, and where they secure food, and it is hoped that they may make a return within a few days. Officers have orders to arrest the two women on sight.

State Officer Flynn, who has been investigating the case for the state, had a long conference today with Chief Whitney and Deputy Neal in Boston. The case was thoroughly gone over and several theories as to the whereabouts of the outlaw gang advanced. The masquerading of the Mauren girls was the principal topic of discussion, it is said.

The state officers and others working on the case claim that they are badly handicapped in their search of the woods. The Methuen police force they say is small and made up most entirely of special constables who cannot at times leave their regular employment.

METHUEN MAN

Furnishes New Clue in Methuen Murder Case

LAWRENCE, Aug. 13.—A prominent Methuen business man is responsible for the new clue and the story told by him is worthy of close consideration. The informant says that a large gang of Syrians from this city arrived at a small farm on the shore of Mud pond last Saturday and remained there until sometime Sunday night or Monday morning. The camp is rented by two of their fellow countrymen and is located about five miles northwest of peat meadow. These two men have geen living there for some time and have been engaged in raising vegetables. They keep some horses there but as they raise no hay and the neighbors say they have never seen any brought there it is thought probable that the hay they have fed to the equines was taken from the barn at the peat meadow.

Owing to the fact that the late Officer Emerson shot a Syrian about a year ago in a raid in the east part of the town it is now thought by many that these people have waited for a chance to get revenge. The district between the Syrian camp and the scene of the murder is thickly wooded and it would be an easy matter to make the journey to and from the meadow without being detected.

The theory that has arisen since this new clue has come to light is that the stealing of hay and vegetables was merely a scheme to lure the Methuen officers to this lonely spot and get the revenge sought. If this theory proves true it will reveal a plot which will rival anything hitherto brought to the attention of the police authorities of this state.

Since late yesterday afternoon the

Lowell and Fitchburg R. R. Changes Officials

New President and Treasurer Elected, But Supt. Mills Who Made the Road Famous is Re-Elected

The Lowell and Fitchburg railway company, which operates electrics cars between this city, Ayer and neighboring points at a recent meeting of the directors made a radical change in the identity of the officials of the road. Albert L. Remington of Philadelphia, the first president, who started the road has resigned and in his place James W. Green of Gloversville, N. Y., was elected president of the road. The old treasurer, J. Rea Patterson of New York also resigned and in his place Jeremiah Wood of Gloversville, N. Y., was elected treasurer. Both are railroad men of years of experience.

Mr. C. V. Mills, superintendent of the road was unanimously re-elected superintendent and a director of the road.

At the annual meeting Mr. Mills was warmly congratulated by the directors for his successful work for the Lowell and Fitchburg is the only New England street railroad whose receipts this year exceeded those of the previous year. Mr. Mills has been particularly successful in advertising the attractions opened by the road for the public and since he came in control of Whalom park which formerly was seldom heard of in Lowell, has become a popular resort for Lowell people. He has also opened a new and inviting field for excursionists through the medium of the Lowell and Fitchburg railroad.

This will be the first meeting of trainmen of the Pacific division regarding the strike.

STRUCK WITNESS

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—There were many exciting incidents at and after the hearing yesterday in the Bedford avenue police court, Williamsburg, of the disciples of the Church of the First Assembly of Christ, whose building at Willoughby and Tompkins avenues was raided three weeks ago by Police Captain Hughes of the Vernon avenue station after he had received complaints that indecent acts were included in the rites of the sect. At the time of the raid twenty-seven women and six men were arrested. The police gathered in at the same time a double bed couch and several bed spreads. These things figured as evidence in the hearing yesterday.

There were two climaxes. The first was when Miss Elizabeth Robinson, the so-called "bishop" of the sect, said that Magistrate Higginbotham had tried to kiss her in his private room.

The other climax, which came after the hearing had ended, was an attack upon Magistrate Higginbotham by a follower of Miss Robinson and the quick retaliation by the magistrate, who knocked the man down.

Lawyer Joseph M. Callahan represented the disciples and Assistant District Attorney Frank X. McCaffry, the prosecution. The Rev. Malachi Gabriel, through whose complaint the raid was planned, was the first witness. After relating how he had begun to attend the church a year ago he told of alleged indecent acts on the night of April 1, when men and women, after having prayed on the second floor of the church building, went down to the basement, where they went through various manoeuvers to "chase away the dragon."

Gabriel was directed to give an exhibition of the movements, and the manner in which he twisted his body like a contortionist convulsed the court room and caused the magistrate to give a warning that if there was a repetition of the boisterous scenes he would have the court room cleared of the spectators. Gabriel was corroborated in many of his shocking details by Policeman Hirschwitz, who had managed to see some of the rites of the sect.

Miss Robinson when called to the stand sotutly denied the allegations, and declared there had been nothing improper in the rites as carried out by her flock. It was after she had told her story that the magistrate in reserving his decision for an hour adjourned court. Calling Capt. Hughes into his private room he decided to have some of the followers of the faith brought before him in order to learn more of teh inside history of the sect. Among the women who came before him was Miss Robinson. While the magistrate conversed with her two newspaper men and Capt. Hughes were in the room. After Miss Robinson left Magistrate Higginbotham's presence it was alleged that she began to circulate stories to the effect that the magistrate had tried to kiss her in his private room.

This story reached the ears of the magistrate, who was greatly worked up over it. Calling Thomas Dinwiddie, a member of the sect and a close friend of Miss Robinson, to the bar he asked him where he had heard the story. Dinwiddie told him that Miss Robinson had told him about it. Then Miss Robinson was called and she coolly admitted that she spoke about the magistrate having tried to kiss her. Turning to the woman, the magistrate said:

"What? Kiss a thing like you? A dirty keeper of a disreputable house? Kiss a thing like you? You know what I think of you. I told your counsel what I thought of you!"

The magistrate decided to go into an immediate hearing in the case, and Capt. Hughes and the newspaper men denied the woman's allegation. She refused to testify in her own behalf, the magistrate then holding her in $1500 bail for trial in special sessions on a charge of contempt of court, also held her in a similar amount of bail on a charge of maintaining and keeping a disorderly house. Before having her put in the prisoners' pen he again denounced her and her methods, and then calling before him all the men and women who had been gathered in the raid he lectured them for having joined that sect, and let them go. Calling Miss Clarke and the two men, Dunham and Weckersteon, before the bar he told them he would reserve decision in their cases until Aug. 30.

After Miss Robinson had been in the prisoners' pen about an hour her mother appeared to bail her out. When Magistrate Higginbotham started to leave the court room Thomas Dinwiddie asked him if he could not speak with him privately. The magistrate refused, and Dinwiddie struck at him, hitting him in the neck. The magistrate let out his right fist, striking Dinwiddie on the jaw. Dinwiddie fell, and as he did so two policemen rushed forward and picked him up.

Magistrate Higginbotham then rushed back to the bench, at the same time shouting to the policemen to bring Dinwiddie before him. The magistrate then made a charge of assault against him and held him in $1500 bail for examination on Friday. The prisoner later got a bondsman.

FISHING PARTIES

Lowell People Out for Deep Sea Fishing

A party of followers of Izaak Walton enjoyed deep sea fishing off Swampscott today. The party left the corner of Lakeview avenue and Coburn street this morning at 3.45 o'clock on a special electric car in charge of Conductor West and Motorman Williamson. Upon arriving at Swampscott a fishing schooner was engaged and the party started to look for the members of the finny tribe.

DOUBLE SHOOTING

Threw Lawrence in State of Intense Excitement

The city of Lawrence was thrown into a state of intense excitement this afternoon by a shooting affray in an alley off Garden street, in the heart of the Italian colony, in which Mario Magri, aged 55, and his daughter, Annetta, were shot and probably fatally wounded by Salvatore Sicuralla, aged 35 years, who, it is understood, was enamored and passionately jealous of the girl.

The tragedy occurred at the home of the girl, and upon performing his dastardly act her assailant attempted to make good his escape. He was closely pursued by police and civilians and was captured in a cemetery.

The injured couple were removed to a hospital where it was found that the father's wound was particularly dangerous.

News of the shooting spread like wildfire through the city, the report being that one of the Methuen yeggs had committed the deed and had been captured after a long chase. Excitement was rife and there was much talk of lynching, though the police lost no time in getting the prisoner behind the bars.

TODAY A SCORCHER

Hot, isn't it? Yes, it is so hot that you can hardly blame a person for saying that it is hotter than—yesterday.

The thermometers were working overtime today and the mercury rose higher today than on any other day during the year. It must be acknowledged that today wasn't the worst day of the season so far as comfort was concerned, for there were several others that were almost unendurable, but on those days the general humidity was very high, while today there was a good breeze and this made the excessive heat endurable.

When the sun sank in the west last night it was so red that the old timers predicted that we were going to get a scorcher, and when the moon put in an appearance and appeared to be much redder than was the sun, that was a double assurance that there was a hot wave on the way.

Early this morning the weather was fairly comfortable but about ten o'clock the Old Sol got in his work and made it miserable for everybody, especially those who had to work outside under the beaming rays of the sun and those who were working in hot places indoors.

The mercury started to climb and never faltered on its way until it went over the 100 mark shortly afternoon in Merrimack square. That was in the shade. It went much higher in the sun.

At three o'clock this afternoon the thermometer at The Sun in the Sun building, which was in the shade, showed the mercury to be up to 95, while on the opposite side of the street, the thermometer being protected only by an awning, the mercury was up to 107.

A number of employes of the city had to give up work at noon or during the afternoon and a number of people were slightly overcome by the heat. Reports from the local mills showed that a number of employes had to give up work and go home.

The children, especially the young ones, suffered greatly and a number of doctors were kept busy attending the little ones. Mothers did everything possible to secure a breath of air for the littles ones, but those living in the congested districts found it very difficult to care for them.

Elisha A. Millman of 1-2 Dutton St. was overcome by the heat while passing through the South common at 1.30 o'clock this afternoon. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to St. John's hospital.

EX-CHIEF HARRIS

Simon B. Harris does not believe that the Methuen policemen were murdered by yeggmen. "It was a mistake," he said, "to send two men to round up a bunch like that. I fail to see where there is any foundation for the yeggmen theory. A yeggman kills to rob, that has been his history since history was first written. The highwayman or yeggman, whichever you please to call him, would not kill a man in a lonely secluded spot as peat meadow in Methuen and go away empty handed, leaving $214 in the pockets of his victim—I guess not. This talk about the shooting with imported automatic guns is all bosh. I have followed the affair in the papers and I haven't seen a reason given as to why the authorties should have fallen upon the theory that automotic guns, vicious and powerful had been used. It isn't extraordinary that a bullet should pass through a man's body without lodging.

McDermott and Emerson were up against it, that's all there is to it. They were outnumbered and there's no telling but what they may have been shot with their own revolvers."

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—A misrepresentation of the quality and value of the property of the Cuba Exploration company is claimed by Lieut. Gov. Eben S. Draper to be the ground for his refusal to pay the balance of his subscription to $11,250 of the stock, according to his answer filed today in the United States district court in the suit brought against him by the Knickerbocker Trust company of New York.

Lieut. Gov. Draper admits that he put in $3750 into the stock of the company but says he afterwards found that the claims of the agents were not true, and that the Knickerbocker Trust company, which he says stood sponsor for the Cuban company, knew that the property was not as represented.

SEARCH FOR HEADLESS BODY

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13.—Life savers began a systematic dragging of the lake at the mouth of the river today for a headless body, the head of which was found yesterday.

The head of a woman was discovered floating in the river mouth by the crew of a dredge. It had been severed from the body by a knife. The features were well preserved.

METHUEN MAN

work of the police has been guarded with the utmost secrecy and it is said that a thorough search for evidence that might in any way strengthen the latest clue is being made. A posse of officers left the Methuen police headquarters in a great hurry last evening about 6.30 o'clock. After being gone several hours the officers returned empty handed and a lengthy conference with the state officers followed. Nothing was given out concerning the result of the trip but the impression gained was that the chase will be again resumed early this morning.

The Syrians who have frequented the east section of the town have appeared hostile to all members of the police department since the shooting of one of their countrymen and it now seems to be the general opinion that this revenge has been sought for a long time. New developments are expected at any moment and an arrest may be made today.

DEVINE AND GLAVIN DETAINED.

Joseph Devine of this city, who, it is claimed, is a member of the crowd who have frequented the district where the crime was committed, was taken to the local police station last evening and was detained with the state police officers for over an hour. After being closely questioned regarding the case he was held to await further questioning this morning. Word has been received from South Acton that three men have been arrested there on suspicion and that one of them is Joseph Glavin, for whom the local police have been searching. He is also one of the same crowd as Devine and will probably be sent for today by the state police. Several Boston & Northern transfers have been given to the police by several persons who say they were found near the place where the bodies of the murdered men were found. Not much importance is attached to the finding of these as the police do not believe they would have much bearing on the case.

SUSPECT HELD

HE WAS ARRESTED AT READVILLE YESTERDAY.

HYDE PARK, Aug. 13.—A suspect in connection with the murder of the two Methuen policemen was arrested at Readville at noon yesterday. After an examination, during which he admitted that he slept in some woods in Methuen Sunday night, he was turned over to the officers of the Jamaica Plain station.

The man, who gave his name as Max Windelck of Howland Village, New Bedford, had applied for employment at the cotton mill in Readville. Upon being rejected he loitered about the place begging money from the operatives.

He was placed under arrest as a vagrant and brought to the police station here, where he said he was a cotton weaver and that he left his home in New Bedford a week ago Monday for Lowell and Lawrence to look for work.

He claimed to know nothing of the murders.

Monday night, he said, he slept in woods outside of Charlestown, and on Tuesday night he stopped at the Hawkins Street Home, West End, Boston.

He said he had a wife and two children. All he had on his person was a small pocket knife.

The local police do not believe that Windelck is in any way connected with the Methuen tragedy.

The man was locked up at the Jamaica Plain station as a suspicious person. He will be further examined by the Boston authorities today.

THE BANDITS

HAVE AROUSED ACTING GOVERNOR DRAPER.

"I have nothing to say on the matter. There has already been too much talk and too little action to suit me. So you will understand my position when I refuse to do any of the talking," said Acting Governor Eben S. Draper to a reporter last night regarding the conference which took place between him and Chief Whitney of the state police as to the best means of putting an end to the reign of terror which has spread by the desperate bandits throughout the state.

Chief Whitney was equally as unwilling to talk on the subject as the acting governor, but denied the report that the state militia was to be brought into service to round up the desperadoes.

It is known though that the acting governor, aroused by the utter impotency of the police to check the bandits' outbreaks, called Chief Whitney to his office for a conference.

The conference lasted for over an hour and what took place is not officially known. It is reported that the possibility of having companies of state militia in readiness to go quickly to the scene of the next outbreak and of having the state offer a large reward for the capture of the criminals was discussed.

It is believed that the governor's council will soon be called to act on the matter of a suitable reward being offered for the apprehension of the bandits.

Chief Whitney was also assured that he would have the benefit of every facility within the power of the chief executive for the capture of the lawless band.

That the situation now facing the citizens of the eastern part of the state is serious enough for official action by the chief executive of the state has not caused any surprise. Within the criminal annals of the state such an outbreak of lawlessness has never been recorded.

Whenever the governor has felt called upon to act on such matters in the past it has been customary to issue an official statement. This, however, Governor Draper refuses to do. In fact, he refuses to even discuss the matter.

As he informed a reporter yesterday, there has been too much talk on the part of officials and not enough action. So he asked to be excused from further talk on those grounds.

It was learned at the state police headquarters that a general roundup of all tramps and vagrants would be made. A circular has been sent to all the local authorities throughout the state requesting them to inform the state headquarters of all rendezvous for tramps and vagrants in their territory.

In this manner they hope to be able to round them all up and clean the state up from their presence.

DIST. ATTORNEY

SAYS SALE OF FIREARMS SHOULD BE RESTRICTED.

HAVERHILL, Aug. 13.—District Attorney W. Scott Peters of Essex county, who has returned from his vacation for the purpose of investigating the trouble at Methuen, declared last night that the crimes committed there exceeded in atrocity all crimes in Essex county within his memory. He said:

"I should advocate the passing of a statute providing a severe sentence for dealers in firearms who are indiscriminate in their selling. The weapons used by the men in the recent shooting cases are the most dangerous ever invented. Dealers have sold them right and left with no regard for the safety of the public, and the result is that many of these automatic pistols have come into the hands of men of a low and desperate character. These are men who will shoot to kill rather than be caught and have to face the judgment of the law, of which they stand in great fear."

In reference to his intentions that justice shall speedily be accomplished, he said: "While it would not be proper for a police official or a county prosecutor to endeavor to convict a person because of mere suspicion, if arrests are made and the slightest evidence produced, I assure the people of the commonwealth that a speedy trial of the malefactors will be made and a determined effort to secure convictions in order to show the people that lynch law is not a necessity in the east."

GRAFT CHARGED

Work on Whangpu River Stopped

SHANGHAI, Aug. 13.—As was feared would be the case, work on the improvement of the Whangpu river has been stopped pending an investigation of charges of graft in the operations of the river conservancy board, and it is likely that irreparable damage will result. The charges are against the contractors who have been doing the dredging.

Over $5,000,000 has been expended in dredging and in erecting a dam and weir. Hitherto the Chinese government has furnished the necessary funds with commendable regularity.

FUNERALS

HONEY—The funeral of James A. Honey took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock from his home, 30 Waite street. Services were conducted by Rev. Wilson Waters and the bearers were F. L. R. E. A. G., and W. R. Waters, nephews of deceased. Burial was in the Edson cemetery. Undertaker Young had charge.

NOTED WOMEN

Are Mrs Bryan and Her Daughter

Mrs. Bryan is a woman of great literary ability. She has had a college training and studied for the legal profession. She is deeply devoted to her husband's advancement but withal is a home woman who is widely noted for her domestic virtues. Her eldest daughter Mrs. Leavitt is also an accomplished and talented lady.

DROEGE'S ANSWER

DENIES THAT HE UNLAWFULLY RELEASED PRISONERS.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Magistrate Droege yesterday filed his answer with the appellate division to the supplementary charges made against him by the Bar association. The charges accuse the magistrate of unlawfully releasing ten prisoners whom he had sentenced to the workhouse while sitting in the night court and Magistrate Droege makes a general denial of the charges, specifically denies that he unlawfully discharged prisoners or that any of the his judicial acts are grounds for removal.

A copy of the answer was served on Elmar Chrystie, attorney for the Bar association. The charges will heard before William H. Willis as referee. He will report to the court on October 23.

Charges against Magistrate Droege that he attempted to pay for the suppression of a newspaper story relating to the alleged discharge of prisoners are still pending in the Appellate division.

AMERICAN HEIR

Says He Was Cut Off by Fraud

ROME, Aug. 13.—Claude de La Roche Francis, an American, has declared to the king's attorney here that a codicil to the will of his uncle, Marquis Percy de La Roche revoking a legacy in his favor is null and void because it was executed when the marquis was unconscious and dying at the Hotel Allemagne and therefore was unable to realize what he was doing.

Francis declares that the codicil was executed in the presence of an American official who has since died and that previous to his death the official expressed regret that he had interfered in the matter.

Many distinguished persons are involved in the American's charges. His action has produced a deep impression.

COLORED WOMEN

OPENED THEIR CONVENTION AT NORWICH, CONN.

NORWICH, Conn., Aug. 13.—With about two hundred delegates present, representing the colored women of the New England, Middle and some Southern states in attendance, the 12th annual convention of the North Eastern Federation of Women's clubs was formally opened this morning in T. A. B. hall, although the sessions really began yesterday afternoon with the meeting of the executive board. Following the invocation by Mrs. Mary J. Zino of Brooklyn, N. Y., an address of welcome was delivered by Mrs. Ciara A. Burr, of this city. The remainder of the session was devoted to the reading of various reports, including that of the treasurer, Mrs. Julia O. Henson of Boston and a memorial service conducted by Mrs. S. E. Everetts of Albany, N. Y.

The afternoon program included an address by Mayor Lippitt, a response by Miss Mary E. Jackson of Providence, R. I., and the presentation of further reports dealing with the activities of the various clubs composing the federation.

ROBBERS GOT $7000

Daring Burglary Reported at Chesterfield, N. H.

WEST CHESTERFIELD, N. H., Aug. 13.—The local police with the assistance of the sheriff and the county solicitor began an investigation today of the reported robbery of the house of Mrs. Persis Thompson, a widow of this town, who returned home yesterday after a brief visit, and found a door burst in, the house ransacked and property to the amount she claimed of $7000, of which $6000 was in bills, taken from a trunk.

Mrs. Thompson has lived alone for many years in a house on Main street, not far from the post office. She is somewhat eccentric in her methods of living, and on coming away from the house for any length of time, always nails up the doors and windows. She left home on Tuesday to visit her daughter in a nearby town, but as usual she secured all the doors with nails from the inside, nailed up many of the blinds on the lower floor and then crawled out of one of the lower windows.

She returned last night and sent her little grandson into the house through the window. The boy found that one of the doors had been burst open, and then his grandmother rushed into the house and immediately sought her trunk in an upper room.

She came back, and said that five watches, a quantity of jewelry and $6000 in bills had been stolen. The bills she told the police afterwards were secreted in a pillow case, which was placed in a bag, and the latter in the trunk.

The county solicitor and the sheriff were sent for and arrived late last night. The investigation began today, but up to noon the officers had been unable to find anyone who had seen any suspicious characters in the vicinity during Tuesday or Wednesday.

FOUL PLAY IS SUSPECTED

CLEVELAND, O., Aug. 13.—The head of a woman, evidently about 45 years of age, was found floating in the lake near the Breakwater last night. The features are well preserved. Foul play is suspected, and the police have begun a rigid investigation.

BURGLAR CAUGHT

Believed to Be One Who Robbed Asiel Home

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—As Charles Neilson, alias "Frank Nolan," an ex-convict, walked into police headquarters yesterday accused of having been one of two men who on December 5, 1905, robbed the home of Banker Elias Asiel, at No. 15 East Sixty-third street, the story of a twenty-two months' chase was revealed.

It was also disclosed that behind the walls of Sing Sing prison, under the eyes of the guards, the robbing and brutal beating of the banker were planned, and, lending still further interest to the narrative, it was discovered that just two months ago Neilson, counterfeiter and ex-convict, had married, keeping his young wife in ignorance of his past, and determining just before his arrest, to lead the life of an honest man.

Asiel's home was entered in the dead of night. The banker was sleeping. He was aroused suddenly, and gazed down the barrels of two revolvers. He was told to keep quiet. The intruders bound him and asked the combination of the safe in his room. He declined to give it, but after he had been beaten over the head with the butts of the revolvers, he told the men the combination, and they obtained approximately $10,000 worth of jewelry and cash. Not content with this the robbers beat Mr. Asiel into unconsciousness and made their escape, after holding up the butler near the front door of the house.

Mr. Asiel notified Drummond's detective agency, at No. 1 Ann street, and also informed police headquarters. The Drummond people assigned five men "to the job," and the search began.

One of the five, whose name is withheld because he is on the track of a man named Matthews, believed to be Neilson's accomplice, visited Sing Sing prison, knowing that a man named Roble, who had been a butler for Mr. Asiel, was serving time there after having robbed the banker.

Two days before the robbery, Neilson and Matthews had been released after serving a term for counterfeiting.

The Drummond agent found that Neilson, Matthews and Roble had been as chummy as is possible in prison, and he linked this fact with the other circumstances.

Then the real chase began. Neilson was traced to a house uptown, but eluded the sleuths, leaving behind him one-third of the loot, which was returned to Mr. Asiel.

The five detectives sped hither and thither all over the country after Neilson, now getting track of him, now losing the clue. Finally, a short time ago, one of them found him in Poughkeepsie and managed to make his acquaintance. The sleuth and the ex-convict became "pals," and Neilson is alleged to have unburdened himself, telling how Roble, in prison, told him and Matthews just how to get into the Asiel house, just where the safe was, and just about what time would be a safe one for robbing the residence.

Neilson had obtained employment with the New York Central at Port Morris. Apparently he was a respectable, law-abiding citizen. He met a young girl some time before he got the position, and, without letting her know of his past, courted and married her.

The detective says Neilson told him he intended to live a "straight" life and eschew all mention of ill-doing. The sleuth felt sorry for the man, but was compelled to pursue his course of action, and telephoned to police headquarters that he had the needed person. Detectives O'Farrell and Duggan were sent on the case and Neilson was caught and taken to Mulberry street.

Excepting that he gave the information which made possible such a bold and successful burglary, Roble had no hand in the actual crime. Matthews, it is said, will be captured in a short time.

HE LEFT $500

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The police of Hoboken have $500 in their possesion and they are in a quandary as to how to dispose of it, as the man to whom it belonged didn't seem very enthusiastic about getting it back when informed that he had lost it.

Constantine Mykolayevych of Wilmington, Del., came here on Monday night and registered at Meyers's hotel. Yesterday morning he paid his bill and boarded the Kronprinz Wilhelm and started for Europe. A maid found a roll of bills under the pillow in Constantine's room and told Charles Ritter, the clerk.

The steamship people were communicated with by wireless, and just as the vessel was sailing Constantine was located. When told that he left $500 at the hotel he merely shrugged his shoulders and remarked that he "hadn't time to go back for it."

FRANK J. GOULD

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—On the application of Stetson, Jennings & Russell counsel for Mrs. Frank J. Gould, Justice Goff of the supreme court, signed yesterday an order directing Mr. Gould to file today, in the County Clerk's office, his answer to the complaint in Mrs. Gould's suit for divorce.

Henry L. Sprague, appearing for Mrs. Gould, made affidavit that the suit was begun on June 24 last and that on July 27 an answer to the complaint was served on the attorneys for Mrs. Gould by Nicoll, Anable, Lindsay & Fuller, as counsel for Mr. Gould.

No copy of the answer was filed in the county clerk's office, says Mr. Sprague, and in behalf of his client he asked that the court require Gould to file his answer.

Such an application is unusual in divorce suits, though the code provides that where a party to an action has not filed his answer or complaint, as the case may be, within ten days of serving the same, the court can compel him to do so on application by the other side.

The only motive for such an application in this divorce suit is apparently a determination to put Mr. Gould on record as to the facts alleged in his answer. None of the lawyers, when questioned as to Mr. Gould's reason for authorizing such a move, would give any explanation.

Mrs. Gould's complaint was filed in the county clerk's office yesterday morning. As already told, it recites simply that the plaintiff, whose maiden name was Helen Kelly, was married to Gould on December 2, 1901, and that on July 25, 1905, when his yacht, the Helenita, was cruising off North Sydney, Cape Breton, he violated his marriage vows in a disorderly house in North Sydney.

Mrs. Gould seeks the sole custody of the two children, Helen Margaret, aged 6, and Dorothy, aged 4. There is no petition for alimony.

CARPENTER TALKS

American Athlete Discusses the 400 Metre Race

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Twelve American athletes including John C. Carpenter of Cornell university, who was disqualified after finishing first in the 400 metre race at the Olympic game sin London, returned to New York today on the steamer Majestic. In discussing the famous race, Carpenter said that the thought the race should have been given to him. He added:

"I have no recollection of having touched Halswelle at all.

"I am tired of all this talk of British antipathy toward the Yankee athletes. Personally I found some of the English athletes good fellows, and good athletes; but I will admit that I felt keenly the injustice of having been disqualified for alleged unfair tactics.

"I did nothing to warrant my disqualification."

The worst features of the affair, he said were accounts published in the English newspapers on the morning of the race, warning the other runners against the Americans, as though fouls were premeditated.

"That made it look," continued Carpenter, "as though my disqualification had been pre-arranged."

Others of the athletes on board the Majestic included Forrest Smithson J. A. Rector, Harry Hillman, E. T. Cooke and H. A. Gidney of Boston.

THERE WERE TWO EXPLOSIONS

TOULON, Aug. 13.—A preliminary investigation has failed to show the exact cause of the gun explosion on board the school ship Couronne yesterday which resulted in the killing of six men and the wounding of 18 others, but it has been established that there were in reality two explosions, the second being caused by flames from the first igniting a cartridge which a sailor was holding in readiness to re-charge the gun.

The condition of several of the men wounded yesterday is critical.

C. T. A. U. CONVENTION

Reports of Work of Diocesan Unions Submitted

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 13.—More reports of the work of diocesan unions were presented at the morning session of the national convention of the Catholic Total Abstinence union after it was called to order by Rev. Father Coffey, the first vice-president. It was announced that indisposition would prevent the presence of Archbishop Keane of Dubuque, the national president who sent a letter greeting the delegates. The incoming delegates today were from Boston, where they had been attending the sessions of the Federation of Catholic societies. Rev. Father Cullen of Providence, R. I., reported for that diocese, Rev. Father Jordan of Pittston, for the Pennsylvania union, Rev. Father Conaty of Worcester, Mass., for the Springfield diocese, and Rev. Dr. Temple for Delaware. The discussion of Father Conaty's report was a spirited one, for up to this time the reports had been accepted without comment and then Rev. Father McCann of the executive council called attention to the fact that it was the council's recommendation that each report be given consideration. Father White of Germantown, Pa., asked Father Conaty what the Springfield diocese could show as results achieved. He said that in his opinion there was too much talking, too much glowing language sometimes in the reports. Father White said he was afraid the total abstainers were too apt to want to exhibit themselves—referring in this connection to Father Conaty's description of the diocesan field—when there was a parade of five thousand total abstainers, and also a parade of children on the Catholic Temperance Sunday. Continuing Fr. White said that the total abstainers should work more. One thing they should do was to try and stop the practice of the Hibernian order serving beer at their metings and outings.

SIX HOBOS ARRESTED

Supt. Moffatt Made a Raid Upon Them This Morning

Six men, suspected of knowing something about the murder in Methuen, were placed under arrest between five and six o'clock this morning by Supt. Moffatt, Lieut. Connors and Patrolmen McNabb and Ferris. Three of the sextet were located in Indian Orchard, while the other three were found in the rear of the Textile school.

Five of the men were sent to the police station, the sixth having been let go after being put through a rigid cross-examination. The quintet, after being put through the third degree, was released. They were all residents of Lowell and were able to clear themselves of any connection with the crime.

Supt. Moffatt has received many complaints of late about suspicious persons in the suburbs of the city, and the brutal murder in Methuen has caused the housewives to become frightened, especially when these so-called tramps approach the house and ask for alms.

Early this morning the superintendent made up his mind to raid some of the haunts of the hobo, and accompanied by Lieut. Connors left the police station at five o'clock. At the corner of Bridge and First streets they picked up Patrolman McNabb and the trio went to Indian Orchard near the old Lawrence car barn, where they found three men sound asleep. One was released after being questioned, and the other two were sent to the police station.

The superintendent and lieutenant then went through Lakeview avenue and across the Aiken street bridge and passing into Pawtucketville met Patrolman Ferris, and the three went into the woods in the rear of the Textile school and placed three more men under arrest.

When they were brought to the station they told stories which afterwards proved to be true, and they were released.

THE PRESIDENT

To Meet the American Athletes

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—That President Roosevelt will meet and congratulate the American athletes who took part in the Olympic games in London is likely, although the president cannot be in this city to participate in the celebration. A letter from the president to that effect was received by Secretary McLoughlin of the Olympic athletes reception committee. President Roosevelt indicated his pleasure at having been named honorary president of the committee, but said it would be impossible for him to attend the reception. He closed the letter by extending an invitation to the members of the team to come to Oyster Bay where the president said he would be glad to greet them. The reception committee also received a letter from Governor Hughes, saying he would be glad to arrange for the participation of the National Guard in the parade.

CALL ISSUED

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 13.—A call for a meeting of the republican state committee to select a chairman of the republican state convention in New Haven next month was issued today. United States Senator F. B. Brandegee will be asked to preside.

THEY BROKE JAIL

Prisoners Charged With Attempted Murder Escaped

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Aug. 13.—When the officers of the Rockingham county jail made their first rounds today, they found that two prisoners, Luigi Dreprofie, who was awaiting trial for attempted killing and Wm. J. Albert who was also being held for trial for murder, had escaped.

Dreprofie after an assault upon his cousin on July 12 last, attempted suicide and had been placed in a cell in the women's part of the prison and Albert was placed in the same cell as a nurse. The cell is of wood and outside the regular steel cage. The officers found that the two men had sawed the wooden bars, opened a door and gained the street.

There was a turn key on watch during the night but he claimed that he heard nothing.

Albert belongs in Northwoods and was arrested for choking his child to death and an assault upon his mother-in-law with intent to kill.

The entire country within a radius of 20 miles was notified of the escape of the prisoners and it was the opinion of the sheriff that the prisoners would be captured with a short time.

ANNUAL GATHERING

Of the Universal Peace Union Opened This Afternoon

MYSTIC, Conn., Aug. 13.—The Universal Peace union began its forty-second annual gathering at Peace Grove this afternoon the formal opening of the convention being preceded by a preliminary meeting this morning of the officers and workers. The sessions will continue throughout the week with morning and afternoon meetings and included among the speakers are: Dr. Rebecca Moore, Kennett Square, Pa. Charles H. Hastings, Philadelphia; James H. Earle, Boston; Rev. Scott F. Herschey, New Castle, Pa.; Dr. Wm. I. Nell, Swarthmore, Pa.; Dr. Joseph S. Walton, George Schoot, Pennsylvania; Wm. C. Ferris, Wilmington, Del.; President A. H. Love, Philadelphia and Rev. H. S. Baker, Brooklyn, N. Y. The election of officers will occur Saturday.

VARNUM'S LANDING

People Are Scared By Men in the Woods

Varnum's Landing is crying for police protection. The actions of strangers, said to be foreigners, have set the cottagers on edge, so to speak, and while they are looking well to their guns yet they believe that they are entitled to some police protection.

A man who lives at Varnum's Landing gave out the story today that a hatless foreigner with a hard cruel face and wearing badly and suspiciously soiled clothing called at his house yesterday and asked for a hat. The man said he had no hat to give him. Upon being refused the hat the stranger asked: "Did you ever have your barn burned?"

"No," replied the Varnum's Landing man, "I never had my barn burned."

"Well, I will burn the barn," said the hatless stranger and he strode off to the woods.

Yesterday morning a pack 'peddler was held up at Varnum's Landing. A fellow bobbed up out of the bushes and confronted him in the road. He had a razor that he wanted the pack peddler to buy. The peddler said he did not want the razor.

"Then give me some money, and give it quick," said the highwayman.

The pack peddler said he gave him 50 cents and told him that was all he had. The highwayman accepted it with an oath and disappeared in the bushes. The police will investigate these stories.

ADMIRAL SPERRY

Wires President About Fleet's Reception

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt has received the following cablegram from Admiral Sperry, commander-in-chief of the American Atlantic fleet, now at Auckland, N. Z., on its way round the world:

"The government and people of New Zealand are according the fleet a remarkably enthusiastic and cordial reception. The prime minister and other members of the executive council, acting for the people of the Dominion, have presented President Roosevelt through me a beautiful token and message of admiration and regard for him and his life's work, concluding with an earnest and cordial invitation to him to visit New Zealand."

The president today sent a cablegram to Admiral Sperry in reply as follows.

"Oyster Bay, N. Y., Aug. 13, 1908.

"Admiral Sperry, Auckland, N. Z.,

"Am greatly pleased with your telegram. Please convey to the prime minister my hearty thanks and the expression of the sincere regard, friendship and admiration which the people of this country entertain for the people of New Zealand. Extend my congratulations to the fleet.

"Theodore Roosevelt."

AIRSHIP TESTS

Signal Officers to Count Yesterday's Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The board of signal officers, appointed Brig. Gen. James Allen, chief signal officer, to conduct the airship tests at Fort Myer, met today to act upon the first speed trial made by Captain Baldwin's airship yesterday. Yesterday's flight will be counted as one of the three speed trials which Captain Baldwin is allowed, although the board declared that the conditions under which the trial was made gave no opportunity for making speed.

Another official speed trial will be held this evening, if weather conditions are favorable.

SUPPOSED FAIRY

TURNS OUT TO BE A DWARF MAN.

DUBLIN, Aug. 13.—The supposed Leprechaun, or green-coated fairy, who has terrified the children for the past two months, has been captured by two policemen in a wood near Killough and taken to the Mullingar Workhouse.

This modern specimen of ancient little people of Ireland proves to be a dwarfish man, who eats greedily, but does not talk, answering questions put to him with grunts and squeals.

JAPANESE ARMS

Were Not Seized Say Officials

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—Up to noon today the foreign office had received no information regarding the reported seizure at Chin Chou by the Chinese authorities of a steamer having on board ten thousand rifles and 3,000,000 cartridges. Neither has there been received any report of a seizure of Japanese arms elsewhere.

Shanghai specials in the Japanese newspapers this morning report the seizure of two Japanese sailing vessels loaded with arms and ammunition.

The report is discredited here and the foreign office has authorized the Associated Press to positively deny it.

NO. CHELMSFORD

GALA DAY OF ST. JOHN'S T. A. SOCIETY.

The gala day of St. John's T. A. society at McCabe's field, North Chelmsford on Saturday promises to be the banner outdoor event of the season and all that is needed to make it a grand success is good weather. Judging from the manner in which the entries for the events on the program of sports are coming in, this feature will be an event in itself. All the leading athletes of Lowell and the neighboring towns have signified their intentions of competing and all the well known rivals will be arrayed against each other. The ball game between the St. John's and St. Patrick's Sanctuary Choir will be for blood, and the North Chelmsford sports will back their team heavily against the Acre boys. The St. John's team will be strengthened for the occasion. In the evening, when the day's sports are done, dancing will be enjoyed in St. John's hall. Numerous side attractions will be in evidence and if the plans now under way are carried out, and they will be, Saturday's event will eclipse all others that have been conducted this season.

ON THE BIBLE

SEVERAL ADDRESSES AT NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE.

NORTHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 13—The Northfield conference continued today with interesting addresses on the Bible, Dr. A. G. Pierson, and Dr. J. Stewart Holden of London speaking on the Psalms, and Dr. W. L. Watkinson, also of London, on the Book of Revelations. Dr. R. A. Pearry of Montrose, Pa., also spoke briefly.

During the afternoon there was a conference ball game between the Methodists and the Congregationalists, the former team having defeated the Baptists yesterday.

CANDIDATE TAFT

Will Not Attend the Conference

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—William H. Taft has written to the committee having in charge the arrangements for a national conference of the unemployed to be held in this city beginning Sept. 25, that he will not be able to attend the conference.

Invitations to address the conference were sent to William J. Bryan and Thomas L. Hisgen, the Independence party nominee. The latter accepted the invitation. Mr. Bryan has not been heard from as yet.

BODY RECOVERED

The Last of Victims of Drowning Accident

Lake Mascuppic, so far as is known, has given up the last of her dead. The body of the second man who was drowned from a boat Monday afternoon was found by Mr. McDonald of Lakeview about 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

The body of the man who was first recovered at Lakeview yesterday and which was taken to Higgins Bros.' undertakers, Lawrence street, was identified in the afternoon by Officer David Hogan as that of Thomas Clitheroe, a weaver who roomed in the Columbia house in East Merrimack street and who had been missing since Monday morning.

The body recovered at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon has been identified as that of Harry Moon of 78 Coburn street.

BABY IS MISSING

Body of Mother Found in River

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The finding of the body of Mrs. Nellie Hanna yesterday in the North river revealed a story of marital unhappiness that is believed to have caused her to seek death as an end to hopeless strife. That Mrs. Hanna consigned her baby daughter, May, seven weeks old, to the same fate, is the opinion of the police, though no trace of the baby's body was found yesterday.

It is known that Mrs. Hanna had the baby with her when she left her home at No. 846 Eleventh avenue, last Tuesday evening, ostensibly to arrange to break up housekeeping.

That the mother had the child in her arms when she leaped into the river—though no one saw her—is the belief of detectives who worked on the case yesterday.

The Hannas were married on March 5, 1907. Both had been married before, and Mrs. Hanna had two children by her former marriage—five-year-old Francis, and Eleanor Vivian, twenty-two months old. Mr. Hanna had one child, a boy. The marital differences were mostly regarding the children.

Mr. Hanna, who was employed at night, found fault with the continual noise made by his step-children. They interfered with his sleep, and he insisted that Mrs. Hanna's mother, Mrs. Sheehan, should be banished from the house.

The bickerings between husband and wife from these causes were constant, neighbors said. Mrs. Hanna is said to have told her husband that if it was a choice between him and her mother, she would choose the latter. Mrs. Sheehan said her daughter often exclaimed:

"Oh, I would rather drown myself than live this life of continual dissension."

When Mrs. Hannna left home Tuesday night she told her mother she was going to the West Forty-seventh street station to see about having the children committed to an institution. That was the last time anyone who knew her saw the unhappy woman alive.

Coroner Schultze yesterday found a sharp cut on the upper part of Mrs. Hanna's forehead, and for a time it was thought she might have been murdered, but an autopsy showed that death had been caused by drowning. Mr. Hanna claimed the body for burial and the coroner gave a permit for its removal.

DEATHS

CRAIG—Frank Craig, aged 9 years, 8 months, died today at the residence of his parents, 102 Bourne street. He is survived by his parents, three brothers, Malachi, Joseph and Thomas, and two sisters, Mary and Helen.

FUNERAL NOTICES

SMALL—Died in this city, Aug. 12, Mrs. Ella M., widow of George W. Small, aged 54 years. Funeral will be held from 5 Loring street, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Friends invited. Burial private. Undertaker G. W. Healey in charge.

WELCH—Alice Welch, aged one year and seven months, child of James and Margaret, died last night at the home of her parents, 67 Perry street. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and will be under the direction of funeral director J. F. Rogers.

AMERICAN TEAM

Defeated by the Auckland Team

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 13.—Rear-Admiral Sperry, commander of the American battleship fleet, and the 200 officers who made the trip into the Maori county were present yesterday afternoon at the dedication ceremonies of a Maori house. Later a number of Maori women guided the American visitors to witness the Thermal wonders. Admiral Sperry himself applied soap to the big geyser—it will not erupt otherwise—and the explosion that followed was magnificent. The steaming water was thrown to a height of 20 feet. The admiral and the officers with him entered heartily into the various native ceremonies. They wore mats and carried in their hands ancient weapons of the Maori tribe.

The American rifle team suffered defeat at the hands of the city of Auckland team owing to the fact that they have had very little practice in long distance land shooting.

The store ship Gracia and the collied Ajax have arrived. They were delayed by rough weather. The three other colliers have not yet been sighted.

A PRIZE FIGHT

Added to Gaiety of Trip Abroad

PLYMOUTH, Eng., Aug. 13.—The passengers on board the White Star liner Teutonic, which arrived here yesterday from New York, in addition to the diversions which are usually incidental to a transatlantic voyage, had the unique privilege of witnessing a real prize fight.

The principals were two passengers, an American and an Englishman, Fred Nolan of Washington, and Henry Duval, of London, and the excited spectators were practically everybody on board ship.

The cause of the contest was that subject of so much strong talk and heated partisanship—the Olympic games.

During the trip there had been much ill-feeling between Nolan and Duval over the results of the Olympiad, and always the argument ran high over the respective merits of the English and American athletes.

On Sunday the discussion reached boiling point and the two men almost came blows. Both Duval and Nolan have strong religious convictions and out of deference to the Sabbath they agreed to curb their tempers for the time.

Then some one in the smoking room suggested that there was no better way of settling the vexed question of national superiority in sports than by putting up the two men as representatives of their respective countries and having them fight it out. The proposition was put to Nolan and Duval, and they literally jumped at the chance.

Still the Sabbath calm held them back and it was agreed that they should meet for a seven-round fight on Monday morning at 6 o'clock.

Everybody was up bright and early on Monday morning. A ring was formed on the after deck and the passengers crowded to the ringside. A San Franciscan acted as referee and the Marquis of Queensbury rules were read to govern the contest, except that no gloves were used.

Both men fought like tigers. The first round was in Duvals' favor and the second closed with Nolan's eyes in mourning. In the third round Duval's nose was pulverized and he bled freely. Recovering, however, Duval planted a jab on Nolan's beak and it was a question which looked the worse.

The fourth round saw Duval getting rapidly weak, and he was saved by call of time. Nolan came lightly to the scratch in the fifth, rushed at Duval and with a trip-hammer jolt caught Duval on the point of the jaw, and the Englishman went to sleep.

Both men showed unmistakable evidences of the affray when they landed here, and all the passengers agreed that it was as pretty and game a fight as they ever expected to see.

THE "BIG STICK"

Bryan Does Not Believe in it

FAIRVIEW, Lincoln, Neb., Aug. 13.—Several hundred farmers from Otoe county, Nebraska, headed by H. P. Hanks of Nebraska City, who came to Lincoln, to attend the notification ceremonies, rode out to Fairview today and presented the democratic nominee with a "big stick" gourd. They also handed him a campaign contribution of $50 subscribed by 50 of their number. In accepting the gourd and the contribution, Mr. Bryan assured his visitors that if elected to the presidency the "big stick" would not be in evidence, believing it was easier to lead people through their love than to control them through their fears.

HELD A PICNIC

Members of Cavalry at Nabnasset

The members of the Spalding Light Cavalry association held their first picnic since their organization at Nabnasset grove today. The military band of Nashua furnished music and dinner was served by the D. L. Page Co. A goodly number of Lowell people attended the picnic going by trolley by way of the Fitchburg line. Barges met the electric cars and transported the picnickers to the grounds.

The outing was for members of the association and their invited friends and was not a public picnic. The day was all that could be desired and the affair was a very happy one.

MINISTER RETURNS

OWING TO TROUBLE WITH VENEZUELA.

THE HAGUE, Aug. 13.—The minister of marine cut short his summer holiday and returned here today in order to be on hand should developments in the Caribbean growing out of the difficulty between the Netherlands and Venezuela.

GRAND TRUNK FLYER

Ran Four Miles Without a Guiding Hand

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., Aug. 13.—With Engineer Charles Strang, lying injured alongside the track and the fireman busy on the back of the tender, the Grand Trunk flyer, westbound, ran four miles yesterday afternoon with no guiding hand at the throttle and with the 200 passengers in the coaches calmly gazing out the windows, ignorant of the fact that they were riding on a runaway train. Finishing his work on the tender, the fireman returned to the cab to find the engineer's seat vacant. The fireman brought the train to a stop and backed it up until the engineer was found lying beside the track with his left arm and left leg broken, one shoulder crushed and his skull fractured. It is supposed that the engineer lost his balance in leaning from the window or gangway to look for a hot box.

He was taken to Nichols hospital here where it was said there was a chance that he might recover.

Man Locked in Store Helped Himself to Goods — Boston Girl Arrested Here

That Patrick Maguire was not fined for contempt of court in police court this morning was due to the leniency of Judge Pickman, who occupied the bench. Maguire, who was charged with assault and battery on Frederick T. Lelacheur, proved to be one of the most voluble witnesses who ever testified in police court and his habit of interrupting witnesses, making statements when he should have kept quiet, caused the court to caution him to remain silent until it was his turn to testify. But it was impossible to keep Maguire still and the court's patience was nearly exhausted at the conclusion of the case.

At one time during the trial it looked as though Maguire's temper would get him into serious trouble for after uttering an oath he made a rush towards the complainant, but was stopped by officers before he could do any harm.

Lelacheur, who is employed by a truck gardener, found Tuesday afternoon that he had been "stuck" on his load of provisions, that is, he was unable to dispose of it at the market value, and rather than take the goods back, was willing to sell them at a reduced rate. While in the vicinity of Hosford square he met Maguire and the latter agreed to purchase a box of tomatoes for 75 cents.

Lelacheur and Maguire drove to the latter's house in Newhall street and after the complainant had delivered the vegetables he was given a dollar bill. He was unable to change it, but went to a store across the street and secured the change. As he was counting the change out to Maguire a nickle dropped through a crack in the doorsteps. Lelacheur wanted to get a hammer and remove one of the boards, but Maguire refused to allow that to be done, claiming that it would destroy the property. Lelacheur then said that Maguire could keep the box in which the tomatoes were until he came around later in the week with the nickle. Maguire did not like this proposition and grabbing Lelacheur by the throat started to choke him.

After Lelacheur had testified, Maguire was given a chance to ask questions. He started with a rush towards the complainant and when the latter stepped back Maguire said: "I'm not going to hit you. I choked you the other afternoon because you tried to break up my house, but I won't touch you now."

After Maguire had made statements instead of asking questions of the complainant, the court informed him to just ask questions and that he would be given a chance later to make a statement.

He then started to ask questions, but one answer given by Lelacheur evidently did not suit him and running towards Lelacheur he uttered an oath. Maguire did not get far, however, before Lieut. Downey and Court Officer Goodwin had hold of him.

Judge Pickman then told Maguire that he would have to punish him for contempt of court if he did not desist.

Maguire's defense was that Lelacheur wanted a hammer to break up "the whole shooting match" evidently meaning his house.

He was fined $4, appealed and was held under $200 bonds for the superior court.

BOSTON VISITOR ARRESTED.

Frances Allen, an attractive young woman, who claims Boston as her home, was arrested in Middlesex street last night by Patrolman Sheridan. The latter said she was drunk and using profane language. She said that she came to this city a couple of weeks ago and acknowledged she had been drinking last night, but wasn't drunk. She was fined $5.

Mary E. Thyer a second offender, was taxed $6.

LARCENY FROM STORE.

William E. Lawrenceson was arraigned in court this morning on a complaint of breaking and entering and larceny. It is alleged that Tuesday night he either accidentally or intentionally got locked in the store of the Thompson Hardware Co., at the corner of Merrimack and Shattuck streets, and before leaving he stole five razors valued at $3.50 each, 16 at $2.50 each, 10 at $1.50 each, and four pair of scissors, each of the value of $1.00. He pleaded not guilty and was ready for trial but at the request of the government the case was continued till next Tuesday.

FOR NON-SUPPORT.

John B. Morin was charged with failing to provide support for his wife and minor children and pleaded not guilty. Mrs. Morin said that her husband only works now and then and for the past 19 months he has contributed but little towards her support. Morin said that if his wife would treat him as she should he would do better. He was found guilty and sentenced to three months in jail.

STUBBORN CHILD.

Arthur Vaillancourt, aged 17 years, pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with being a stubborn child.

Mrs. Vaillancourt, who resides at 44 Mammoth Road, testified that her son stayed out nights and gave her but little money when he is working, but he does not work half the time.

The defendant testified that he had been looking for work, but was unable to find any. He also accused his mother of ill-treating him.

He was placed in the hands of the probation officer.

ASSAULT CASE.

Michael Gumvitz and John Bliczka pleaded not guilty of assault and battery on Thomas Budrewicz. According to the testimony offered the three met in a saloon in Gorham street Saturday night about eight o'clock and that John cracked Thomas' head with a club while Mike added a few punches for luck. The defendants were represented by J. Joseph O'Connor and Dennis J. Murphy appeared for the government.

At the conclusion of the cause both were found guilty and Bliczka was fined $27 and Gumvitz $8.

FELL FROM CAB

Locomotive Fireman Fatally Injured

SOUTH NORFOLK, Conn., Aug. 13.—Amos McCarthy, a young locomotive fireman and just married, fell from the cab of his train at East Norwalk and Westport last night and struck on a fence of pickets, which penetrated his kidneys. He was taken to Norwalk hospital, where he died several hours later.

His home was at 147 Ann avenue, New York.

Are Out for 6000 Steel Cars

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The Harriman roads are in the market for 6000 steel cars. No order has been placed, but the car equipment companies have been notified that this amount represents the total of an early purchase by the Harriman lines, and for more than half of the cars there have been filed specifications on which the equipment companies may base their bids. Competition between the companies is said to be keen, for the order, if filed, will be altogether the largest since the panic.

For just what Harriman lines the cars are wanted has not been made known. Three of these lines, Union Pacific, Southern Pacific and Illinois Central, have put themselves in funds by the sale of securities and are in position to make extensive purchases. Some of the orders it is thought, will be placed by the Harriman Mexican line, which closed a contract last week for 20,000 tons of steel rails. That order, like the equipment order is the largest of its kind since the panic.

The estimated cost of the 6000 steel cars ranges all the way from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. It is expected that the lower figure will prove nearr correct for the reason that the competition between the car equipment companies may result in a cut price.

AUNT'S JEWELS

Tempted Chicago Girl to Steal

HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 13.—In payment for the delightful entertainments and good times provided for her while here on a visit, Miss Mary Barry, the pretty 17-year-old daughter of Thomas Barry, 326 East Chicago avenue, Chicago, who operates the Barry lines of steamboats in that city, Tuesday night went to the jewel case of her aunt, Miss Jane Welsh, 90 Bond street, whom she had been visiting, and stole two handsome diamond earrings, valued at $300. When she tried to sell them for $15 and then for $5 she was arrested, but in chambere yesterday Judge Walter Clark, after learning the circumstances and assuring himself of the prisoner's respectability, suspended judgment, placing her in the care of Probation Officer Frank Arnold, who saw that she left for Springfield on her way home last evening.

For some time Miss Barry has been staying with her aunt and she and her cousin have been extensively entertained and the visitor met some of the best people in Hartford, with all of whom she made a most pleasant impression, being clever, witty and good company.

Yesterday, for some reason which she herself is unable to explain, she stole the jewels and immediately attracted the expert eye of the salesman of Lux, Bond & Lux, to whom she endeavored to sell them. When he remarked on their rarity she colored and offered them for $5, which aroused his suspicions. While she was awaiting Detective Henry Hart arrived and on the way to the station she confessed to stealing from her aunt and hostess. In the police station she wept bitterly when locked up in the women's section. She was later released on bonds. hoaUffisomeandrriving

Contest for Next Year's Gathering

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—An interesting contest for the honor of entertaining next year's convention of the International Typographical union was waged today at the session here of the Union, between Minneapolis, St. Joseph and Seattle. The convention received special invitations to come to St. Joseph from the mayor of that city and also from Governor Folk of Missouri and similar invitations to make Minneapolis their selection from Governor Johnson of Minnesota and Mayor Haynes of Minneapolis, while a number of business men in Seattle sent telegrams urging the claims of that city.

It was expected that at the session last night for the celebration of the 60th anniversary of the Boston union the speakers would be John Mitchell of the National Civic League and Gifford Pinchot, the United States Forester.

The stereotypers and electrotypers also held business sessions during the day while the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary union visited Concord and Lexington.

A SUICIDE

RICH RANCH OWNER KILLED HIMSELF.

CORDELE, Ga., Aug. 13.—A special to the Dispatch from Alamo, Ga., tells of the suicide there at noon yesterday of H. G. Rogers, aged 50, a saw mill and ranch owner and capitalist, of Boston, Mass. It is believed that Mr. Rogers' mind had become deranged from brooding over the death, about two weeks ago, of his business partner, C. L. Ordway.

He placed a shot gun at his head and blew the top of it off. He leaves a widow and a son in Boston.

The remains will be sent there for burial.

BET OF $6000

HAS BEEN PLACED ON A WOOD-CHOPPER.

AMSTERDAM-IN-THE WOODS, Vt., Aug. 13.—This section has become enthused over the news received here from New York that a popular townsman, whose summer home is here, has made a wager that a Windsor Vermonter can chop, split and pile up a cord of wood in one day.

Maxwell Evarts, chief counsel for the Southern Pacific railroad, whose office is in New York city, wagered $5000 with Charles H. Treat, U. S. treasurer, and $1000 more with some New York senators that a Vermont man can do this wood chopping stunt. The trial is to take place here in September, and preparations are under way for the reception of 20 prominent United States officials, who will come here by special train.

If the Vermonter fails, the visitors will have a great day while the task is under way. There will be tents in which will be served hard cider, pumpkin pies, apple pies and a lot of other good things for which the Green Mountain state is famous.

READ THIS

"It is astonishing," remarked a well known authority on Diseases of the skin, "how such a large number of people, especially ladies, are by attractively written advertisements, induced to purchase some one of the many so called Beauty Creams now on the market, not knowing of course that they mostly contain oily or greasy substances that clog the pores of the skin and are for that reason the very worst thing that they could possibly use. My treatment of Pimples, Blackheads, Blotches and all eruptions of the skin, are as follows and has invariably proved very successful. Wash the face carefully every night before retiring with warm water and a little oatmeal tied up in a small cloth bag, then after drying well, use the following inexpensive and perfectly harmless prescription which can be filled at any Drug Store: Clearoia ½ oz. Ether 1 oz. Alcohol 7 ozs. Use this mixture on the face as often as possible during the day, but use night and morning any way, allowing it to remain on the face at least ten minutes, then the powdery film may be wiped off. Do not wash the face for some little time after using. By following this simple treatment you will soon have a clear and brilliant Complexion."

"BLACK HANDER"

Failed to Make His Appearance

HAVERHILL, Aug. 13.—Five hundred people waited in Washington square for two hours last night to see whether the author of a "Black Hand" letter sent to John J. Carrigg, proprietor of a lunch room and laundry, would carry out a threat to shoot him "down in cold blood" for failure to deliver up $100.

The letter stipulated that Carrigg should be at the fountain in the square at 8 o'clock last evening prepared to hand over the money.

The penalty for the failure to bring the money was to be immediate death upon the spot.

Carrigg notified his friends, many of whom armed themselves and waited at the fountain with him, while the policemen, armed, were numerous in the crowd.

Nothing happened, however, and about 8.30 Carrigg and his friends retired from the square and the crowd dispersed.

Placed on the North Common Yesterday

A new drinking fountain was put in position on the North Common yesterday afternoon. The fountain is directly opposite the Morrill school and will be very handy for the people that use the short cut through the school yard to get to Adams street. The new location will also be quite useful for the ball players, as it is between the two best diamonds on the common.

The fountain is one of the two faucet style somewhat similar to the one in Monument square.

BALLOON RACE

To Be Run Under Novel Conditions

All arrangements for the big balloon race from North Adams on Friday afternoon are now complete, and with a fair day and favorable winds the contest, which will be the first point-to-point balloon race ever held in this country, promises to be the event of the season locally.

Mayor F. D. Stafford of North Adams has consented to act as official starter, and he will see to it that each pilot in charge of a racing balloon announces before he leaves the starting grounds the place where he intends to land. According to the rules of the race this place must be at least 30 miles from North Adams to entitle the winner to the cup which A. Holland Forbes of New York, the noted aeronaut, has offered as a trophy.

The following are the nearest places at which pilots will be allowed to land, and the one landing nearest to the postoffice in any one of these places will be adjudged the victor, provided the landing is within 10 miles of the building.

From north to northeast—Manchester, Vt.; Manchester depot, Bondsville, Rawsonville, Winhall, Jamaica and Westboro station.

From northeast to east—Newfane, Vt.; West Dummerston, Vernon and South Vernon, Vt.; West Northfield, Mass.; Mt. Hermon and Northfield, Mass.

From southeast to south—Haydenville, Leeds, Westhampton, Norwich, Littleville, Huntington, Blandford, North Blandford, East Otis and Otis.

From south to southwest—West Becket, Tyringham, South Lee, Stockbridge, Glendale, West Stockbridge Centre, Mass., Austerlitz and North Concord, N. Y.

From southwest to west—Kinderhook, N. Y.; Schodac, Multzeskill, Castleton and Greenbush, N. Y.

From west to northwest—West Troy, Cohoes, Mechanicville and Stillwater, N. Y.

From northwest to north—Sandgate.

The first balloon is not scheduled to leave the grounds before 1 o'clock. The remaining four balloons which have been entered will go up at intervals of 15 or 30 minutes thereafter. In order to enable the pilots to judge the direction of the wind currents, pilot balloons will be sent up from time to time before the race.

The citizens of North Adams generally are co-operating with the members of the North Adams Aero club, under whose auspices the race will be held, to make the occasion a memorable one. Owing to the fact that the grounds of the Aero club are not spacious enough to accommodate more than the members and those engaged in the inflating of the balloons, the Merchants' association has appointed a committee to meet incoming trains and trolleys for the purpose of directing visitors to vantage points from which to view the start of the race.

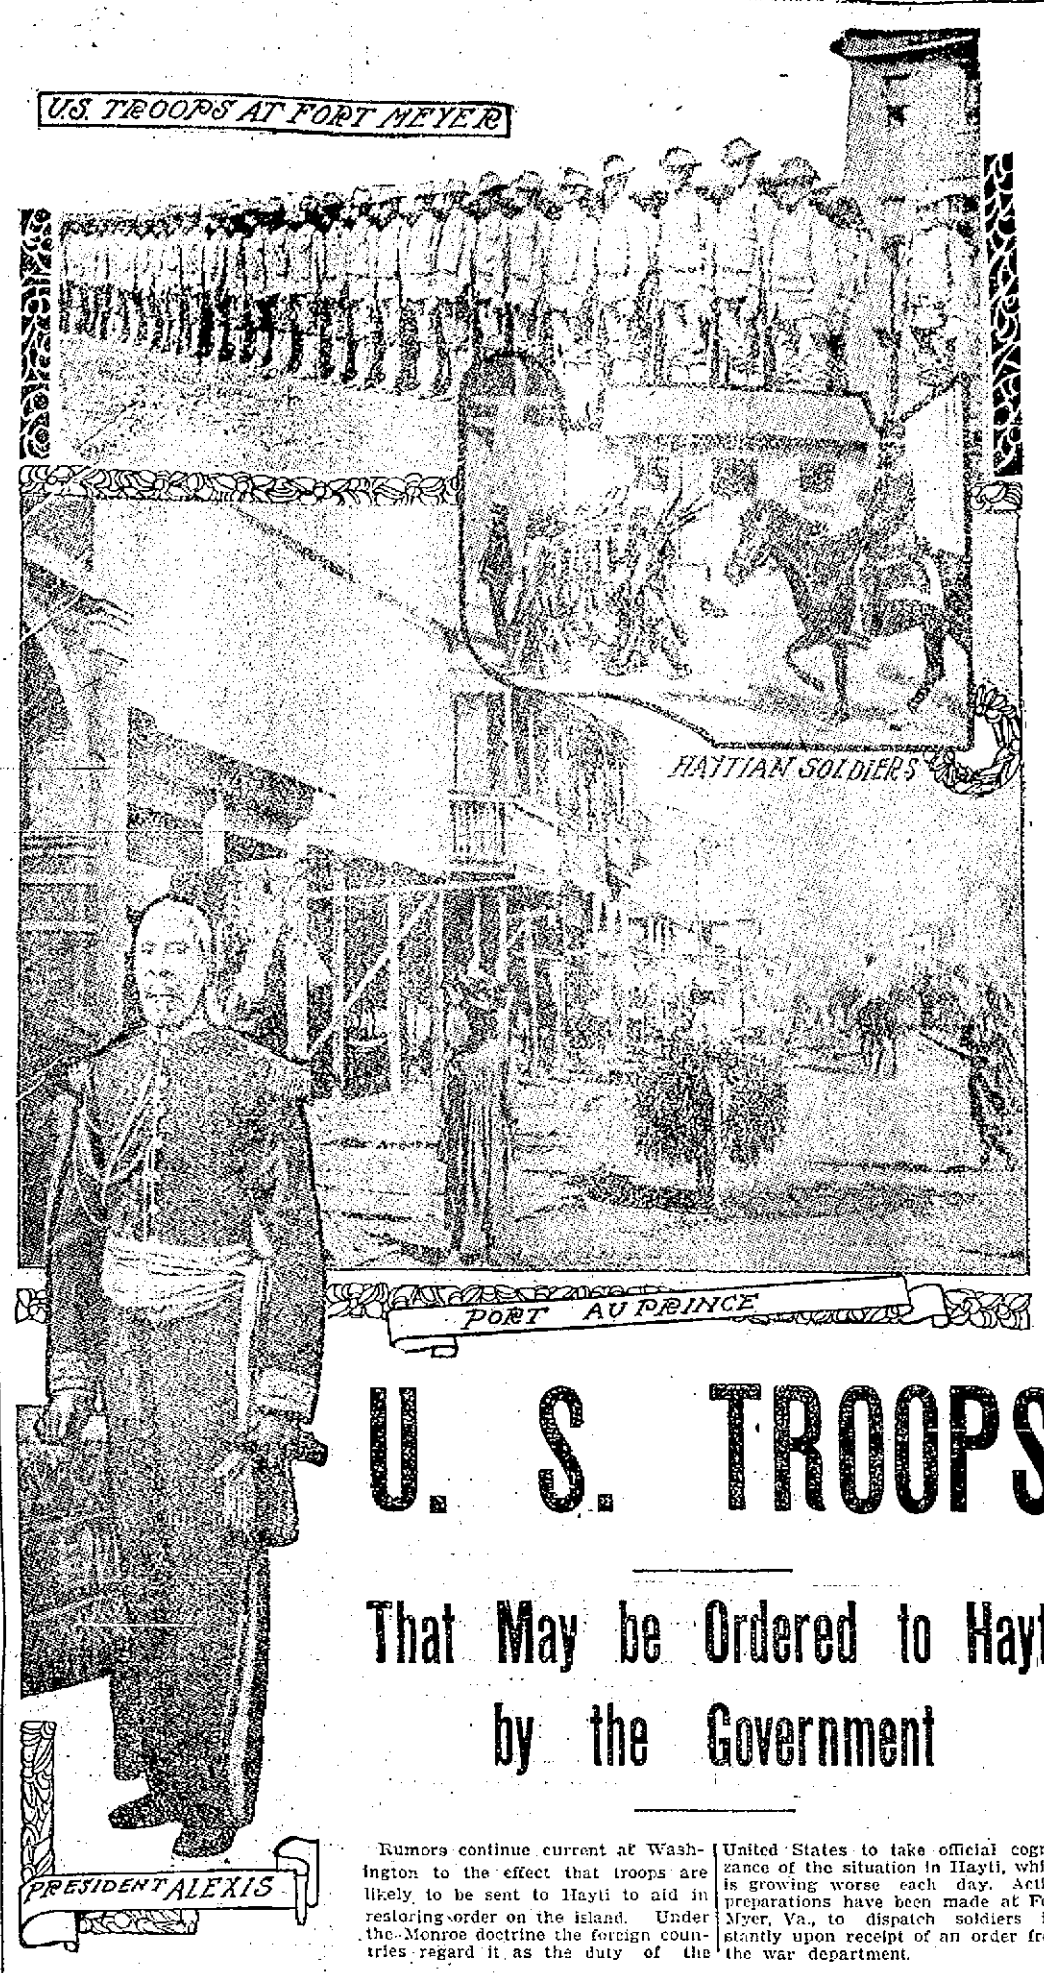

Richmond hill and the hill to the north of the grounds just across the river are probably the best places in the city from which to view the race, as it is possible from those elevations to look down directly upon the starting ground, to view the process of inflating the immense gas bags, of attaching the baskets with the pilots and their friends inside and the ascensions. It is also possible from these points to follow the various balloons in their flight for a much longer time than from the immediate vicinity of the starting grounds.

A feature of the occasion will be the distribution of 10,000 souvenir postal cards representing former balloon flights from North Adams.

THE ORANGEMEN

MAY MAKE THEIR FINAL ADJOURNMENT TODAY.

SOUTH MANCHESTER, Conn., Aug. 13.—With most of the business completed, it was expected when the supreme grand lodge of Orangemen of the United States met today that final adjournment would be taken late this afternoon after the election and installation of officers.

U. S. TROOPS

That May be Ordered to Hayti by the Government

Rumors continue current at Washington to the effect that troops are likely to be sent to Hayti to aid in restoring order on the island. Under the Monroe doctrine the foreign countries regard it as the duty of the United States to take official cognizance of the situation in Hayti, which is growing worse each day. Active preparations have been made at Fort Myer, Va., to dispatch soldiers instantly upon receipt of an order from the war department.

KING EDWARD

TO TAKE THE WATERS AT MARIENBAD.

ISCHL, Aug. 13.—King Edward left for Marienbad, where he will take the waters this morning. Emperor Francis Joseph, who displayed wonderful activity during King Edward's visit, was at the railway station to bid his royal visitor farewell.

PRES. ZAYAS

RESIGNS AS A CANDIDATE FOR PRESIDENT.

HAVANA, Aug. 13.—At a meeting held last night of the executive committee of the Liberal party, Alfredo Zayas tendered his resignation as a candidate for the presidency of the Republic and also as president of the Liberal party. The first was accepted, but the latter was refused unanimously.

MEDIATION BOARD

HAS CONFERENCE WITH HEAD OF TELEGRAPHERS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—A series of important conferences was begun yesterday and probably will continue for several days between Chairman Knapp of the interstate commerce commission and Commissioner of Labor Neill, who constitute the mediation board under the Erdmann act, and H. B. Perham, of St. Louis, Mo., president of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers; with a view to an amicable settlement of the differences between several western railroads and their telegraph operators. The differences between them grew out of an interpretation of the act of congress that telegraph operators on railroads shall not be required to work more than 9 hours out of 24 hours except in case of great emergency.

Pillaged Village and Got $100,000

HONG KONG, Aug. 13.—One thousand soldiers stationed at Konghau, near Wuchow, mutinied yesterday because a comrade had been arrested for gambling.

The mutineers murdered their commander, his clerk and secretary and then attacked a camp of soldiers at Lapung.

The local soldiers fled and the mutineers pillaged the village, securing one hundred thousand dollars in money. They then rejoined the rebels in the Yoking mountains.

Troops have been dispatched to arrest the mutineers.

EDSON ORPHANAGE.

The managers of the Theodore Edson Orphanage desire to thank the following persons for donations kindly sent to the institution during the months of June and July.

SHOT HIMSELF

MAN WORRIED OVER FINANCIAL TROUBLES.

EAST DOUGLAS, Aug. 13.—Chauncey Cleveland Potter, a native of this town, but well known in Boston, where he was engaged in the stock brokerage business for nearly 20 years, committed suicide by shooting himself in the right temple with a revolver yesterday afternoon at the home of his youth. Financial troubles resulting from the anti-bucket shop legislation in Massachusetts a year ago were probably the cause.

CAPT. BALDWIN

Made First Official Speed Trial

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Captain Thomas S. Baldwin made the first official speed trial of his military dirigible balloon before the army board at Fort Myer yesterday. When within a mile of the finish line, a secondary wire connecting the coil of the engine with the commutator, broke and the motor stopped. The airship was brought down in a corn field, and after Mr. Curtiss repaired the motor, the flight was continued. The accident prevented any possibility of making the speed required by the contract, but Captain Baldwin has two more trials in which to demonstrate its speed.

As the time approached for making the flight, Captain Baldwin expressed the opinion that the wind was blowing too strong.

"If it wasn't for the crowd that is here and the facts said I would make the official trial today," he said, "I would not go up."

Mr. Curtiss was in favor of making a flight, though—the wind was too strong for a fair speed test."

The course was the same as that traversed in Tuesday's flight, two and one quarter miles to the westward off Fort Myer in the direction of Falls Church, Va. The first mile and quarter was apparently covered in less time than yesterday. It was at this point that the wire connecting the coil of the motor with one of the four cylinders broke.

Running the engine with the three remaining cylinders, Mr. Curtiss endeavored to repair the break. He received several shocks from the batteries and had to bite off a piece of cord with his teeth. He was compelled to let go of the lever with which the planes are controlled and as a result the big airship pitched and tossed at a height of 300 feet. Despite the danger he was in, Mr. Curtiss continued to work on his motor, while Captain Baldwin, in his position at the rear of the frame was unable to be of any assistance.

Just as Captain Baldwin brought the ship around at the turning point, and started back to Fort Myer, Mr. Curtiss got his engine in working order again. The distance of two and one quarter miles was made in nine minutes and 50 seconds.

When within a mile and an eighth of the finishing point, the wire connecting the coil with the commutator broke, and as this disconnects the four cylinder of the motor, the engine stopped and a descent was made in a corn field.

At 7.11, nineteen minutes after landing, the dirigible again went along and completed its trip, making the last mile in four minutes. It was greeted with a rousing cheer from the crowd at Fort Myer.

Mr. Curtiss said that the two accidents were due to the wires being improperly connected.

Captain Baldwin and Mr. Curtiss were pleased with the showing made, in spite of the accidents and are still confident that they will make a success next time.

The board of signal officers in charge of the tests will meet today and decide whether yesterday's flight shall be counted as one of the three which Capt. Baldwin is allowed. Maj. Moseley of the Royal Engineers, British army, arrived here yesterday, being detailed by his government to attend the Fort Myer tests.

PYTHIANS LEAVE

Boston After Their Big Convention

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—With the close of today's session the 25th convention of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, was expected to be brought to a conclusion. The Pythians had already taken their official farewell, but about 300 delegates remained in the city yesterday to finish the business of the convention. The most important matter to be decided upon today was the designation of the meeting place of the next convention, two years hence. Many cities were in the field, but it was said that Richmond, Va. was considered the most favorable.

THE KATRINA

WON THE RACE FOR THE HAUOLI CUP.

PROVINCETOWN, Aug. 13.—In the 52 mile race of the New York Yacht club fleet from Vineyard Haven to Provincetown yesterday, James B. Ford's Katrina won the Hauoli cup for schooners from the Queen, the nearest rival, by 33 minutes, 25 seconds. The Katrina's time allowance was 1 hour, 45 minutes, 7 seconds, and her elapsed time 11 hours, 30 minutes, 17 seconds. The Queen won from the Elmina by two minutes, 4 seconds.

The Avenger won the cup for sloops beating the Istalena by 17 minutes, 35 seconds. She had an allowance of 2 hours, 52 minutes, and 12 seconds and her elapsed time was 11 hours, 28 minutes, 18 seconds. The sloop Vigilant was beaten by Weetamoe by 27 minutes, 17 seconds.

In the race for class L sloops, Rosaile was the winner while the Vencedor won in the motor auxiliary class.

The start of the fleet was made at 6.30 this morning with a light breeze from the southwest. The yachts had a good run over Nantucket shoals from Pollock Rip light to Highland Light, spinnakers were hoisted. From there it was a close reach to Race Point and windward work after that to the finish off Wood End.

CUNNING CROOKS

Are Causing All Kinds of Trouble in Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—In the first three days of this week thieves and pickpockets in Boston have secured more for their efforts than the entire Boston police department has been paid for the same three days to protect the public from the ravages of criminals that are making Boston their headquarters.

As taken from the report of the police commissioner, issued a few months ago, the salary list for the entire department for the past year was $1,578,073.57, or $4338.72 a day. On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the aggregate amount of stolen property has reached the amount of $14,622, while the pay of the Boston police department for the same time has only amounted to $12,016.16.

Though the figures are not authentic, being gleaned here and there from police reports, it is safe to say the amount is nowhere near the real amount that has been secured by the numerous gangs of crooks that have flocked here. There are undoubtedly many who have failed to report their loss, while there are probably also many cases the department has failed to make public.

Though a large amount of the property is not unlikely to be found and returned to its owners it nevertheless shows clearly that thieves can and do operate apparently at their own will in the city, especially in the outlying districts.

LESS PROPERTY RECOVERED

The Bureau of Criminal Investigation, upon which is rested the responsibility of finding and returning the stolen property, located and returned nearly eight-elevenths of the $135,614.69 reported stolen last year, but so far this year their record has fallen off some through the fact that a sharper gang of crooks have come to the city and are disposing of their loot through other than the regular channels.

The police confess themselves that the public will never know the real amount of the losses reported, as they claim that it would be detrimental to their work to have it known that certain cases were being investigated, thus putting the criminals on their guard.

CONVENTIONS ATTRACT CROOKS.

Boston up to a month ago was comparatively free from crime, but the thought of the gathering of thousands of Knights of Pythians in the city proved to be a great attraction to the criminals all over the country, and then commenced a pouring in of bad men of every description, coming so fast that the police were powerless to stop them gaining a foothold in the city. Unknown to the police they paraded the streets of Boston in the guise of visitors and law-abiding citizens while they deftly relieved many other visitors and sightseers of valuables and overflowing pocketbooks.

Not content with only this, they followed the visiting delegates to the field of their encampment, where they played havoc with them, and while many reported their losses to the police, there were many others who refused to make it public owing to the fact that they were strangers and that they would soon have to leave town. In order to prosecute the offender, if he were caught, they would have been obliged to remain over for a time or else return from their distant home.

Not only did pickpockets flourish at their trade, but house breakers and sneak thieves found a harvest in the Dorchester district. Flim flammers, pool sharks and all manner of petty criminals had a snap, and while there were a few arrests and fewer convictions, the police did the best that they could.

That even a well organized gang, who in a business like manner retained a Boston lawyer to protect their interests, had invaded the city, was made known by the confession of the lawyer himself in the corridors of the court house.

"It is the law that is at fault," said Chief Watts to a reporter when discussing the situation. "A notorious pickpocket is seen in a crowd acting in a suspicious manner and we arrest him as a suspicious person. He immediately furnishes bail, which is unfortunately set at a low figure, and promptly goes back and mingles with the selfsame crowd and we cannot touch him. We can't arrest him again on the same charge and we are not able to catch him in the act, yet we feel sure he is working his game. If we press a specific charge against him he retains a sharp lawyer, who by hook and crook, gets him free and then he promptly sues us for false arrest."

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Lowell to know how to be cured of painful, annoying and itching piles. Know then that Doans Ointment is a positive remedy for all itchiness of the skin, for piles, eczema, etc. One application relieves and soothes. Read this testimony of its merit:

John Leach, janitor of Appleton National bank, and living at 43 Albion St., Lowell, Mass., says: "I just as emphatically endorse Doan's Ointment today as I did seven years ago when I used it for itching hemorrhoids. A few applications gave wonderful relief and in a short time I was completely and permanently cured. There has been no return of the annoying affliction during the years in which have since elapsed. This shows that when Doan's Ointment cures the cure is lasting. I procured it t Ellingwood & Co.'s drug store."

THE METHODISTS

To Take a Hand in Politics

BALTIMORE, Aug. 13.—The Methodist Episcopal church has begun an active crusade for the election of a speaker "who will allow congress to vote on the interstate liquor shipment bill."

The church, which has more than 3,000,000 communicants, has created the Temperance Society of the Methodist Episcopal church, with authority to represent the denomination in all temperance matters. This society is managed by a board composed of a bishop and 15 members.

The "shipment bill," which has been pending in congress for at least five years, does not seek to impose prohibition upon any locality, but provides that liquor shipped from one state to another shall immediately upon crossing the boundary become subject to the laws of the state into which it is consigned.

"The speaker of the National House of Representatives," says the address of the society, "absolutely controls its procedure. He is opposed to this legislation. He has used the power of his office to hold it in the judiciary committee appointed by him on the alleged ground that it is unconstitutional.

"Our church, by action of the recent general conference, insists that congressional doubt as to the constitutionality of such legislation be resolved in the interests of the people and the public morals.

"At least one member of the house judiciary committee has been defeated for the nomination on his record on this question, and we believe the time has come when our people who want to help secure this legislation must support for congress candidates who will not only vote for this measure, if they get a chance, but will themselves support for speaker a man who will allow it to be voted upon, and that its passage is improbable until Christian voters recognize this situation and cast their ballots accordingly."

GEMS STOLEN

BURGLARS SCARED WHEN DOOR BELL RANG.

WATERTOWN, Aug. 13.—On returning to her home at 71 Mt. Auburn street, about 9 o'clock yesterday morning, Mrs. Bertha E. Carter, a physician, saw a light in one of the upper windows and upon trying her key in the front door found it wouldn't work.

She rang the bell and got no answer, but heard a scurrying of feet down the stairs. The escape was made through a rear window.

Dr. Carter finally succeeded in getting into the house and found the rooms ransacked and articles strewn all about the place. She called the police. In the upper room, from which the light was seen, a handbag belonging to the family was found open upon the bed, and it is thought the burglars intended to use it to carry off their booty.

The articles stolen consisted of eight gold rings, a lady's gold watch, a gold cross, which was a family heirloom, $12 in money and a loaded revolver. Most of the property belonged to Dr. Carter's son, John Carter, who is a traveling salesman, and is now away on a trip, and included diamonds, opals and other valuable stones, valued at $400.

SUIT OF CLOTHES

WITH LAUDANUM IN POCKET FOUND IN RIVER BANK

SAUGUS, Aug. 13—The discovery last night on the bank of the Pines river, close to the turnpike, of a suit of clothes, after a report received Tuesday night about a naked man wandering along the waters' edge there, has led the police to believe the man has committed suicide.

At low tide today the river bottom will be dragged. A visitor discovered the clothing last night and notified the police.

In one pocket of the suit was found an ounce bottle of laudanum. The shoes were badly worn. Black stockings and white negligee shirt and a black striped collar and black tie comprised the remainder of the apparel found.

No one has been reported missing either here or in Lynn.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Paul Scott and Miss Verna Hodge, two well known and popular residents of the Navy Yard district of Dracut, were united in marriage yesterday afternoon at two o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 46 Sladen street, the marriage ceremony being performd by Rev. F. A. Carlson of the Hillside church.

The ceremony took place in the drawing room which was very prettily decorated for the occasion with greenery and flowers. The bride was attired in Persian lawn trimmed with Valenciennes lace and the matron of honor wore blue batiste.

Miss Esther Corson, a niece of the bridegroom acted as matron of honor and Mr. Loren Shaw was best man.

A reception followed the marriage ceremony and the happy couple was roundly congratulated by a host of their immediate relatives and friends. Refreshments were served and an impromptu entertainment was given.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott left immediately following the reception period, and will spend the next few weeks with relatives in Augusta, Me. Upon their return they will reside at 46 Sladen street, Dracut, where they will be at home to their friends after Sept. 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott were the recipients of many beautiful and useful presents.

HAMMERSLEY—O'CONNOR.

Mr. Patrick T. Hammersley and Miss Mary Frances O'Connor were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Andrew's church, North Billerica, by Rev. Fr. Hammersley, O. M. I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. John J. McInerney was best man, and Agnes O'Connor, the bride's sister, was bridemaid. After the ceremony there was a reception to relatives and friends at the groom's home, 35 Ash street. The bride was becomingly gowned in white silk and carried jack roses. The bridemaid wore champagne colored silk and carried sweet carnations. Guests were present from Boston, Newport and Portland, Me. Mr. and Mrs. Hammersley were the recipients of many beautiful wedding gifts. They will spend their honeymoon in Maine and will be at home to their friends at 35 Ash street after Sept. 1.

McCANN—FREEMAN.

Mr. Eugene McCann and Miss Mary T. Freeman were married yesterday at a nuptial mass celebrated in the chapel of the Immaculate Conception parochial residence at 9 o'clock by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O. M. I. Mr. Patrick Freeman was best man, and Miss Rose McCann was bridemaid. The wedding was a private one. After an extended wedding tour, the couple will reside in this city.

CONVENTION ENDED

Officers Chosen by the Catholic Federation

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies brought the business to a close yesterday afternoon and adjourned to meet in the city of Pittsburg in 1909.

The other places that wanted the convention were Columbus, O., Cliff Haven, N. Y., and New Orleans, La.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

President, Edward Feeney, Brooklyn; first vice president, J. B. Oelkers, Newark, N. J.; second vice president, Thos. P. Flynn, Chicago; third vice president, G. W. Stenger, St. Paul; fourth vice president, Henry Wessling, Boston; fifth vice president, J. J. Hynes, Buffalo; sixth vice president, Gilbert Harmon, Toledo, O.; secretary, Anthony Matre, St. Louis; treasurer, Mrs. Elizabeth Rodgers, Chicago; marshal, J. N. Schaefer, Hayes, Kan.; color bearer, J. Horn Cloud, Pine Ridge, South Dakota.

The national executive board was chosen as follows:

Archbishop Messmer of Milwaukee, Wis.; Bishop McFaul of Trenton, Nicholas Gonner, Dubuque, Ia.; Walter George Smith of Philadelphia, Thomas H. Cannon of Chicago, F. W. Immeku's of Pittsburg, Peter Wallrath, Evansville, Ind.; Dr. F. Gaudin, New Orleans, La.; Matthew Cummings, Boston; T. B. Minahan, Seattle, Wash.; Daniel Duffy, Pottsville, Pa., chairman of law committee, A. V. D. Watterson, Pittsburg, Pa.

The officers were formally installed by Bishop McFaul of Trenton.

RESOLUTION ON SOCIALISM.

Before adjournment an additional resolution on socialism was adopted, as follows:

"We reject the main tenet of socialism, that collective ownership of the means of production and distribution is necessary for the welfare of the human race, and we especially urge all Catholic workingmen against affiliating themselves with the socialist movement, which, in its literature, its chief leaders and its fundamental theory of economics, is dominantly materialistic and atheistic.

"On the other hand, we express our sympathy with the wage earners in their efforts to ameliorate their condition by united action in demanding fair wage, habitable dwellings and just diminution of grinding and oppressive toil. We furthermore recommend the formation of Catholic workingmen's societies, wherein our Catholic workingmen may be well grounded in the Christian principles of social justice as set forth by Pope Leo XIII in his encyclical on the condition of labor."

This resolution on international peace was adopted:

"We are in accord with and heartily indorse the aims of the international peace movement."

Under the direction of Timothy J. Driscoll of the reception committee, the visiting delegates enjoyed yesterday afternoon a series of automobile rides through the city's suburbs and the park system.

The two South Dakota Indian delegates and their guide, Mr. Wells, accompanied by Fr. Stevens of St. Louis, visited yesterday afternoon the quarters of engine 21 in Charlestown, where they were received hospitably by Capt. Hayes. The captain personally conducted the party over the building and ordered exhibitions of "hitching up," the rapidity of which impressed the visitors.

Many of the delegates visited last evening the mission house and church of the Redemptorist Fathers in Roxbury. The Rev. Fr. Hayes and the assistant priests took the visitors on a tour of the extensive group of school and church buildings of the order. On all sides were heard expressions of admiration at the scope of activities carried on by the Redemptionists in Roxbury. The Mission church band of 100 pieces gave a concert on the stage of St. Alphonsus hall, every number of which was loudly applauded. The gymnasiums, the school rooms, the reception parlors were in turn all visited. In one of the hymnasium halls the ladies of the church served ice cream and cake.

As the climax to the visit, Fr. Hayes had the beautiful Mission church lighted. In one of the gymnasium halls the the country were profundly impressed by the scene. The interior of the church, famous for its beauty and appointments, presented a grand spectacle when the hundreds of electric bulbs in the sanctuary, on the pillar capitals and in the roof flashed in illumination, while the soft strains of the great organ with chime accompaniment filled the air with sacred melody as the men and women from distant parts of the continent knelt in silent prayer before the altar.

The Charlestown Catholic Literary union entertained last evening many of the federation delegates at their club house on Monument square. President James P. Maloney and his associate officers were the hosts of the evening.

MISS HELEN PINGREE.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Miss Helen Pingree, the new leading lady, is making a tremendous hit at Lakeview theatre this week and the houses have been so large that the management has decided to open the balcony. The new sheath gown that Miss Pingree is wearing at every performance is well worth the price of admission alone, while the play itself is daily receiving the highest of praise.

A realistic western comedy melodrama, "A Texas Ranger," will be offered for the first part of the coming week. The play is a story of life on the Texas plains in the stirring days of '70. Its scenes are laid in and around Fort McKearney, an army post near the Mexican line, but while it has one or two military characters, it is not an army play, but simply a good, wholesome story of ranch and army life, truly real, with a pretty love story interwoven in it, and some strong types of character. The scenic settings the company will use for this play are particularly good, the special scenes being the ranch house on the Santa Fe trail, the Indian camp, the interior of the stockade at the fort, and the interior of the ranch house. During the action of the play some excellent specialties will be introduced. Commencing Thursday of the week, a special production of a strong military play will be made.

CHURCH DIGNATARIES START FOR ORVIETO.

ROME, Aug. 13.—Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore, Bishop Foley of Detroit, and Bishop O'Connell of Washington left Rome today for Orvieto, where they will be the guests of Bishop Frattocchi, who is a great friend of Mensignor Cerrutti, auditor of the delegation in Washington. The American prelates are accompanied by Monsignor Cerrutti.

Father A. P. Doyle, rector of the Apostolic Mission house at Washington, has left here for London where he will attend the Eucharistic congress and discuss with the Most Rev. Frances Bourne, archbishop of Westminster, the establishment in England of a mission house similar to the one in Washington, the purpose of which is the conversion of Protestants to Catholicism.

BORROWED $1500

Explanation Given by Bank Clerk

BOSTON, Aug. 13—Stephen S. Gauss of 13 Liberty street, Salem, is held by the Boston police pending inquiry as to how he happened to have $1500 out of which he said he was buncoed by pool sharps on Tuesday.

He made his complaint at the City Hall avenue police station yesterday, and when Sergt. McConnell asked him where he got so much money he said he was a clerk at the Salem savings bank and just "borrowed" it.

The Salem police have been notified.

BANK OFFICIALS SILENT.

SALEM, Aug. 13—Stephen S. Gauss, under detention by the police department of Boston, is the son of Hon. John D. H. Gauss of this city. He is about 22 years old and was graduated from the high school. He worked as a printer for some time, and about one year ago entered the Salem savings bank as clerk and messenger.

Previous to Monday he was cruising for several days with his father in a yacht off the Maine coast. He is said to have arrived home Monday morning. Last summer he had charge of the Y. M. C. A. boats in commission in Salem bay.

Young Gauss was frequently assigned service as messenger and carried valuables from the local savings bank to Boston banks. He has always here an enviable reputation. He was of quiet temperament and well liked by all who knew him. He boarded with his father at 13 Liberty street.

The detention of young Gauss by the Boston police was so quietly made that it was not known here until late last night. He had the full confidence of all the bank officials, none of whom would speak about the case last night.

WEAVERS' UNION

TO HAVE NEW HEADQUARTERS IN NEW BEDFORD.

NEW BEDFORD, Aug. 13.—At the regular monthly meeting last night, the Weavers' union appointed a committee of five to investigate sites for a new union headquarters. A fairly large representation of members was present, and the proposition in hand was thoroughly discussed before the committee was appointed.

Although, under the rules of the organization, the names of those on the committee will not be made public, Secretary Matthew Hart will act as the medium between the committee and real estate owners or agents, receiving the offers or communication and placing them in the hands of the committee for consideration.

The other business, of a routine nature, occupied but a short time, and the meeting adjourned at 9.30.

Anty Drudge's Idea of Clubs.

Organizer of Woman's Club—"Anty, we want you to join our club for the study of sociology, economics and the general uplifting of womankind."

Anty Drudge—"All right, my dear. We'll begin by telling all women about the new way of washing clothes with Fels-Naptha in cold or lukewarm water. It does away with boiling and hard-rubbing, saves work, time, worry and money, and does more to help women than all the sociology and economics in creation."

When women first began to wash clothes, they soaked them in a stream and beat them with a paddle. A hard job it was then to get rid of dirt.

Then someone found that fat and lye made a substance which, mixed with hot water and rubbed hard, cleaned things pretty well. This was soap.

Finally, came Fels-Naptha.

Fels-Naptha isn't simply good soap; it's different altogether from soap as you know it.

Fels-Naptha marks as big an advance over soap in its usual meaning, as ordinary soap itself did over the paddle.

Ordinary soap calls for much hard-rubbing and plenty of boiling water to take away dirt. Some kinds of stains, greases and blood it simply won't remove.

But Fels-Naptha cleans without hard-rubbing and you don't use hot water at all.

With Fels-Naptha all you need is cool or lukewarm water.

Think how this cuts all the terror out of washday.

MR. BRYAN'S SPEECH.

Those who expected an ultra-radical and denunciatory address from Mr. Bryan, in reply to his notification by the committee must feel greatly disappointed for his speech delivered at Lincoln yesterday is a masterpiece of calm and logical reasoning upon the leading questions involved in the campaign.

Unlike Mr. Taft, Bryan did not require the greater part of a newspaper to voice his views upon all the phases of the campaign.

No longer can the republicans ridicule Bryan as a "man of mere words," or as being long-winded in his addresses. He has given Roosevelt and Taft alike a perfect example of conciseness in political discussion. He has shown them how to "boil it down" and to present only the essence for the delectation of his audience.

Mr. Bryan sees practically but one great question in this campaign. It is: "Shall the people rule, or shall the government be handed over to the predatory interests?" He quotes President Roosevelt to show that these interests have already hurled defiance at the government and practically mocked the administration when it attempted to check their impositions upon the people.

He also quotes Mr. Taft's endorsement of the president's indictment and his admission that certain very grave evils crept in during the last ten years when some great corporations broke away from the established rules of business and showed utter disregard alike for the law and the authority of the government.

After presenting the dark republican picture drawn by the president and his man Taft, Mr. Bryan shows that republicans were in power all this time and not only failed to stop these evils but actually encouraged them. The republican party, he said, is responsible for all the abuses existing in the country today, and as proved by the experience of the last ten years it is powerless to correct them.

The speaker took up some of the leading questions and proved quite conclusively that the republican party is unable to carry the necessary reforms through congress, owing to its subordination to the trusts.

Upon the tariff the republicans are with the trusts and against the people; upon anti-trust legislation the same is true; while on the matter of extending the powers of the interstate commerce commission; upon the election of United States senators by the people and upon publicity of campaign contributions the republican party has proved recreant to the people and therefore deserves to be removed from control of the government.

The republican party cannot attack wrong doing in high places without bringing its most prominent members into disgrace Hence in the opinion of Mr. Bryan not until that party passes through a period of "fasting in the wilderness" will it learn to study public questions from the standpoint of the masses.

On the matter of campaign publicity Bryan exposes the ridiculous position of the republican party when he says:

> "If a trust magnate contributes $100,000 to elect political friends to office, with a view to preventing hostile legislation, why should that fact be concealed until his friends are securely seated in their official positions."

The United States senate as at present chosen Mr. Bryan designates as a fixed obstacle to popular reform, and although two-thirds of the states have expressed themselves in favor of election by the people, yet the republican party at its recent convention rejected the plank by an overwhelming majority. The United States senate impudently and arrogantly rejects the resolution when presented to it, and thus by a republican majority, the will of the people is blocked.

The autocratic sway recently exercised by the speaker of the house in congress was shown to be another effective block to the enactment of popular reforms: another proof that as stated at the outset the main question in this campaign is: Shall the people rule? But in the conclusion Mr. Bryan tersely asserts that—

> "whether we consider the tariff question, the trust question, the railroad question, the banking question, the labor question, the question of imperialism, the development of our waterways, or any other of the numerous problems which press for solution, we shall find that the real question involved in each is, whether the government shall remain a mere business asset of favor seeking corporations or be an instrument in the hands of the people for the advancement of the common weal."

He contrasts the attitude of the democratic party representing the masses as ready if placed in power to stand for justice in government and equity in the division of the fruits of industry.

The democratic party says Bryan is not for revolution but for reformation, and the sooner the present abuses are applied the less severe will be the ordeal. The opponents of the democratic party may fling their contemptuous sneers at Mr. Bryan, may assail him as "evasive" and a shallow reasoner, but we do not believe there is one of them who can refute his assertions relative to the control of the government by the trusts under the republican administration or the statement that the republican party as at present constituted is unable to control congress to the extent of regenerating itself.

The speech is one the republicans will find it difficult to answer, and it is only the first of a series of able discussions that we may expect from Mr. Bryan during the campaign.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Fall River Globe: Next year will see another notable centennial celebration, that of the Sisters of Charity organized in this country by Mother Elizabeth A. Seton at Emmettsburg in 1503. In the 100 years since the growth has been remarkable until now the number of the order's establishments in the United States is over 350, with a membership of over 5000. In their hospitals and asylums the Sisters of Charity care for 10,000 orphans, 2000 insane and thousands of sick and destitute are nursed and looked after.

THE LANGUAGE OF THE SOUL.

Concord Patriot: The independence league candidate for the presidency is a maker of music, one of the exquisite products of his reveries being entitled "Language of the Soul."

"Let who will be king, give me influence over the land that rocks the cradle."

Bryan and Roosevelt and other candidates may write books and make speeches but Hisgen can write the music for the nation.

Why strive after greater things? What can be greater?

Hisgen is their conquer. His distinction is sufficient.

Leaving the realms of the purely spiritual and ascending to the cold and barren things of earth and matter such as must necessarily occupy the time of a president, would of necessity be a fall not a rise for Hisgen.

BUY ON HIGHEST MARKET.

Brooklyn Eagle: Patriotism decrees that the American merchant shall equip American troops. No matter how high the price, no matter how inferior the grade of article to be supplied, it is decreed right that preference shall be given to the domestic purveyor in the distribution of army contracts. The single-minded patriots who sold shoddy overcoats for the use of Union soldiers in the Civil war and the equally commendable Cuban invasion with embalmed beef were encouraged to exercise their thrift by the time honored principle that to the home contractors belong the spoils. In all seriousness, however, there is no reason why the government should have recourse to foreign manufacturers to save money on the purchase of its supplies. By maintaining an exorbitant tariff, it compels private consumers to pay extravagant prices for commodities which are better made abroad. It must, therefore, accept the logic of a situation created by itself, and continue to buy its supplies in the highest market. Still, the irony of its position is painfully apparent.

ABSURD FINANCIERING.

Medford Mercury: If it requires a conference of the largest bankers in the country to furnish funds to meet the guarantee of the $8,000,000 of Wheeling & Lake Erie notes, which all Wall street viewed with apprehension, how absurd to suppose that a coal dealer in Meriden, Conn., a city of 30,000 people, could have the $16,000,000 in his inside pocket with which to engage in financial transactions of double the note transactions of the Wheeling & Lake Erie railroad! It is like the ostrich trying to hide his head in the sand to suppose that the public generally will accept the child's play of Mr. Billard, the Meriden coal dealer, buying the 110,000 shares of Boston & Maine railroad stock from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad.

PEOPLE OF NOTE

Six of the seven men in this year's crop of the presidential candidates have smooth-shaven countenances. The seventh—that's Mr. Taft's—has only a moustache. The era of bearded politics, which began with Abraham Lincoln in 1861 and continued, with only one interruption, until the end of Benjamin Harrison's administration in 1893, is past. What is true of presidents and would-be vice presidents is equally true of congressmen. Of 153 photographs of members of congress published in a contemporary last December only ten had beards. In public life whiskers have gone out, rather than come out.

King Edward is a constant playgoer and naturally one whose attendance is much desired by theatrical managers. A royal visit is always good for business. When the king or any member of his family wishes to visit a theatre the management is notified by the theatrical agent who does all this kind of work for the royal family and the box is paid for at the usual price. If it should happen that the box is already taken the holder is notified and asked if he will kindly give way, being provided with other accommodation or the same for another night. The king likes to be shown into his box and leave it with as little fuss as possible. He is an excellent spectator, follows the play closely and keeps his attention on the stage. He is a good critic. The plays he has visited since last summer are: "The Earl of Pawtucket," London; "Die Lustige Wittwe" ("Merry Widow"), Ischl; "Weiner Blut," Marienbad; "The Devil's Disciple," Savoy; "Irene Wycherley," Kingsway; "Lady Frederick," Court; "A White Man," Lyric; "Malia," Shaftesbury; "Diana of Dobson's," Kingsway; "Dear Old Charlie," Vaudeville; "The Beloved Vagabond," His Majesty's "Lady Barbarity," Comedy; "La Femme Nue," Renaissance, Paris; "La Robe Rouge," Shaftesbury; "Jack Straw," Vaudeville; "La Loi de l'Homme," Shaftesbury; "La Caprice," Shaftesbury; "The Flag Lieutenant," Playhouse; "Mrs. Dot," Comedy.

Impossible as it may seem, Mary Anderson entered on her 80th year on Tuesday, July 28, and the statement is borne out by documentary evidence of her birth in Sacramento in 1859. Twelve of those years—from her 16th to her 28th—were spent on the stage, and every one rushed to see the young actress. But the glamour of the footlights soon palled. Miss Anderson settled down to a calm life at old fashioned Broadway, a quaint spot in the heart of England, where there is an American colony to keep green the memory of Mme. de Navaarro's native land.

Captain Ejnar Mikkelsen, the Danish explorer, has returned to Copenhagen, after his two years' sojourn in the regions north of Alaska. The chief object of the expedition was to decide whether there was land to the north of Alaska or a deep sea. The captain and a Norwegian started in three sledges with 18 dogs on a trip over the ice toward the north. About 50 miles from shore they found water, which they sounded with a newly invented machine to the depth of 800 metres without reaching bottom. Sixty miles further on no change was recorded, until at last, turning toward the southeast, they found bottom. They followed this edge to the continental shelf toward the east, but had soon to return owing to the strong current. Captain Mikkelsen was thus able to prove that deep water runs north of Alaska to a great distance.

Among the many Americans visiting England at the present moment, says a London journal, is Clyde Fitch, that most whimsical of American dramatists. He has made quite a big fortune by his plays, with which, among other things, he has bought three large houses, a Venetian palazzo, and—a dog. This latter is a Pomeranian, from Florence. Her name was "Fiametta." When she get to New York she had quite lost her coat, and she looked so plain that her owner had to change her name to "Lizzie." Later on, however, her coat returned, whereupon she once again became "Fiametta."

The mayor of Thoirette, in the department of the Jura, France, advertised that a ball would be held in the parish church on the eve of the National fete, July 14. On the 13th, at nightfall, accompanied by a number of his friends, the mayor unlocked the doors of the church, and having himself rung the bells to summon the population, he started the ball. Under the separation law the parish church became the property of the commune, and the mayor asserts that he is empowered to use the building for any purpose that may be deemed useful.

Rev. James E. Norcross, pastor of the Jamaica Plain Baptist church, has resigned to become New England secretary of the Baptist Home Missionary society, with headquarters in Boston. He succeeds the late Rev. F. T. Hazelwood, D. D. The new duties of Mr. Norcross will begin early in September. He has been in Jamaica Plain for four years, having gone there from Amesbury. He is a native of Watertown, and was graduated from the Newton Theological institution in 1879.

Rev. Henry D. Washburn, ten years rector of St. Mark's Episcopal church, Worcester, has resigned to accept the chair of ecclesiastical history at the Episcopal Theological school of Cambridge. He is a native of Worcester, and a graduate of Harvard and Oxford.

BIG RAINFALL

Chicago Has Heaviest Since 1885

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—Twenty-three days without rain and then the heaviest rain in twenty-three years. This is the royal way in which the weather man responded to the prayer of the farmers in this region. The parched corn and the sun baked fields were deluged in sheets of water. In the 24 hours ending at 8 o'clock last night, the precipitation was 4.35 inches. That is the greatest rainfall experienced in Chicago since Aug. 2 and 3, 1885, when there was a fall of 6.19 inches.

PHYSICIAN DEAD

Two Women Prayed for His Resurrection

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—L. Emerson Wheat, a physician, aged 45 years, was found dead in his home at 19th and Diamond streets in one of the most pretentious residential sections of the city yesterday under startling circumstances. Besides the body which lay on a couch, two women were found praying for his resurrection and muttering strange incantations, though physicians say the condition of the corpse indicated that the man had been dead at least 48 hours.

The two women were Mrs. Fannie Soult, a professed spiritualist, and Miss Florence Beckman. They were arrested.

Dr. Wheat had been living alone in his home during the absence of his family in the country. He was last seen alive on Saturday, and failing to make certain visits, the police were asked to investigate. They forced the door of the house and found the physician lying half clothed on a couch in his office. Lying prostrate on the floor, they say, they found Mrs. Soult and Miss Beckman.

To the police Mrs. Soult said she had known Dr. Wheat for about seven years and that since last April she had been treating him by giving him what is known as the magnetic treatment.

On Sunday last, she said, the physician came to her home and asked her to come to his home as he felt as though something was going to happen. When she went to his office, Dr. Wheat was seriously ill. He could not say what she wanted. She worked over him until morning, when she got a message from her spiritual controller, Dr. Miller. At the time the police came in she was waiting for him to instruct her as to what she should next do in the case. Miss Beckman, she said, was simply a friend who had gone to the house with her.

Dr. Miller, whom she refers to as her spiritual controller, died about two years ago.

New Haven Road is After One

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The possibility that the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad will become a bidder for a subway franchise in this city, was indicated yesterday by President C. S. Mellen of the road at a hearing before the public service commission here. Mr. Mellen appeared in connection with the New York and Portchester railroad franchise matter, witnesses being examined in answer to a complaint that the Portchester company has failed to proceed with the construction of the line as its franchise provides.

After President Mellen had explained that the delay was caused by the necessity of awaiting the decision of the New York court of appeals on the validity of the franchise of the New York, Portchester and Boston railroad, a practically parallel line, the witnesses explained that the New Haven company, to handle properly its suburban traffic, must secure an entrance into the heart of New York without change of cars.

Mr. Mellen said that he did not believe that there could ever be a thoroughly satisfactory development of the New Haven commuting business unless trains could come right straight through to their destination, whether that was the battery or city hall or elsewhere.

Much interest was aroused by Mr. Mellen's intimation that the New Haven, under certain conditions, might prove a bidder for the construction of a subway route, further references to which were made in his latter testimony. Mr. Mellen testified that he thought that within two years after the legal difficulties are disposed of, the Porchester-Westchester road could be completed.

"It is inevitable," he said, "that the New Haven road will have to take care of its present commuter business and a large increase in which it has the right to expect from the electrification and it must have some other means of bringing that business down into the heart of the city.

"I hope to make arrangements with other companies to have the trains run through without transfer, and I might say that if I cannot make arrangements with other companies, I may be obliged to come directly to the commission and ask for such an arm."

Mr. Mellen later on suggested that he would announce that it would be well for a New York corporation which would take over the whole New Haven line within New York state.

BOSH HIS NAME

MAN UNDER ARREST EXCITED THE MAGISTRATE.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Magistrate Harris had a little difficulty in the night court recently over the name of one Oscar Bosh, a 6 foot 4 inch grocer, of 224 East Thirty-first street, who was a witness in an assault case. The magistrate asked him his name and what he saw of the fight.

"Bosh. I saw these two——" the big witness began, but the magistrate interrupted him.

"What do you mean by bosh, sir? Kindly answer my question, sir, and give me your name!" said the magistrate.

"Oh, Bosh, Bosh. I saw these two—" continued the witness. Again he was interrupted.

"John," asked Magistrate Harris of the bridge officer, "Is this man intoxicated or crazy?"

"No, judge, I know this man. He lives in my neighborhood and his name is Oscar Bosh. He didn't mean 'Oh, bosh'," explained the policeman.

"O-o-o-oh! Now I understand," said Magistrate Harris, and the witness testified.

Will Hold State Convention Oct. 1

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—At a meeting of the executive committee of the democratic state committee, held in Boston yesterday, it was voted to hold the democratic state convention in Boston on October 1st, subject to the approval of the full state committee. The full committees meet here next Tuesday at which time it is expected the chairman of the executive committee will be named.

VICTORIOUS TEAM

Will Head Procession in New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—This city will take on a gala appearance on the day the American Olympiad victors return. This was decided yesterday at a special meeting of the board of aldermen, who passed a resolution asking the mayor to issue a proclamation ordering that the national colors be displayed on all public buildings. All citizens will also be requested to decorate their houses and places of business in honor of the athletes. Every athletic association in the city will be invited to parade in honor of the occasion. The aldermen also requested the mayor to forward a communication to Governor Hughes asking that the National guard be permitted to take part in the parade which will be led by the victorious team. The aldermen authorized the mayor to extend to each member of the athletic team the freedom of the city during the day of hte public reception.

Made An Ascent at Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Aug. 13.—Charles J. Glidden of Boston and Charles T. Shean of this city made an ascent yesterday afternoon, at 6.30 o'clock in the balloon "Boston" from Court Square extension, in the presence of fully ten thousand persons. After being in the air for forty minutes, they landed on the farm of Sidney White, four miles northeast of Amherst, a distant of 25 miles. The time is considered very fast by Mr. Glidden, who says that while passing over Mt. Holyoke, a speed of sixty miles an hour was reached. Weather conditions were excellent and Mr. Glidden was loud in his praises of Springfield as a place from which to make ascensions.

HIGHER RATES

TRIBUTE TO THE STEEL TRUST RENDERS ADVANCE NECESSARY.

The proposed increase in freight rates is causing very sharp discussion, but one phase of the subject seems to have been overlooked. It is said that without an advance in rates net earnings are and will be insufficient to maintain dividends. This deficiency in net earnings could not have existed if the railroads had not paid to the iron and steel monopoly unreasonable price of rails since the October panic.

Although it is admitted on all sides that iron and steel can be made in the United States at less cost than anywhere else in the world, the duty on steel rails in $7.84 per ton. That the price is kept up to the limit permitted by the foreign cost plus the tariff is shown by the fact that many foreign rails are imported and sold. In the fiscal year 1906-7 4610 tons were brought in, chiefly at New York and Baltimore. For the same year the United States statistical bureau gives the domestic production of rails as 3,977,887 tons and the domestic consumption as 3,691,175. If the tariff graft exacted by the steel trust from the railroads that used these rails was only $7.84 per ton, the amount of duty, then the loss of railway net earnings on this account alone was nearly $29,000,000, but $7.84 is undoubtedly much less than the steel trust velvet over and above a reasonable competitive price.

There has been no reduction in the price of rails since the October panic, although prices have been cut in most other lines. The railroads also use many other iron and steel products besides rails. If the railway managers paid only fair prices for iron and steel, they would now have no need either to raise freight rates or to reduce wages. Why do they not attack the tariff graft of the steel combination instead of imposing additional burdens upon shippers and consumers?

THE AMERICANS

Welcomed by the Maori Tribesmen

AUCKLAND, N. Z., Aug. 13.—Wonderful sights were seen today by Rear Admiral Sperry and the contingent of officers of the American fleet, who spent today at Rotorua and adjacent points in the Thermal district—New Zealand's wonderland it has been aptly named—as the guests of Prime Minister Ward and a delegation of members of parliament.

Besides attending the ceremonies incident to the opening of the new government bath and receiving a hearty, though unique, welcome at the hands of a great assemblage of Maori tribesmen, an opportunity was afforded the Americans to visit many of the strange freaks of nature in the neighborhood—great and small geysers, the roaring steam pit at Tikitere and the multi-colored lakes of hot,cold and temperate waters. The village of the Maori's also was an attraction to many of the officesr, who keenly enjoyed the sights they saw there.

After the ceremonies of inaugurating the new bathhouse had been completed the Maoris in large numbers, dressed in their weird costumes, greeted the American admiral and his officers. At first the chief of the tribesmen, according to an ancient rite, challenged the visitors, desiring to know whether they came in peace or in war. Having received assurance that the mission was a peaceful one, the air resounded with yells of the tribesmen, and there was a stamping of frenzied feet in the war dances and the Hakka dances.

Admiral Sperry in a graceful speech, thanked the Maori chief for the welcome of the tribesmen and for the entertainment they had afforded himself and his officers. The chief made a felicitous reply, in the course of which he brought smiles to the faces of nearly everyone who heard him, by remarking:

"We sent our warriors to meet you as you are all warriors—seafaring men. Had you been ordinary people, we would have sent the women first."

The Maoris presented Admiral Sperry and the American officers with many priceless tribal heirlooms.

The American officers will return to Auckland tomorrow in order to attend a reception in their honor in the evening by W. A. Prickett, the American consul general.

CHUMS PARTED

Jealousy the Cause of the "Break"

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Margaret Gilmore and Luella Blake, both young and decidedly good looking and the best of friends up to three weeks ago, when each claims the other became jealous of her, appeared in the municipal court yesterday. Miss Blake accused her companion of the larceny of wearing apparel, and a young man friend of Miss Blake demanded of the court why the goods had not been given up.

An innocent red Chinese laundry tag broke up the peace of the court yesterday when Judge Waterworth asked Lawyer Brown what date was on it.

The apparel of the two misses, it seems, went to the laundry in the same bag. Either one of the two girls might hold the ticket, and whenever the goods came back they would use the articles without troubling to see who owned them. In this way they were accustomed to wear each other's clothing, and jewelry also. Then came the "jealousy" and they separated.

A week ago the two met, and Miss Blake told the story in court of identifying her waist on Miss Gilbert. She demanded the waist and any other goods of hers that Miss Gilbert might have. Miss Gilbert refused that she would return it "when she got good and ready."

"I haven't got the laundry yet, Your Honor," she pleaded yesterday, "and so I was just wearing her waist. I was going to get the laundry soon, and of course all the things that didn't belong to me I was going to return."

After talking the matter over, Judge Wentworth decided to put Miss Margaret on probation for six months, and she was seen to leave the court in a hurry with something that looked like a red laundry tag in her hand which Lawyer Brown had given her, together with some advice.

LAWN PARTY

AT THE HOME OF MR. GILLAM ON CHELMSFORD ROAD.

At attractive as well as successful lawn party was held last night on the grounds surrounding Mr. H. Gillam's residence in the Chelmsford road. The affair was under the auspices of the Willing Hand society and the chorus choir of the First Presbyterian church and was in charge of Organist Smith and Mrs. J. M. Craig.

The grounds were decorated with Japanese lanterns, and a hurdy gurdy furnished music for the occasion. A trio composed of Messrs. Muir, Gouston and McLaren rendered vocal selections during the evening and Mr. Gillam entertained with the phonograph.

A contest for a rubber plant caused considerable excitement. It was won by Miss Jessie McDonald of Canada street.

There were a number of tables which were well patronized.

The candy table was in charge of Mrs. Robert Cochrane and Mrs. Frank George. The cake table was waited upon by Miss Jessie Frazer, Mrs. John MacAdam and Mrs. William Zimmer. Ice cream was dispensed by Mrs. J. M. Craig, Mrs. F. W. Gudewell and Miss Jennie Walker.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

The Patriarchs Militant, department of Massachusetts, will meet with the sovereign grand lodge and military council at the council in Denver, Col., under the command of Major Gen. A. E. Bliss, department commander, Patriarchs Militant, I. O. O. F. The party will leave Boston, Sept. 15, and will arrive home Sept. 30, having visited Kansas City, Chicago, Kingston, Ont., Niagara and the Thousand Islands. From Lowell there will be Commander H. V. Kittredge and Clerk Thomas E. Boucher.

The local lodge of Elks had a well attended meeting on Tuesday evening. Prior to the meeting there was a business meeting of the committee on their late outing, which was presided over by M. J. Markham, and reports were given by a large number of the sub-committees.

LIVELY CONTESTS

New Officers of Canado-American Ass'n.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 13.—By far the most important session of the Canado-American association convention was the concluding one which began last evening and after a hard fought battle, in which contesting candidates were in evidence for every important office, the elections were finally concluded at 2 o'clock this morning with the selection of the following:

President Dr. A. E. E. Brien, Manchester, N. H.; first vice presidents, Dr J. D. N. Dubean, Providence, R. I.; second vice president, Dr. Z. Vadnais, Marquette Mich.; third vice president, Dr. Charles Amiot, Asbestos, P. Q.; secretary, Calixte Morin, Manchester, N. H.; treasurer, Joseph A. Boivin, Manchester, N. H.; general organizer, Joseph Francoeur, Levis, P. Q.; medical examiner, Dr. Damase Caron, Manchester, N. H.; directors, J. E. Bernier, Manchester, N. H.; William Dupont Berlin, N. H.; Dr. J. N. Lelourneau, Laconia, N. H.; Alfred Ferland, Providence, R. I.; Vertume Dufault, Central Falls, R. I.; J. B. A. Guertin, Nashua, N. H.; Dr. Emile St. Hilaire, Quebec, P. Q.; auditors, L. P. Cote, Somerville, Mass.; Antendere, Manchester, N. H.; E. A. Messier, Quincy Mass.; medical committee, Dr. A. Lavallee, Berlin, N. H.; Dr. J. Gaspard Boucher, Woonsocket, R. I.; Dr. J. A. Lagace, Nashua, N. H.; Dr. N. Ledue, Somerworth, N. H.

Minor officers, who formerly have been appointed, were elected and the newly elected officers were later installed by General Organizer Joseph Francoeu.

Previous to the election, the principal amendments to the constitution were adopted including one making the age at which insurance members may be accepted fifty years instead of 55 years as hitherto; and the vote to authorize the formation of military organizations in connection with each court.

It was also voted that hereafter associate members may not vote or hold offices, and that out of a five per cent. appropriation from the insurance fund for diverse purposes the sum of $1000 be set aside yearly for "Peter's pence." Among the resolutions adopted was one demanding that a proportionate part of the public school funds be devoted to the parochial schools.

One of the principal features of the election of officers was the defeat of T. G. Biron of Manchester, N. H., for the presidency, an office he has held since the incorporation of the order 12 years ago.

The installations which was the concluding feature was not over until after 2 o'clock this morning, after it had been decided to hold the next biennial convention at Montreal P. Q., in 1910.

WRIGHT AIRSHIP

Met With An Accident During Descent

LEMANS, France, Aug. 13.—The Wright aeroplane suffered an accident which will require several days and possibly a week to make good.

After two superb flights, Wilbur Wright tried a new and daring method of descent. He stopped the motor at a height of 75 feet and tried to come to earth on a gradual descending glide. The calculations were not adequately correct and the left wing of the aeroplane came in contact with the ground. Thus bore the frame of the machine. Mr. Wright was not injured.

SCORE WAS TIED

Second Game Was Called in the 10th Inning

Musil Pitched Seven Innings and Was Relieved by Greenwell—Sharp Fielding on Both Sides

After an intermission of ten minutes the second game between Lowell and Lynn was started. Musil asked to be allowed to pitch the second game and his request was granted. Yerkes and Daum took the places of Labelle and Foster in the second game.

During the intermission a one-legged bicycle rider gave a clever exhibition of trick riding.

FIRST INNING.

In the first inning Wallace hit down the first base line and was out. Barton drew a base on balls and Gardner struck out. Barton tried to steal second and was nailed.

Vandergrift hit a line drive to Barton and was out at first. Connors drew a base on balls but in attempting to steal second was thrown out. Magee flied to Ort.

Score—Lowell 0, Lynn 0.

SECOND INNING.

Bigbie singled and went to second on Clemens' sacrifice. O'Hagan flied to Musil and the latter threw to second for a double play.

Lowell scored two runs in the second inning. Howard opened the latter half with a base on balls. Beard hit to Yerkes, who threw Howard out at second. Whelan got a Texas leaguer and Beard went to second. Wolfe flied to Clemens. Doran hit to left field for a two bagger scoring Beard and Whelan. Musil struck out.

Score—Lowell 2, Lynn 0.

THIRD INNING.

Lynn scored a run in the third inning. Ort got a single. Daum bunted to Connors who threw to second getting Ort, but Wolfe threw bad to first and Daum went to second. Yerkes hit to Musil and was out at first, Daum going to third. Wallace hit by Musil and Daum scored. Walace stole second. Barton was third out on a fly to Magee.

In the latter half of the inning Vandergrift drew a base on balls, and Connors did likewise. Magee hit along the third base line, filling the bases. Howard flied to Wallace and Vandergrift scored. Beard singled to left field and Connors scored. Beard and Magee worked a double steal, Magee scoring. Ort threw bad to the plate and Beard went to third. Whelan drew a base on balls. Wolfe hit to Yerkes and was out at first. Doran flied out to Clemens.

FOURTH INNING.

Gardner opened with a two-bagger. Bigbie bunted to Musil and then a funny thing happened. Gardner started for third with the bunt and Musil had ample opportunity to get either but the Lynn crowd yelled "Second base" and Musil pegged the ball at the vacant base and of course none was on.

Bigbie stole second. Clemens drew a base on balls. O'Hagen flied to Whelan. Ort got a single and Gardner scored. Daum flied to Whelan who made a great catch. Bigbie scored and while Whelan threw too late to get him Doran shot the ball to third and got Clemens.

Lowell failed to score.

Lowell 5, Lynn 3.

FIFTH INNING.

Lynn didn't get any in the fifth while Lowell added one. Magee got to first on an error by Barton. Howard's single sent him to third and he scored on Beard's fly to Bigbie.

Lowell 6, Lynn 3.

Neither side scored in the sixth.

SEVENTH INNING.

Lowell did nothing in the seventh while Lynn got to Musil and made four runs. Daum singled and stole second while Yerkes struck out. A single by Wallace scored Daum, Wallace stole second. Barton got a single and then Gardner banged the ball out for two bases scoring Wallace and Barton. Bigbie bunted and Connors dropped the ball letting in Gardner. Clements hit a line drive to Beard who threw to Wolfe for a double play on Bigbie. Musil then retired from the game.

Lynn 7, Lowell 6.

THE SCORE TIRED.

Neither side scored in the eighth but Lowell tied it in the forth inning. Vandergrift opened with a single. Connors hit hard to Ort, who fumbler and both men were safe. A sacrifice advanced them and Howard's fly to Wallace scored Vandergrift. Neither side scored in the 10th and at the conclusion of the 10th Umpire McDermott called the game on account of darkness with everybody happy.

DIAMOND NOTES

Did you get your money's worth yesterday?

Musil went at the enemy like a true soldier and mowed them down in wild disorder.

The police department should engage Musil to throw bricks at yeggmen. There'd be a dead yegg with every shot.

With the single exception of George Ort, none of the Lynn batters had a square look at Musil's "Army ball."

With good coaching Musil will be a wonder. Just at present he only knows how to pitch, otherwise he's as raw as the stuff that O'Hagan hands to the umpire.

Bro. Penniman, the base ball expert of the Lynn View, was a welcome visitor to the press box.

Dave McCoy the actor of the celebrated trio of McCoy, Fitzgibbons and McCoy, oftentimes applauded at the Hathaway theatre, was the hardest worker in the grand stand. Armed with a small megaphone he rooted continuously for Lynn.

Connors made O'Hagan look like Chinese money at fielding the initial bag.

Lowell has a dandy little mascot, aged four and one half, and by name, "Buster" Michaud, or Mitchell, of Nicholls street. "Buster" disappeared a week or so ago and the team lost steadily. Sharrott put sleuths on his track and upon locating him signed him for the season. Since his return the team has won two and tied one, out of three played.

Yesterday's games were two of the best played of the season.

BASEBALL NOTES

Well done, Red Sox. Ten out of 16 games is a proud record on the enemies' grounds.

In the west the Red Sox won three out of four from Cleveland; broke even with Detroit and Chicago, winning two games in each city, and captured three out of four from St. Louis.

George Dovey has been doing some scouting on his own hook, and it looks as if his judgment is pretty fair if Tow Tuckey can keep up as he began yesterday. Tuckey is by no means a youngster, having played with New Haven when Freddie Parent was looking after the short field in that city.

"Peaches" Graham of the Doves certainly improved since his first appearance in this city, and he looks today to be one of the best catchers that has broken into the big league company this year.

Both Dahlen and Beaumont of Boston are sick men. They, however, have to remain in the game, as there is a lack of utility men to fill their places.

The coming together of McGann and Ritchey on an infield fly Tuesday might have resulted seriously, just because some one failed to call out which player should take the ball.

The Cubs got one away from the Giants, and there was weeping in the McGraw camp, as the Giants anticipated reaching the top rung of the ladder in the race for the pennant.

The Red Sox now lead the second division, and with a long stay at home it would not be surprising if they broke into the first division.

The Giants, prospective champions of the National league, made but four hits in two days against Chicago. What do you know about that?

The Washington team again took the Tigers into camp, and that runaway which Hughey Jennings has in mind does not look so good.

"Wild Bill" Donovan seems to have lost his winning streak. Two setbacks in a week does not speak well for him.

Will Take in Wrestling Match Tonight

Quite a number of followers of the wrestling game from Nashua, Brockton and Worcester, arrived in town today to witness the finish wrestling match between Young Prokos and Jack Butler, which takes place tonight in Associate hall.

Butler and his trainers arrived in Lowell yesterday and he is in excellent shape. Jim Prokos who is training his namesake, states that the latter is at weight. The men will weigh in at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium at 6 o'clock and each must make 148 pounds or forfeit.

The men are to wrestle to a finish, pin-falls to count with the straight-hold barred for a purse of $200 and the entire share of the gate receipts.

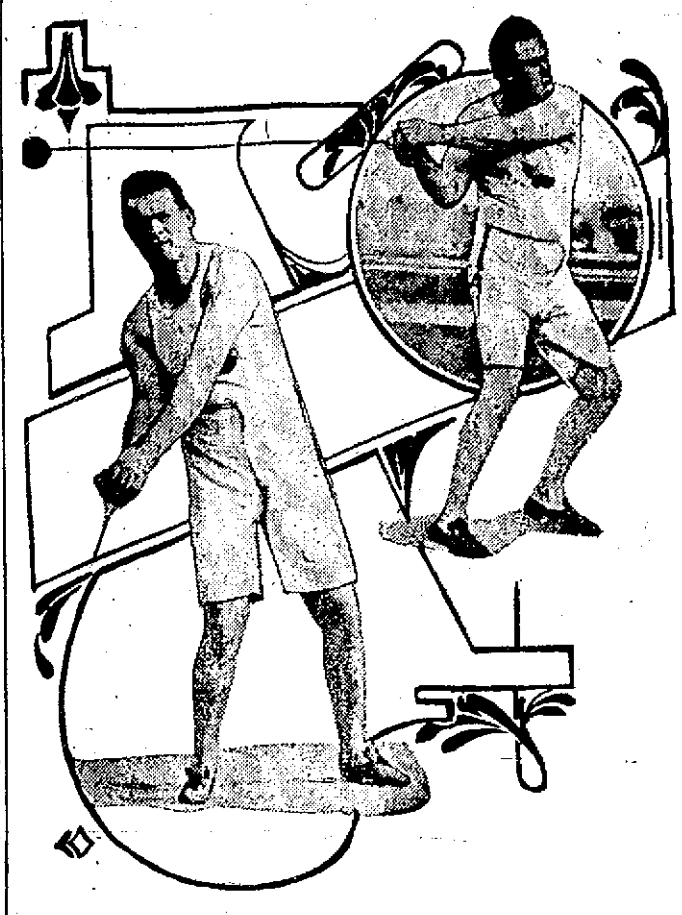

Under the articles of agreement the men are to choose between George V. Twohey and Billy Pierce for referee and in the event of a disagreement the sporting editor of The Sun is to decide. Either man is thoroughly honest and competent and to decide upon one is not disparaging the other. As Mr. Twohey has refereed her on many occasions and is a prime favorite he will referee the match in all probability.

Jim Prokos and Ed. Anderson of Cambridge will wrestle the preliminary bout.

AGREED TO FIGHT

ATTELL AND MORAN TO MEET ON LABOR DAY.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 13.—Abe Attell and Owen Moran last night agreed to fight twenty-three rounds before Coffroth's club in the Mission street arena on Labor day, September 7. Moran allowed Attell to name Jack Welch as referee.

HAMMER THROWING RECORD

Great interest is aroused by the record in hammer throwing made by M. J. McGrath at the Gaelic games in Ireland held on August 10.

He threw the ball 176 feet. In the Olympic games John Flanagan threw the hammer 170 feet 4 inches. McGrath's performance creates a new world's record and it will probably stand.

AUTOMOBILE NEWS

The spread of automobiling and the necessity for mechanical knowledge on the part of owners of cars and would-be chauffeurs has been responsible for a great many automobile schools being started all over the country during the last few years, in which sphere of activity the various branches of the Young Men's Christian association has taken a leading part. Motoring was responsible for a New York city Y. M. C. A. branch leading all of the other branches of the country in its educational department. According to data just compiled by the international committee the West Side Branch had in its vacation and other educational courses during the last year 2,077 different students. The nearest competitor was Boston, with 1,765. Twenty-third Street Branch, with 1,763, and Chicago, with 1,664. At the West Side the largest attendance was in the automobile school, where 641 chauffeurs, owners and prospective owners took courses. The real estate school with 253 came next and the building courses had an entolment of eighty-nine. This is the second year that the West Side has had the largest Y. M. C. A. educational department in the country, having risen in the last eight years from a very small department to first place.

British motorists who have been hoping for several years that the government of their country would establish a central highway department on much the same plan followed in France are much encouraged over the fact that Chancellor of the Exchequer Asquith is seriously considering this plan, which was advocated by the members of the Royal Commission on Motoring. The matter of road maintenance has become a serious problem in King Edward's realm and road users assert that a central department would be able to keep the many highways of Great Britain in better condition and at less expense than if the system of divided responsibility is continued. It has been suggested that an additional tax be levied upon motor cars to defray part of the expense of keeping the roads in proper condition, but Mr. Asquith has declared he feels considerable doubt as to whether this would effect a lasting remedy.

One of the tiny Brush runabouts that were started out from Detroit on the first day of this month arrived at Peekshill yesterday and is expected to reach Newark, N. J., some time today. After running around Newark for a couple of days the little 500 pound machine will be driven through this city on the way to its ultimate destination at Boston. The three other runabouts are headed as follows: One for Philadelphia and Washington, one for Kansas City and Denver and the other for Minneapolis and St. Paul. A delivery wagon was started out the same day as the runabouts and will journey to Milwaukee and return.

The Massachusetts highway commission has just made its return to the state treasurer regarding the number of motor cars registered for the first six months of the present year. The total number amounts to 15,767 and from the registrations there has been turned over to the state $100,782. For some time past cars have been registered at the rate of about fifty a day. Many cars from other states have been among those registered and never before in such a short space of time has the commission collected such a large sum of money. Since January 1 last, 3o6 dealers' licenses have been issued and 1,650 motor cycles registered. Compared with the figures of the same period a year ago when only 4,950 cars, 535 motor cycles and fifty-eight dealers were registered the figures this year show a great gain in the industry. Up to the end of July of last year 3,293 private operators got licenses and 3,977 professional chauffeurs were listed. For a corresponding period this year the figures have been respectively 4,057 and 4,450. When it is considered that the professional operators must pass an examination and that many are turned down it gives a still greater insight into the popularity of motoring. The percentage of those refused licenses is stated by the commission to be about 30 per cent.

Automobilists who look after their own cars will find that a good washing out will make a considerable difference in the way their engines will run. This should be done about once every two months in the case of a car that is run a fair distance daily. The dirty oil should be drained off, and the crank chamber plugs replaced, then plenty of kerosene should be poured in the engine, which should be started up and run for one minute. The kerosene should be then drained off and fresh oil put in the base chamber.

The members of the Louisville Automobile club at a recent meeting decided to invite W. H. Hotchkiss, president of the American Automobile association, to be the club's guest at the time of the proposed race meet this fall. The organization is planning to hold a banquet at about the same time as the race meet and they hope to have President Hotchkiss deliver a short address on the work accomplished by the American Automobile association. At this meeting the following committees were appointed: Tire protection, R. O. Bruer, George H. Laib, Benjamin B. Watts; racing, J. M. Chatterson, Ira S. Barnet, Dr. F. S. Clark, Walter I. Kohn, Hulbert Levy; highways, Hurbert Levy, Dr. Leavell, Prince Wells. The first member named is the chairman of his respective committee.

The show committee of the Association of Licensed Automobile Manufacturers held a meeting yesterday at which final plans for the decorative scheme for the Madison Square Garden show, January 1 to 23, 1909, were approved, and the contract for the decorative work was awarded to S. R. Ball. Plans for the decorations and the elevated platforms and temporary structural work were drawn by W. W. Knowles, an architect, and 5,000 feet of additional floor space has been gained by the new arrangement. The "licensed" show next winter will be the fifth automobile exhibition in the garden for which Mr. Ball has done the decorating, and the color scheme and general theme of the decorations will be simple yet entirely different from those of previous years. Col. George Pope, chairman of the show committee, presided at the meeting. The others in attendance were Charles Clifton, Marcus I. Brock, E. P. Chalfont, W. W. Knowles and M. L. Downs.

GOLF NEWS

Horace Hutchinson in the London Telegraph, referring to the proposed new golf rules, says:

"In all the golf clubs throughout the country, and also outside it, men are to be seen with paper books in red binding in their hands uttering snorts of contempt in various keys and cadences at the follies contained therein. They are golfers studying, with an extremely open mind, the draft of the proposed new rules of golf. We all know the description, in parliamentary language, of 'an open mind.' No matter. Being one of those who were makers of this thing in red binding which is received with all the snorts, it is not my proper part to join the chorus, nor, on the other hand, to point out how very perfect rules are and the positive stupidity of the snorters. Certainly the new arrangement is far better than the old; it is very lucid. Those who said, 'We want a brief, comprehensive code,' will not be satisfied. It is the latter, but it not the former; nor will those who want the combination find full satisfaction till they have shown how a quart can be put into a pint pot. But to gain lucidity, light is the first essential. So far, so good."

In nominating Horace Hutchinson for the captaincy the Royal and Ancient Club has created a new precedent. From the foundation of the club in 1754 the captaincy has been held by none except men of Scottish nationality. For the most part the office has been a close preserve for Scottish landed proprietors. Even the distinguished politicians and public men who have occasionally held the office have been Scotch. The only exceptions were the King, as Prince of Wales in 1863, and the late Prince Leopold, in 1876.

If the challenged reported to have been issued by Arnaud Massy and Louis Tellier to any pair of golfers in the world is taken up it will constitute the first international challenge foursome nature.

DUNSTABLE'S DAY

At Dedication of Sarah R. S. Roby Memorial Building and Old Home Day Yesterday

Staid old Dunstable was in gala attire yesterday while along the old familiar roads walked natives of the old town long since removed to other places but drawn back once more to take part in the exercises of Old Home day and the dedication of the Sarah R. S. Roby memorial building, the new town house and public library.

A more beautiful day could not be desired and the old town was resplendent in its gala attire. Lawns and roadways were spic and span while flags and bunting were seen on all sides. The crowd was greater than was anticipated and at the dinner a second table was necessary.

The dedicatory exercises were held in the public hall of the new building at 11 o'clock. The interior of the hall was tastefully decorated by the Bon Marche Co., of this city, and the platform was hedged with shrubbery. The new concert grand piano, presented by the Lend-a-Hand club, occupied a conspicous place on the platform.

James E. Kendall, secretary of the board of selectmen, called to order and made a hearty address of welcome. Mrs. Henry D. Tolles followed him with a pleasing soprano solo, Nevin's "Spring Song." Mrs. J. H. Tolles was the accompanist for this and other musical numbers.

Professor Frederick N. Williams of Chicago, a relative of the donor of the building, was then introduced to give an address. He paid a tribute to the memory of Sarah R. S. Roby and related the story of her life.

Mrs. Waldo Richards of Boston then read "Hiawatha's Wooing," after which Dexter Butterfield of the building committee in suitable remarks formally presented the keys to Chairman Elfield D. Swallow of the board of selectmen, who responded briefly, while Rev. A. M. Rice, a library trustee, also responded on behalf of that branch.

Resolutions of appreciation were then read by Town Clerk Nelson Hall and adopted by a rising vote. Henry D. Tolles gave a trombone solo after which Rev. A. M. Rice offered the dedicatory prayer. Peccia's "Gloria" was sung by George R. Sargent and then the adress of the day was delivered by Rev. C. Guy Robbins of Lawrence, formerly of Dunstable. Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Bernard Copping and the formal exercises closed with the reading of letters of regret from those unable to attend including one from Andrew J. Wright of Chicago, aged 91 years.

Owing to the large crowd present at the dinner the after dinner speaking was held in the hall and James V. Tolles of Nashua, N. H., officiated as toastmaster.

The toasts and speeches were as follows:

"Dunstable Hospitality," Rev. H. D. Weston of Georgetown, Mass.

"Old Home Day," Prof. J. B. Taylor of Boston.

"The Function of the Library in Education," Frederick L. Kendall, of Chelmsford.

IMPROVE FARMS

President's Board to Make a Report

The panic has directed the attention of statesmen to the necessity of paying more attention to the farms of the country and to the farming industry.

In a message to the next congress President Roosevelt will embody the report of the committee of experts which he has appointed to investigate the social and economic conditions existing in American farm life. The commission named by the president is composed of Professor L. H. Bailey, New York State College of Agriculture, Ithaca, N. Y.; Henry Wallace, editor, Des Moines, Ia.; President Kenyon L. Butterfield, Massachusetts Agricultural college, Amherst, Mass.; Gifford Pinchot, United States forest service; Walter H. Page, editor, New York.

The findings of this body and its recommendations to improve the social and economic conditions will undoubtedly be of great weight and will receive the serious consideration of the nation.

BLAMES MOTHER

Remarkable Letter in Defense of Divorce Proceedings

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—In her defense of the divorce proceedings brought by her husband Mrs. Rose E. Voigt charges her mother with being responsible for all her misfortune and marital infelicity. She entered a motion in the Supreme court yesterday to get her two-year-old daughter out of the possession of the grandmother, who now has the custody of the child.

James G. Voigt, the husband, is a solicitor for the Continental Life Insurance company and lives at No. 340 East Eighty-fourth street. In his complaint he names Augustus Neagle as co-respondent. Voigt is also fighting for the custody of the girl baby.

The couple were married only a few years ago. They were not happy long, and separated. Last May they entered into an agreement that their daughter Edna should be given into the care of Mrs. Marie Hawlowitz, Mrs. Voigt's mother. It was to have this agreement set aside and to obtain alimony and counsel fees that Mrs. Voigt's motion was made before Justice Bischoff yesterday.

Mrs. Voigt's accusations against her mother are contained in the following letter, which forms part of her answer to her husband's complaint. It was written at the time the baby was sent to her:

"Dear Mama: Knowing all the trouble which you have caused for me, I send you as requested my darling Edna. It is the last thing I have in the world and you may have it. I know she will be well taken care of, although she should only be taken by him; but as I know I shall live the life of a dog, molested and bothered by both you and Jim, I give my babe as compensation.

"You have now the last thing in this world, so please leave me to myself. You have not succeeded in parting Mae and I, as was well schemed by Jim and yourself. You can't have me back, so please don't try. The only way you will ever see me is when I can't see you any more. You were given to me to stand by me, no matter if I committed the worst crime on earth. You have not done that, and have neglected a duty given you by the creator. But no matter what divides us I am the mother of dear Edna, and whatever she shall be I will know all about her.

"Jim may see this note, my last words to you all. Let me alone and don't bother me. You won't see me again. Jim may get a divorce. If he does or not, I shall never see him again of my own free will. Gus is not with me nor has he done one thing in the line of helping me out in any way. I am alone with Mae and expect to stay so. She is not putting me up to anything. This is of my own free will. Don't ever blame her again nor say anything but what you know is absolutely the truth, for it may cause you more trouble than you think.

"Although you gave me the advice to live an unwomanly life with Gus, he and I are pure, perhaps more than you have been, so Jim and everybody else had better be real careful what is said about us.

"Once again I say, don't trouble yourself about me. I am lost to you all, including Jim, forever. ROSE."

"P. S.—Please remember Edna is mine by the will of God, and no man can part us."

For Leading Him Into "Brace Game"

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Charging that he had been swindled out of $600 in a crooked game of faro, to which he had been innocently led by his pretty young sister-in-law, M. B. Moxley, a wealthy Pittsburger, last night caused the arrest of Moses Phillips, whom, despite his seventy-four years and grayish beard, he accused of running a "brace game."

Phillips was one well known in sporting circles as the chef of the old Turtle club of Hoboken. He planned and carried out the first moves of the alleged swindle, it is charged, in a hotel at Seabright, N. J.

The girl in the case is Miss Fredrica Bosch, daughter of T. B. Bosch a millionaire paper manufacturer of Pittsburg. She became interested in the picturesque old man, she said, at Seabright, and he entertained her by stories of fortunes he had won and lost at faro and roulette.

"I know a system whereby if you put up $3,000 you can win half a million in a few weeks," he told her, according to her story.

Miss Bosch said she wouldn't gamble herself, but she would tell her brother-in-law, Moxley, about the system. Correspondence followed between the two men and as a result, Moxley came to this city yesterday, as he relates.

"I was taken into a splendidly furnished parlor at No. 175 West Seventy-third street," he told the police. "There was a 'lookout' at the door and several men in evening clothes inside, supposed to be players. I went at the faro game with Phillips' 'system' and quickly lost $300.

"'Oh, don't worry, you'll win, he told me," continued the victim "so I played on and lost another $300. Then it occurred to me that I was being trimmed."

The police went to the Seventy-third street house, but found no one there. They came across several suit cases containing faro and roulette layouts, and from some papers in these learned that Phillips was living at 10 West Seventy-eighth street. They arrested him at the latter place.

It developed that Phillips had rented the Seventy-third street house from a Mrs. Turner, whom he told he wanted it as a sort of clubhouse for a "select party of gentlemen who want to play bridge whist."

Moxley told the police he had been instructed to bring $3,600 in cash with him from Pittsburg, but was somewhat suspicious and brought only the $600 which he lost. He is staying at Bretton Hall, Eighty-fifth street and Broadway, and testified against Phillips this morning in the West Side court.

Moxley last night refused to say whether or not his pretty sister-in-law was in this city or knew of his loss.

REV. FR. DOLAN

HAS BEEN TRANSFERRED FROM THE CATHEDRAL.

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Rev. Fr. Francis X. Dolan, one of the best-known priests of the archdiocese of Boston, and who for nearly 15 years has been attached to the cathedral of the Holy Cross, has been selected by Archbishop O'Connell to succeed the late Rev. Fr. Edward Cronley as pastor of St. John the Evangelist church, Hopkinton.

Fr. Dolan will take charge next Sunday. He has for the past several months been closely identified with the arrangements for the national convention of the American Federation of Catholic societies that closed in this city yesterday. Fr. Dolan has been the spiritual director of the Suffolk branch of the society, and much of the preliminary work was under his care.

BAD CURRENCY

Is Being Circulated in the South

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—That bad currency of remarkably clever execution is being circulated in Texas, Louisiana, Alabama and Mississippi is the general warning sent out by Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

"National bank notes of the denomination of $5," said Chief Wilkie, "have been raised to $20 and are being circulated freely.

"The top layer of the figure 20 has been skilfully sliced from each corner of a note by the delicate use of a 'pipe stem' or hollow ground razor and the severed portion has been pasted over the figure 5 on the bill of the lesser denomination, an operation that had to be repeated eight times for each raising of a bill.

"By bending over a rounded surface the portion of the $20 bill containing the figure 20, the counterfeiters succeeded in lifting off with the sharp edge of the razor merely the top half of the paper, leaving the original figure 20 sufficiently unimpaired to allow the sliced bill to pass unchallenged. Thus, out of a $20 bill and $5 bill the counterfeiters created two $20 bills and cleared $15 on each job."

A messenger's pouch containing United States government pay checks for nearly $2000 was stolen early last week in front of the building occupied by the department of commerce and labor according to Chief Wilkie of the secret service.

The pouch was found with the pay checks gone, while the other mail it contained was intact, between this city and Alexandria, Va. The robber is not known. The first intimation that Chief Wilkie received of the theft was on last Saturday, when one of the checks for $73.33, payable to R. F. Troxler of the public health and marine hospital service, came through the Riggs National bank of this city to the treasury department, after having been cashed by the Lowry National bank of Atlanta, Ga.

Yesterday a check payable to J. W. Kerr for $265.83 of the same service was received through the American National bank here, which had been cashed by the Fourth National bank of Montgomery, Ala. Notice has been sent to agents of the secret service to be on the look out for the presentation of the missing pay checks to banks throughout the country.

THE SHAH

IS TO HAVE A SECOND CORONATION.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—A despatch received here from Teheran says that preparations are being made for a second coronation of the Shah. During the first coronation two years ago the tiara, during the ceremony, fell from his majesty's brow, and to this incident, the Shah superstitously ascribes the mishaps of his reign.

PLAYERS FINED

For Taking Part in Sunday Game

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 13.—On new warrants charging them with violating the laws of the state of Rhode Island by playing base ball on Sunday, R. Coffey, a pitcher, and H. Dillon a catcher, both of the Newport base ball team, were today fined $5 and costs in the district court here. C. Finder of the New England league Brockton team is out of the jurisdiction of the Rhode Island courts and there was no complaint made against him today. Both Coffey and Dillon paid their fines.

The trouble arose two Sundays ago, when the Brockton team was playing the local nine. Finder, Coffey and Dillon were arrested, subsequently released and the game went on. Last Friday they were discharged by the court because of the fact that warrants which had been made out against them were defective, the court declared. Today's action came as a sequel to the whole affair.

The Lowellite is now arming himself so as to be fully prepared for the possible onslaught of the dispearate yeggman.

Local Resident's Cry "To Arms"

When the big railway strike was on some years ago it was a common slang expression in the west to say: "Save your money and buy a gun," and Eugene V. Debs, the labor leader was caused a lot of unpleasant notoriety by making the remark in fun to a friend in the hearing of a scribe who immediately advertised the fact about the country that the strike leader was promoting bloodshed and anarchy and it kept Debs busy for some time explaining that the remark was only a joke.

But "Save your money and buy a gun," is no joke in Lowell at present and the pawnbrokers are doing a land office business for the past few days. The proprietors upon receiving a request to be shown a gun or revolver immediately size up the purchaser.

BIG TERMINALS

To Be Erected in East Boston

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The construction of four large deep water terminals at East Boston, to replace those burned on July 6th, will be begun at once by the New York Central railroad through the officials of the Boston & Albany railroad, according to an announcement made today.

The reconstruction will begin with the building of a new pier for the Cunard Steamship company, followed by one for the Leyland line, and then by a new pier on the site of old Pier 6. The building of a new grain elavator with a capacity of one million bushels with conveyors to all three piers and a delivery system of forty thousand an hour to three steamships will complete the terminal and make it capable of loading the largest freight steamers entering Boston harbor.

The Cunard dock pier, the construction of which will begin on Sept. 1st, will be 730 feet in length and 250 feet wide. The Leyland line pier will be the same, and the slips for the steamers will be dredged to a depth of 35 feet with width of 250 feet.

All the pier sheds as well as the elevator will be of fireproof construction with the most improved appliances for teh speedy handling of grain and freight.

The new terminal will be ready, it is expected, within a year.

LOUISE COLLIER

WIFE OF THE ACTOR UNDER ARREST.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Louise Allen Collier, wife of William Collier, the actor, was arrested at the Pennsylvania terminal in Jersey City late yesterday as she was alighting from an Atlantic City train, accompanied by a maid and two diminutive dogs.

The charge against Mrs. Collier is that of attempting to defraud the Grand Atlantic hotel of Atlantic City out of $12.50. After vainly attempting to have her jewels worth $5000 accepted as security for her appearance in court today, Mrs. Collier succeeded in finding a bondsman, who furnished bail in $500.

The actress refused to discuss the circumstances which led to her arrest.

CHILD WAS BORN

After the Suicide of the Mother

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 13.—In a cot in the city hospital is a baby, brought into the world by means of the Caesarian operation, while its mother lay dying from a self-inflicted bullet wound.

Hardly had the little one given its first feeble wail when the mother died. The child—a boy—will live, the surgeons say.

The mother was Mrs. Annie Horvath, 24 years old, wife of Alexander Horvath, an employe of the Independent Packing company. The Horvaths had been married about a year and for several weeks the young woman had been busy preparing an outfit for the child which she expected this week.

Sunday she and her husband had the first quarrel of their married life. Horvath left the house and Mrs. Horvath went to bed and refused to get up. Her meals were given her by neighbors.

Yesterday Anne Benki, a neighbor, went into Mrs. Horvath's room and found her sitting on the side of her bed, her husband's revolver and box of cartridges in her hands. She had loaded the revolver and had spilled some of the cartridges on the floor.

"I'm going to kill myself and the baby," she declared.

The Benki wonam ntried to take the revolver from her, but Mrs. Horvath pressed the muzzle against her side and pulled the trigger. The bullet passed through her body, breaking a window behind her. The track of the bullet was within half an inch of the head of the child.

The police were notified and an ambulance called. It was almost 8 o'clock when Mrs. Horvath was placed in the ambulance and rushed to the hospital. Drs. Kirchner, Bunch and Schott saw at a glance that there was no hope for the mother, but decided to take a desperate chance to save the child. As rapidly as possible preparations were made to perform the Caesarian operation. Mrs. Horvath was placed in the operating table and while one of the surgeons applied stimulants in an effort to prolong her life, the others operated.

One hour and a half later, just as the surgeon who was administering the stimulants said, "It's too late. She's gone." Dr. Kirchner straightened up and said, "The baby's safe."

AN OUTING

The finishing department of the Lowell Bleachery will shut down Saturday, Aug. 22, as its employes will have an outing to Revere beach and Wonderland park.

THE CENTENNIAL

Parade in Archdiocese in October

The Holy Name society of St. Peter's church will hold an important meeting tonight as several matters of interest are scheduled to come up for action. The report of the coupon contest committee will be received at this session.

In the event of a parade being held in Boston in the fall in observance of the centennial of the archdiocese, it has been stated that Archbishop O'Connell will urge especially the attendance of all the Holy Name societies in the archdiocese. Though no definite plans have been determined as yet it is understood that the archbishop has under consideration the holding of the parade on some Sunday in October. Rev. Fr. Burns, spiritual director of St. Peter's Holy Name society, is very much interested in the preliminary plans for the centennial observance and feels that his society will turn out in goodly numbers. It is probable that this matter will be discussed at tonight's meeting. Pres. Coyne will preside.

THE PRESIDENT

Has Talk With Leading Politician

OYSTER BAY, Aug. 13.—President Roosevelt will have as his guests at luncheon today Charles S. Francis of Troy, N. Y., American ambassador to Austria, who is on a leave of absence.

A number of politicians interested in the New York state campaign also will be received by the president and take luncheon with him. They are William Barnes, jr. of Albany, Herbert Parsons, president of the New York Republican county committee, Congressman W. W. Cocks, representing President Roosevelt's district and Francis Hendricks.

Gifford Pinchot, chief of the United States bureau of forestry, and Walter L. Fisher of the national conservation committee, will come to talk over the work of the commission for conserving the country's natural resources.

LIFE OF A CHILD

Was Saved by a Clothesline

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Because of the motherly instinct that prompted 12-year-old Nellie Brennan to play house, put out a clothesline and wash her doll's clothing, her four-year-old brother is alive after a fall of 45 feet from the third story of their home at 16 Magnolia avenue, Cambridge.

Mrs. Brennan, the mother of the children, is a widow. Yesterday she went to Boston and bought some new clothing for the little boy Leonard. During her absence Nellie amused herself and her little brother by playing house and it was then that she got her mother's clothesline and attached it to the hooks in the back yard and then washed and hung out her dolly's clothing.

Mrs. Brennan came home in due time and after attending to some household duties left the little boy in the kitchen while she stepped into a front room for a moment to get the clothing, which she wished to try on.

She returned almost immediately and looked about the kitchen, but the lad had disappeared. A shriek from the back yard caused her to hurry to the window and look out, and she saw her son lying on the ground. He had lost his balance and had fallen out.

In his descent he struck full upon the single strand of clothesline, which broke his fall. His body bounded from it to the ground and he lay there gasping for the breath was almost driven from his body.

The police ambulance was summoned at 4.30 and the boy was rushed to the Cambridge relief hospital. A careful examination was made and it was found that no bones were broken, although the little fellow's body was bruised in several places.

The hospital physicians deemed it best to hold Leonard at the institution for a day or two for observation as to possible internal injuries and he was therefore put to bed. At a late hour last night he was reported to be resting comfortably.

YOUNG HUSBAND

Shot His Wife and Her Friend

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Suspecting that an all-night job given to him by his foreman was not strictly in the interests of the New York Central Railroad, Leonard Bendell, a young machinist, left his work early last evening and, quietly entering his home, at No. 1019 Ogden avenue, the Bronx, found his pretty girl-wife sitting on the foreman's lap.

Bendell in a rage shot the man, who is Walter Rich, three times. The young woman, Loretta Bendell, stepped between the men and received another bullet her husband had intended for his rival.

She was wounded in the left breast. Rich was struck in the right lung, the right wrist and the left leg. Both were taken to the Fordman hospital in a serious condition. It was said that Rich might die. The shot in the wrist severed an artery.

"I told him to keep away from my wife!" Bendell shouted as he stood over the unconscious form of the other man when a policeman entered the house. "He pretended to be my friend and tried to fool me."

The young husband offered no resistance to arrest, and walked quietly with his captor, Patrolman Murphy, to the Highbridge station. There he told the police very calmly about the shooting.

"I'm twenty-one," he said, "Loretta is nineteen, and Rich is twenty-four. He's single and boards at One Hundred and Sixty-ninth street and Sedgwick avenue. He seemed such a nice sort of fellow when I went to work for him a few weeks ago, and he was so good to me on the job, that I brought him to my home and introduced him to my wife. She and I are caretakers of a big house belonging to a wealthy man."

The house where the shooting occurred is a veritable mansion. Its owner is George McCaslin, a contractor, who is at present living in a summer home in Asbury Park. The room in which Bendell surprised Rich and his wife was a luxuriantly fitted library.

"We all had several good times together," Bendell went on, "but within the past few weeks I though Rich was paying Loretta too much attention. They had some secrets between them that I wasn't in on.

"Rich every once in a while would give me a night job to do, and I had reason to believe he wanted to get me out of my home so he could go there. I spoke to him about this, but he laughed it off.

"Tonight I made up my mind to find out for sure. I felt so sure of what I would find that I took my revolver to work with me. Then I knocked off early and crawled through a window of the house.

"There they were in one of the big leather chairs in the library with their arms about each other. It was too much for me to look at, so I shot. I didn't want to hurt the girl, but I wanted to get him."

Neither Rich nor Mrs. Bedell recovered consciousness sufficiently to make any statement.

JURY DISAGREED

In the Case of a "Nightrider"

MURRAY, Ky., Aug 13.—The trial of Jake Ellis, charged with being a night rider, having resulted in a hung jury, all of the other night rider cases have been continued until the next term of court, the prosecution and defense being unable to agree on a case for trial. The grand jury investigation as to the alleged connection of several of the courts with night rider bands is being continued. Because of the threats several soldiers declare they overheard, indicating that an attack on the town of Murray was probable after the present term of court was concluded, a strong patrol will be established in the eastern part of Calloway county.

PUT TO FLIGHT

Minister Gave Band of Whitecaps a Bad Scare

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Aug. 13.—The Rev. Mervin Jacobs, who was deposed from the pulpit of the Baptist church in Pine Plains for joining the Elks, stood guard with Mrs. Frank Husted in the house of the latter at Pine Plains, each with a loaded revolver, while whitecaps pelted the house with eggs and smeared the piazza with tar and feathers.

Whether the latter were intended to form a garment for the minister is not known, but the determined attitude of Mr. Jacobs, and the fact that he and his hostess were armed, took the raiders by surprise and they dispersed without attempting to force their way into Mrs. Husted's house.

The affair is confirmed by Mr. Jacobs, who is living in this city with his wife and five children and working as an agent for an insurance company.

Mrs. Husted is the wife of a wealthy mining promoter, who is now in Mexico. Her home is almost across the street from the church where Jacobs preached up to a few weeks ago. Her aged mother, young daughter and a maid comprise the family.

Mr. Jacobs said he and his wife have long been friends of Mrs. Husted and that his wife had visited Mrs. Husted several times since they removed to Poughkeepsie. When the minister was at Pine Plains, he called nearly every Sunday to read a synopsis of his sermon to Mrs. Husted's mother, who was too feeble to attend church. There was no more ground than this for village gossip.

In one way, the minister got a hint that trouble was brewing, so he himself stood guard at a front window. Shortly before midnight, he saw a man scan the Husted house closely and then disappear in the darkness. Jacobs is sure this man was Russ Duxbury one of the clerks of the Baptist church, who was most active in having him deposed.

In a few minutes a procession of ghastly figures—a dozen or more—approached the Husted house on tiptoe, each wearing a winding sheet which covered his head. Some carried pots and kettles and others bore bundles containing feathers.

Before the dominie could identify any of the band, a large automobile searchlight was flashed against the house by one of the whitecaps, apparently to make it impossible for a person looking from a window to see the men in the darkness outside. Not a word was spoken. The searchlight revealed the figure of the dominie at the window.

Splash! an egg broke against the house close to the window. Mr. Jacobs moved back out of sight. Then began a fusilade of eggs which gave the house, in daylight, a mottled yellow hue.

Having exhausted the egg supply, the procession began to move toward the front door. This was the critical moment and the minister met it calmly.

"I'll shoot the first man that puts his foot inside the door," he said. Mrs. Husted had come down stairs at the beginning of the demonstration and stood by the side of Mr. Jacobs, revolver in hand.

The hand of the foremost man fell from the door knob. The second man, holding a kettle of tar, spread the contents on the piazza. Another man emptied a bag of feathers on the tar and then the White Caps took to their heels.

Mr. Jacobs, who is chaplain of Poughkepsie lodge of Elks, was given a demonstration when he preached his farewel sermon at Pine Plains in June. Locked out of the Baptist church, the town hall was hired and there the dominie preached to 300 Elks and their wives who had gone by special train to hear him. Since removing to this city he joined the Trinity M. E. church and has conducted services in the absence of the pastor.

CHILD KILLED

LITTLE ONE RUN OVER BY A LIGHT WAGON.

LAWRENCE, Aug. 13. — Pelina Ticone, aged three years was run over by a light driving wagon on Wednesday afternoon in front of the family home at 178 Chestnut stret and sustained injuries from which she died shortly afterwards.

The wagon was owned and driven it is claimed, by Horace J. Unwin, the contracting builder. The police state that Mr. Unwin reported the accident to them, that he claimed he saw only one child in the roadway, that he turned to avoid striking that one and in doing so, he struck the Ticone child whom he did not see until she was struck.

The child was picked up by a woman who saw the accident and she carried the victim into the house. Dr. Joseph H. Howard was summoned but the child was so badly hurt that it quickly expired.

An autopsy will be performed on the body and the police will make an thorough investigation.

QUITS RACING

BURGESS FEELS HE WAS NOT USED FAIRLY.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 13.—Hollis Burgess, the well known Boston yachtsman and clubman who married a Providence girl, Aug 3, has decided to quit racing on the waters of Narragansett Bay in his crack sloop May Bee.

This decision is the outcome of friction with the officials of the Washington Park Yacht club, who disqualified Burgess' other sloop, Dorothy Q., without giving him a hearing, during the recent regatta.

Mr. Burgess will take the May Bee back to Boston the first of the week, and for the remainder of this season at least will not return. He is thoroughly disgusted with what he believes to be high-handed officiousness on the part of regatta committee of the Washington Park Yacht club.

The Dorothy Q, recently sold by Burgess, was replaced two weeks ago in Naragansett Bay by the May Bee, a crack Herreshoff sloop. T. R. Goodwin, president of the Narragansett Bay Yacht Racing association was Burgess' partner on the Dorothy Q. and May Bee.

Now, that Burgess will take both boats out of the game here, Goodwin will sail with another Boston yachtsman, Allen C. Jones, on the sloop Nutmeg.

STRAIGHT COURSE

N. Y. Yacht Club to Have Good Run

PROVINCETOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—A straightway course of 38 1-2 miles from Wood End, the finger tip of Cape Cod, across Massachusetts bay to Half Way Rock of Marbleheard, lay before the yachts of the New York Yacht club fleet as they beat out of the harbor shortly before 9 a. m. today against a stiff southwester.

Once round Long Point, however, it was easy work getting to the starting point and with big reaching headsails in stops the boats jogged about the bay wedge for the starting signals. The course from Wood End of Half Way Rock is north, northwest, which with the wind from the southwest indicated a quick run on the port tack with booms well off to starboard. Such conditions were all in favor of the big schooners with their great press of sail, and the dozen 'two stickers' in the fleet made every preparation for lively work.

The fleet was sent away shortly after 9.30 a. m., and an hour later all the boats had disappeared to the northward.

A DESERTER

TRIED TO SHOOT A POLICE OFFICER.

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Johann Tackstrom, a deserter from the battleship Rhode Island, now at the navy yard at Seattle, tried to shoot Patrolman Van Winkle while the bluecoat was pursuing him across Chatham square yesterday.

Van Winkle did not halt when the sailor began shooting, but got within reach with his night stick. Then he gave the sailor man a welt on the head that felled him and dissipated his belligerent intentions.

Tackstrom deserted when the Rhode Island arrived at Seattle. He had a little money, and made his way here. He got into a row with some of the fellows he had been treating well, and they told Van Winkle that Tackstrom was a deserter.

When searched at the police station the police found in the deserter's pocket a letter of commendation from Secretary Metcalf, dated Oct. 1, 1907. In it the secretary of the navy complimented Tackstrom on his heroism in jumping from a steamboat on the way from Coney Island to Bridgeport in an effort to save a man who had attempted suicide by jumping overboard.

Large Sum of Money Left to Reading Woman

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—After having toiled a quarter of a century as bookkeeper in an office laden with the scent of newly-fashioned doors and sashes at 61 North Washington street, Boston, Miss Maria C. Shepard of 10 John street, Reading, will within a few days fall heir to at least $500,000.

Although she is now 45 and has had to support herself all her life, Miss Shepard will not resign her position. Instead she has signified her intentions to her employer, Gerald J. D'Arcy, of continuing her work for him as head bookkeeper.

Miss Shepard had to take legal steps to procure the wealth which will soon be hers. This represents one-seventh of the estate of her uncle, Dr. A. Warner Shepard, late county physician in Brooklyn. Dr. Shepard, who had remained a bachelor until he was 55, surprised his heirs by marrying an attractive young girl, Mary Sniffen Myers, the orphan daughter of a close friend. Miss Myers had been employed by Dr. Shepard as housekeeper.

Dr. Shepard left a fortune estimated at about $3,500,000. He died of morphine poisoning last September, and the circumstances of his death closely following the rather dramatic appearance at his office of a woman who claimed to be his wife, and but one of a variety of sweethearts, proved somewhat of a sensation in Brooklyn.

A coroner's inquest found that the aged physician had died from an overdose of morphine self-administered.

The heirs, whose rights were threatened by the terms of a will which left the bulk of the fortune to the young widow of the testator, at once contested the document. Miss Shepard, the Boston bookkeeper entered her claim as one of the nieces.

It is now announced from New York that by a compromise agreed upon between the heirs out of court the fortune is to be divided, and Miss Shepard expects to get at least $500,000.

The will of Dr. Shepard was executed Aug. 21, 1907. Under its terms, after the death of the widow, the estate was to pass to a brother of the testator, Luther D. Shepard, and to the children of two deceased brothers, Edward O. and Thomas B. Shepard.

Another local heir is Dr. Luther Shepard, a Boston dentist, a nephew. Other heirs are Allen B. Shepard, Edward O. Shepard, Katherine M. Shepard of Newburyport and Edith R. and Ralph L. Shepard, both of Springfield. Ralph Shepard is a lieutenant in the marine corps stationed in Cuba.

Dr. Shepard was an eccentric character. He had a wife and profitable practice, and was identified with the old democratic ring in Brooklyn. Although possessing several millions, he continued in the position of city physician because he enjoyed the duties it involved. He taxed patients according to their means, and gladly treated gratis deserving poor.

Shortly after his death his fine old mansion in the woods was reported to be haunted. There were a variety of stories which told of the spirit of the dead physician roving the rooms of the great house at night, and for a spell the whole country was terrified.

Her Body Was Found by Her Husband

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 13.—With her feet tightly bound together, and a stocking stuffed down her throat, Mrs. Adelaine M. Miller, 49 years old, was found dead last night by her husband a mail clerk, when he returned from work. The face and throat of the woman were discolored from strangulation and she had evidently been dead several hours. The police are searching for a young man who is said by neighbors to have called on Mrs. Miller yesterday.

MAN MURDERED

The "Black Hand" is Blamed for the Crime

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Ambushed in a lonely spot known as "Murders Field," on the Lincoln road, Flatbush L. I., late last night, Petro Barilla, a well-to-do hotel keeper of Wood Haven, was attacked and killed by a number of men. Barilla is thought to have gone to the place to keep an appointment, as a letter was found on his person, seemingly written in blood and supposed to have been written by members of the black hand. Barilla rode to the scene on a bicycle and carried a magazine revolver, which he nearly emptied in a desperate defence. Persons nearby heard shots, and rushing to the place, saw men fleeing across the fields. Barilla was found dead with four stab wounds in his breast and back and two bullet wounds. The slayers were evidently frightened away before they could rob the victim, if that was their motive, as a large roll of bills and a gold watch were left. The police have taken into custody Antopio Delmarlo, a cousin of Barilla. From several letters found in the dead man's pockets it seems certain that Barilla was a victim of a black hand plot. The police assert that the same band that hacked and hewed a man to pieces several months ago and dumped the dismembered body wrapped in oil cloth near the scene of last night's killing, is responsible for Barilla's death.

Attracts Thousands to Springfield

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Aug. 13.—With the exception of witnessing the greatest aquatic event of the year, thousands of enthusiasts of the sport came pouring into the city today to attend the national rowing regatta, which will be held on the Connecticut river tomorrow and Saturday. Prominent oarsmen from all over the country arrived during the day and found the city in regatta garb. The hotels filled up rapidly and some of the visitors who had not secured accommodations beforehand found some difficulty in obtaining them.

Many of the scullers and crews went to their boat houses early to prepare for practice spins on the river and to familiarize themselves with the course. The river early in the day was somewhat rough from a south wind but gave promise of improving later.

Champion Harry Bennett appeared to be the local favorite for the championship race, although many were of the opinion that Frank B. Greer of East Boston would make a good showing. The visiting oarsmen are expressing their admiration of the Springfield course.
